HOPE IS DYING.

No More Survivors Have Been Heard From.

Official Advices at Washington of the Disaster.

It Is Stated That One Hundred and Seventy Are Drowned.

Half a Million of American Treasure is at the Mercy of Pirates.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—The State Department officials are doing all in their power to relieve the American survivors of the steamer Colima.

The first official news of the disaster came to Assistant Secretary Rockhill from United States Consul De Gimeau, Mazatlan.

He reported 170 lives lost, and that the ship had on board "half a million in American interests," supposedly referring to goods belonging to American shippers.

He asked whether he should proceed to the scene of the wreck.

Rockhill instructed him to do so at once, and if he could render any assistance to report to the department.

A message was also sent to United States Consul Bartlett at Acapulco to learn whether he could be of any assistance, and instructing him to cooperate with the Consul at Mazatlan.

The coast near Manzanillo where the Colima is stranded is wild, and thieves are likely to loot the ship unless steps are taken to guard her.

HARD TO GET REPORTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Little hope is now entertained for the safety of the missing passengers of the Colima.

No new details were received this morning by the Pacific Mail Company.

Mrs. C. H. Cushing received a telegram from her son, picked up by the San Juan, dated Mazatlan, saying he is returning on the San Juan.

The officials of the steamship company still say they have not given up hope for the missing passengers, but everyone else has.

WORD FROM CHAS. CUSHING.

He Sends a Dispatch From Manzanillo.

The relatives of the Cushing brothers, who live at 870 Adeline street, are patiently waiting for news of the wreck. Last evening the family received the following dispatch from Charles H. Cushing Jr., who was a passenger on the Colima:

"Am here. Return on San Juan."

The dispatch was sent from Manzanillo.

"This is all we have heard from our brothers," said Miss Cushing this afternoon. "We have not heard one word from George, who was also on the steamer."

COLLIDED IN A FOG.

Two Big Steamers Meet on Lake Michigan.

ALPENA, Mich., May 31.—During a heavy fog last night the Canadian steamer Jack, a flat-boat bound down with lumber, collided with the steel steamer Norman of Menominee, opposite the middle of the island.

The Norman sank immediately. The cook, wheelsman and fireman were drowned.

The barge Siscken picked up the rest of the crew.

The Norman was valued at $200,000, and insured for $175,000.

The Jack is badly damaged.

Tugs have gone to bring her in.

SMOKED A CIGAR.

A Murderer Shows Great Nerve on the Scaffold.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., May 31.—Douglas Henderson and Frank Joffrey were hanged here this morning for the murder of James Towle at Cartersville last winter.

Henderson walked to the gallows smoking a cigar. He said: "Gentlemen—I am here to tell you good-bye. I hope I will meet you in heaven. I want to warn you to all keep out of bad company."

Jeffrey showed signs of nervousness. He said: "I am going to die for a crime I never committed."

NOT GUILTY.

Louis Matheny's Case Settled at Last.

The Jury Quickly Brought in a Verdict.

A Successful Fight for Life and Liberty Is Ended.

The case of Louis Matheny, accused of burglarizing Kuhnle's saloon at West Oakland, was submitted to the jury at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Deputy District Attorney Church made the opening argument to the jury. Attorney Cook declined to make any argument, and this shut Church out of making the closing argument which he had prepared.

THE VERDICT.

At 3:15 the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

The jury was out forty minutes.

MAY BE RUN AGAIN.

Awkward Complications Over Chicago's Road Race.

CHICAGO, Ills., May 31.—There is a possibility that it may be necessary to run the Chicago road race over.

The winner of the second prize for the fastest time, Fred J. Rau, was disqualified today. He admitted he did not ride over the whole course.

The success men, DeCardy and Bainbridge, make affidavit that they saw Emerson, the first winner, sitting near a sidewalk in Evanston and he declared he was out of the race.

They also declare that sixty riders who finished ahead of them were passed in Evanston.

THE OAKS.

Sir James Miller's La Sagesse Wins the Prize.

EPSOM DOWNS, May 31.—Sir James Miller's bay filly La Sagesse won the Oaks today.

Galeotia was second, Penkridge third and Garter Queen fourth.

The betting was 5 to 1 against La Sagesse.

Galeotia led until the inside distance, where La Sagesse challenged her and wod by a length and a half.

The same distance separated the second and third horses.

MAY BE A MURDER.

Tragic Developments in the Belden Case.

LOS ANGELES, May 31.—W. B. Button has been arrested for the murder of H. W. Belden, the electric road conductor found dead with a revolver in each hand, a bullet hole through his head and a shot through the heart.

The police say the wounds could not have been self-inflicted.

Button was jealous of Belden, who was attentive to Button's wife.

FOR REFORM.

A Municipal League Convention in Progress.

San Francisco and Local Phases Talked of.

Suggestions for Good Government Are Being Given.

CLEVELAND, O., May 31.—At the session of the National Municipal League today, Charles Richardson, first president, read a paper on "Municipal Government by National Parties."

E. L. Graves of Seattle, Wash., made an address.

Secretary Clinton Rogers Woodruff read a paper on the "Municipal Condition of Portland, Oregon," by Thomas N. Strong, third vice president of the League, who was unable to be present.

Isaac T. Milliken spoke on the "Municipal Conditions of San Francisco."

Mr. Milliken began with the consolidation in 1856 of the city and a portion of what had been the county, into the present city of San Francisco, which was extemporaneous with the final acts of the old Vigilance Committee, the historical doings of which and the spirit imbuing it, he added, left more than a transient mark.

Coming down to local reform movements, he named the various reform and civic associations whose efforts have been best toward bringing about good government.

Another step in this direction, he continued, has been the passage, by the recent session of the Legislature, of several bills in the interest of pure elections.

One of these relates to primary elections, which Mr. Milliken asserts, "have become so farcical as to be shunned by the better class of voters in both the old parties."

Great hopes are entertained that the better element will make itself felt under the new rule.

There is much to be said in praise of San Francisco, though it is not in all respects an ideal city. It is a long time since the Vigilance Committee. But there is no city in the Union with a quarter of a million people (excepting Cleveland) which would not be the better for a little judicious hanging.

"The difficulties to be met," he said, "are in general similar to those of other cosmopolitan cities. New York furnishes ledgers and voters for Long Island, Staten Island and the choice residence parties of New Jersey. San Francisco does the same for Alameda, Marin and San Mateo counties. But recent developments show that when the best elements of New York are united in municipal reform they can control.

"In common with our sister cities, we must reach a condition under which citizens may accept and even aspire to public offices and not debase themselves by venal pledges and agreements in advance. Public and semi-public corporations must learn and are beginning to realize that bribery, subsidy and deceit cost more in the long run than will frank dealing with their patrons. In bringing about all these needed improvements, the National Municipal League cannot fail to prove a leading factor."

WHAT CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR DOES.

J. W. Baer of Boston then spoke on "The Work of Christian Endeavor Societies in Behalf of Christian Citizens."

Mr. Baer began his address by quoting from the address made by Francis E. Clark, president of the Christian Endeavor Societies, at the conventions held in Montreal in July, 1893, and in Cleveland last July, and in the Christian Endeavor campaign for Christian citizenship.

He then exhaustively discussed the work of the various subordinate unions of the society in different cities throughout the country. In this connection he said:

"I find, in going over the reports that have come to me from almost every large city in the land, that there is a great similarity in the work accomplished and the methods employed.

"Citizenship clubs have been organized and the various departments of education, temperance, literature, relief, arousing public sentiment, expressing public sentiment in petitions and meetings, putting forward good men and measures and defeating bad ones in the primaries, at the polls and in the Councils of city and State, enforcing laws already gained, strengthening the hands of honest officials and exposing corruption, have all been emphasized and brought to the attention of thousands and thousands of readers. The result has been good, but what has been done gives good promise of better plans and work in the future."

FROM EXPERT VIEWS.

John Billings then spoke on "Good City Government From the Standpoint of the Physician and Sanitarian."

"From the point of view of the physician," began Dr. Billings, "the best city government is that which best preserves the health of the people, best cares for the sick and injured who require municipal aid and gives most opportunities for the increase and diffusion of medical knowledge, which at the same time interferes least with the freedom of individuals in general to use their time, their knowledge and their property in their own way and for their own benefit. The sanitarian also considers that the best city government is that which preserves the health of the people, but with the provision that it be done at a reasonable cost."

Discussing the means of securing a perfect health system, Dr. Billings said:

"No system will prove satisfactory which prevents the chiefs of the Health and Engineering Departments from presenting their plans and estimates directly to the Mayor for street cleaning, and the city should own the plant and employ its own men under the direction of the Engineering Department."

Dr. Billings outlined the methods by which the various desiderata mentioned by him should be provided for by a city government. Proceeding, he said:

"I believe that the statements of the present evils of a city life are remedial and that science is competent to answer the problems connected with this.

"But science is a matter of fact, of quantities, of measurement—it must have data to work with, and the first thing needed for most of our cities is to obtain these data.

"I am much inclined to believe that the wisest thing a city could do would be to have its health and engineering departments inspected by a committee composed of an expert statistician, a skilled sanitarian and an experienced municipal engineer from elsewhere for the purpose, who should take from one to six months to do their work and then report the results, with their recommendations.

"The citizens would then know what of these parts of the municipal machinery are in good order and what are not.

"Each city presents its own peculiar problems, but, in many cases, these problems can be better solved by experts called from other cities than by those likely to be selected from the citizens of the place itself."

FURIOUS FLAMES

Mrs. Hayward's Residence Now in Ashes.

A Mysterious Blaze Started Up at Midnight.

About $4000 Worth of Property Goes Up in Smoke.

There was a mysterious fire early this morning which completely destroyed the residence of Mrs. Hayward on Grove street, between Forty-second and Forty-third streets.

The locality is six or seven blocks beyond the city limits, but the reflection in the northern sky of the red flames was so great that there was a general turnout at the Fire Department headquarters on Fifteenth street in expectancy of a call.

The fire started shortly before midnight and made very rapid headway. A high wind was blowing and this assisted the flames in spreading through the dwelling with great rapidity.

The peculiar feature connected with the fire is the fact that the members of the family were absent. Mrs. Hayward, who owned the burned dwelling, was in San Pablo last night and her daughter, Miss Hayward, was in San Francisco.

The neighbors were unable to give any idea of the cause of the fire. It was well under headway when discovered and burned so fiercely that nothing could be saved from the burning dwelling.

The residence was a large two-story structure. It stood on a capacious lot and the nearest house to it was about 100 feet away. This accounted for the fact that the fire did not spread. The high wind which blew during the night was dangerous, and had the dwelling been less isolated there would have been much greater loss.

The fire aroused the entire neighborhood and there was a great deal of anxiety expressed at one time, as the damage from a spread of the flames was very imminent.

The loss will be in the neighborhood of $4000.

HE COULD NOT SWIM.

One of the T. C. Walker's Crew Is Drowned.

STOCKTON, Cal., May 31.—William Olsen, assistant engineer of the T. C. Walker, was drowned in the Stockton Channel this morning.

He was repairing the stern wheel and either slipped or was attacked with dizziness and fell into the water.

He could not swim. His body was found shortly after noon.

Olsen had been employed on the river boats plying between this city and San Francisco for many years.

Against a Strike.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 31.—The National Bituminous Miners' Organization has decided against a general strike and has declared a 60 per cent rate in force in the Pittsburg district and the West Virginia basis for settlement in the other districts. A joint meeting of miner's delegates and mine owners will now be called to settle the Ohio, Indiana and Illinois rates.

The Atchison Bonds.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Deposits of $67,000,000 Atchison general 4's have been made with the Joint Re-organization Committee, being $2,000,000 more than the majority. A meeting of the Joint Executive Committee will be held this afternoon to declare the Atchison plan effective.

VERY TRICKY.

But Tom Hickey Was Not Quite Smart Enough.

One of the Jail-Breakers Landed in Nevada.

He Endeavored to Cast His Identity on a Dead Tramp.

Sheriff White received a telegram from Reno, Nev., this morning informing him that Thomas Hickey, the notorious member of the Salvation Army, who, with three other prisoners, escaped from the County Jail a few days ago, had been captured. The Sheriff was requested to send a deputy to Reno at once to bring the prisoner back to this city. Chief Jailer Al. White will leave for Nevada on the evening train with the necessary papers for Hickey's return.

Hickey was caught in a very peculiar manner. He was riding on a freight train with a tramp, when the latter lost his balance and fell beneath the wheels. The poor fellow was literally ground to pieces so that he could not be recognized.

Hickey thought that he would play a shrewd game and divert attention from him. He went to the officials and informed them that the man who was killed was Thomas Hickey, the prisoner who escaped from the County Jail in Oakland. Just as soon as he gave this information the officers became suspicious and turned their attention to the man who seemed to know so much about Hickey. They watched him for a few hours and then became satisfied that he was the original Hickey. The fellow was sent to prison, and then a photograph was secured and all doubt as to the prisoner's identity was cast aside. Just as soon as his identity was made certain a dispatch was sent to Sheriff White. The latter is particularly pleased to get Hickey, as he is the man who planned the escape from the jail. As trusty of the corridor, he had every opportunity to prepare for the jail break.

The Sheriff also received word today that Dempsey and Dunton had been shot at near Roseville, north of Sacramento. A Constable started to arrest them and they made for the woods. The officer fired at the fugitives and he believes that he shot Dunton in the leg. The escapes made for the woods and managed to get away. They are now supposed to be in the vicinity of the town. The Sheriff has sent out a number of telegrams, asking the various officers to keep a sharp lookout for the men.

The Hawaiian Band Will Give a Fine Concert.

Native Melodies and Selected Standard Music.

King Kalakaua's Celebrated Orchestra to Hold Forth.

One of the best military bands in the world will be in Oakland this evening, for at the First Congregational Church the famous Hawaiian Band will give a grand concert. This orchestra ranks very high in musical circles, for it has been brought to a superb standard of excellence, and has won international fame through its magnificent entertainments at the Islands.

There are forty skilled musicians in the orchestra, and they are the pick of the talent of Hawaii. They render, with full brass accompaniments, the best operatic music, and play with a precision and tone that ranks them above even the Schaad and Souza bands.

But this is not all their accomplishments. Interspersed with the standard selections are the Hawaiian songs, melodies and marches, and these are rendered vocally as well as instrumentally. Taro-leaf ukuleles are used for accompaniment for the native airs, and the effect of the forty islanders singing the sweet refrains of their coral-girt homes is indescribably charming.

The programme is the best that possibly could have been selected. The famous farewell "Aloha oe" will be sung, and those who have ever heard the plaintive Hawaiian music will be glad to hear it again. Then there will be the world-renowned Royal Hawaiian March, which was invariably played in the days of the royal regime. In the palace yards it was customary for King Kalakaua to give grand concerts on the occasion of any noted visitors, and thus it was that the band first won fame.

At the Midwinter Fair an orchestra bearing the title of the Hawaiian Band played for a short time, but it was not the original band, as this is the first time it has been in America since the death of King Kalakaua. On that occasion it was sent over to escort his remains back to the islands, and those who witnessed the impressive ceremonies when the funeral left the Market street ferry for Honolulu will recall the impressive and touching music that the Hawaiians played as the casket was carried to the ship.

The island songs have a charm that is attached to no other nation. There is a dreamy swing and a soulful melody in the intonation that with trained voices is inexpressibly beautiful. Those who have heard the music once will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity this evening to participate in it again, and to those to whom the Hawaiian music is something new there will be a novel and interesting entertainment well worth attending.

A big demand for tickets ensures a splendid house, and as the price of admission has been placed at a uniform rate of 50 cents, all should attend. The Hawaiians will arrive from San Francisco on the 7 o'clock boat, and on reaching Broadway at 7:30, will form in parade and march to the church.

This is the first and last and therefore the only opportunity to hear the band play here previous to its departure for the islands.

All Oakland Is Interested in Stamp Sales.

It Means Needed Increases in the Service.

Postmaster White Tells Why He Cannot Get More Carriers.

Postmaster J. J. White is seeking, through all the means in his power to increase the efficiency of the Postoffice service in this city. He has, however, found himself rather seriously handicapped through the failure of many Oaklanders to fully appreciate the conditions that obtain in that department of the government with especial relation to local surroundings.

During the past year Postmaster White has brought the office up to as excellent a standard for service as could be possible under the conditions. Many improvements have been effected. The facilities for better service have been increased. In brief, he has kept right at the helm and at every possible opportunity has made a stroke for the Oak and Postoffice.

Notwithstanding this the people of this city have contributed to cause a difficulty in securing still greater facilities by their failure to realize that to get them they must assist the Postmaster.

The local postoffice, like every office in the country, is regulated by the Postoffice Department, so far as service and equipment is concerned, upon its receipts, as compared with its expenses. For example, Postmaster White has made three requests for an increase in carriers during the year that he has been in charge. Each time the request was denied. The refusal to grant the increase was based upon the fact that the receipts did not justify the increase in operating expenses.

WHAT THE FIGURES SHOW.

Last year the receipts of the local office were $90,000. The cost of maintaining the office was 57 per cent of that amount. This includes only the cost of operating the office itself. Rent, salaries of carriers, clerks, materials, etc., merely the running expenses of the office.

WHAT MR. WHITE SAYS.

Postmaster White wants at least five additional carriers. He says that number would serve very well in covering the city as he would like to. In order to secure them he believes the receipts of the office should be increased at least one-third. It has been estimated that San Francisco derives at least that amount of its revenue from stamp sales that properly belong to Oakland.

"The figures almost speak for themselves," said Postmaster White today, when discussing the question of better service. "The branch station D, at the foot of Market street, sold $342,000 worth of stamps, envelopes, etc., last year to our $90,000. Where did that great difference come? Why, I am satisfied that fully one-third of that revenue should come to Oakland.

"Our people forget sometimes when they demand better service that they are not contributing their share toward securing it. They must remember the basis upon which carriers and clerks are granted an office. Now if I could only convince the people that they should purchase their stamps in Oakland, it would accomplish a great deal.

"If they would not drop in at the ferry landing station, but buy at home where they are and want to have the benefit of a service, the receipts would soon be increased to a point where the Government would recognize our request.

"There are several reasons why the cost of maintaining the Oakland office is greater in proportion than any city of its class in the United States. The geographical conditions are such, and the population is scattered over so wide a territory, that the city embraces a very large territory to be covered. The Government expects a carrier to serve a certain number of thousands of people. Now, where houses are a block apart, it is very difficult, even impossible to reach the standard set within the small force at our command. There is a large territory, in the northern portion of the city, where dwell some of the wealthiest people here. We are unable to give them any service and they are obliged to come to the Postoffice for their mail.

"It seems to be all the more necessary now that our people should see this matter, as we have just received certain orders that will cause a flat reduction in our income of $6000 a year. This is from the sale of special request envelopes to residents outside of Oakland. These special request envelopes are printed by the Government to order with the name and address of the business firm ordering them. From San Francisco we have been receiving orders to the amount of $400 to $600 a month, but the department has ordered the sale shut off except to persons who are residents of the place whence the order is given. These instructions came last month, and cause the falling off of a trade that has been done for eight or ten years past.

"The revenue of the office has fallen behind somewhat during the past year, for several reasons. One of the principal causes is the dull times. There was a slight increase, however, for the quarter ending December 31st over the corresponding period of 1893. But the chief difficulty is in the failure of the people to buy at home, and thus co-operate with the Postmaster on the lines I have mentioned.

"One often hears a person say: 'What difference does it make where I buy stamps? The Government gets it all any way.' I think, however, that with an understanding of the conditions as they exist, our Oakland people who are anxious for better mail service and increased facilities in all departments of the local Postoffice will come to the conclusion that every dollar they turn into the Oakland postoffice will be a step in the direction of improvement."

Postmaster White has labored hard during his term of office to give the city a first-class service. His remarks on the situation are apt and thrown much light on a subject that appears not to be fully understood. It is undoubtedly to the interest of the city to heed his words in the matter.

BIMETALLISM.

It Will Be the Republican Cry Next Campaign.

A Vigorous Foreign Policy for the Platform.

Chairman Carter of the National Body Speaks Out.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Thomas H. Carter, chairman of the Republican National Committee, in a public statement, says:

"In 1896, the Republican party will stand for protection and restoration of bi-metallism on a substantial and enduring basis.

"There may be differences of opinion on the schedules, but not upon the principles of protection.

"There will be differences of opinion as to the best course to pursue to secure free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at a fixed ratio, but there will be no difference of opinion as to the desirability of bringing about the result.

"Upon one question there will be neither a difference of opinion, as to the general principal involved, nor the means to be employed,

"That is with reference to the restoration of a vigorous foreign policy."

RACKET AND BALL.

All Is Played Now but the Semi-Finals.

It Now Pretty Well Assured That Byxbee Will Win.

The game of tennis was revived in Oakland yesterday, when the Lakeside courts were opened with a handicap tournament. Some of the well-known local players came to the front again. Sam Hardy, the coast champion, was beaten by Selby, as the former was heavily handicapped. The score for the day and handicaps are as follows:

Preliminary round—Alexander (owe 15)-Magee (15), won by Magee, 6—1, 5—6, 6—4; Gage (half 30)-McFarlin (15), defaulted; Sharon (15)-Everett (scratch), won by Everett, 6—2, 6—2; Hatch (scratch)-R. Chickering (15), won by Hatch by default; Jacobs defaulted to Smith; Bowen to Selby; Kasser to Baker; Hardy (owe 30)-English (owe 30), won by Hardy, 6—2, 6—2; Travers defaulted to Frost; Chickering (owe 15)-Kerr (half 30), won by Chickering, 6—4, 6—3; Brown defaulted to Husser; Ames defaulted to Spencer; Baldwin (scratch)-Anthony (half 30), won by Baldwin, 6—3, 6—2; Manvals defaulted to Fine; O'Brien to Byxbee.

Second round—Magee won by default of Gage and McFarlin in the preliminaries; Everett-Hatch, won by Hatch, 6—0, 6—4; Smith-Selby, won by Selby, 6—2, 6—0; Kasser-Hardy, won by Hardy, 7—5, 8—6; Frost won by default of McLane and Pierce in the preliminaries; Hussey defaulted to Chickering; Spencer-Baldwin, won by Baldwin, 4—6, 6—1, 6—2; Fine-Byxbie, won by Byxbee, 6—4, 8—6.

Third round—Magee-Hatch, won by Hatch, 6—3 10—8; Selby-Hardy, won by Selby, 6—2, 6—2; Frost-Chickering, won by Frost, 6—1, 6—1.

The last match of the third round was played off this morning. Lloyd Baldwin and Howard Byxbee were the contestants. It was the hardest fought match of the tournament and was won by Byxbee, score 6—4, 6—8, 7—5. This brings the contest down to the semi-finals, between Hatch, Selby, Frost and Baldwin. These and the finals will be played off some day next week. Now that Hardy is out of the race, Byxbee is expected to win.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

M. W. Biterry Falls From an Electric Car.

M. W. Biterry, who resides at 550 Forty-sixth street, had a narrow escape from being killed late last night. He was a passenger on the Telegraph avenue electric car and while attempting to alight at the corner of Sixth and Broadway he missed his footing and was thrown on his head. The wheels of the car just missed his body. Biterry received a deep scalp wound and was rendered unconscious by the fall. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

A CHOKED SEWER.

Trouble at the New Lafayette School Building.

The sanitary conditions at the new Lafayette school, on West and Seventeenth streets, are reported to be so bad that the school will have to be closed tomorrow unless immediate repairs are made. The sewer which connects with the buildings is reported to be choked and it has left the school in a bad state. Department Mechanic Carlin has been notified and Mayor Davie has ordered that the necessary repairs be made as quickly as possible.

A NEW DEAL.

Reliance Men Want to Clear Up Their Debts.

Subscriptions Are Handed in by the Members.

About $8000 of Old Bills to Be Put Out of the Way.

The members of the Reliance Athletic Club held a meeting Wednesday night the purpose of discussing the financial condition of the club. The meeting was called at the instance of the directors who desired to discuss matters with the members.

The gathering was the most important held at the clubrooms for a long time. President Fitzgerald made an address to the members and explained to them in detail just how the finances stand.

It was stated that the club is about $8,000 in debt. The creditors are all willing to do the square thing and assist the club in every way. The directors held a meeting with the creditors and the whole situation was explained. The creditors finally made the proposition that they would settle their claims for 60 cents on the dollar providing a settlement can be made within sixty days. It is not to be understood, however, that the club is bankrupt by any means. The assets of the organization will far exceed the liabilities. It is simply a question of raising money at once in order to wipe out the debts so that the club may start out on a firm financial basis. The creditors are anxious to assist in every way possible, and that is the reason why they made such a favorable proposition to the directors.

President Fitzgerald explained to the members that the club was never in a better condition than it is at the present time. It is being run on a paying basis, and the income exceeds the expenses by $100 a month.

The members seemed to be of the opinion that the proposition of the creditors was a very good one and should be accepted. It was decided to try and raise the money to pay the debts at once.

Voluntary subscriptions were called for and the members responded in fine style. Among the largest subscriptions made were those of R. M. Fitzgerald, $100; Phil Remillard, $50; George Morrow, $50; John A. Britton, $50, and E. B. Jerome, $50. There were scores of others who signed the subscription list.

The finest kind of a showing was made in the line of subscriptions. The members were thoroughly worked up on the proposition and they want to see the old debt wiped out.

Landlord Nordmann came to the front in a very liberal manner. He reduced the rent of the club $50 a month. Under the present conditions this action was very much appreciated by the members of the club.

The Reliance Club has always done things up in swell style, and that is the reason it is now in debt. The football team last fall cost a great deal of money. A training table and quarters had to be maintained for the boys, and there was much expense attached to the whole thing. The baseball team has also to be maintained at some little expense. Then again the club has given several very fine entertainments and these were all expensive and brought in no revenue. However the officers of the club are now well satisfied with the outlook.

LESS THAN HALF PRICE.

A Notable Sale at the Famous Clothing House.

The Famous Clothing store, 907, 909, 911 and 913 Broadway, between Eighth and Ninth streets, has been closed for two days in order to make arrangements for a great smash and will put on sale thousands of dollars worth of clothing, hats, furnishing goods, etc., beginning tomorrow at 9 o'clock in the morning.

This sale will comprise goods slightly damaged in the conflagration at the celebrated house of Dunbar, Dickson & Co., of Newark, N. J.

The goods were bought by M. Hyman & Co. of the Famous Clothing Store of this city, by whom they will be sold at the rate of 47 cents on the dollar.

These goods are all in excellent condition and will be sold according to the price list, which purchasers are requested to compare with the prices marked on the articles offered for sale. Where goods are damaged in a certain manner they will be given away for nothing.

No other house on the Pacific coast could offer such advantages. The Famous Clothing Store, however, having purchased the goods at the underwriter's sale, will make a handsome sum out of the venture.

The sale will commence at 9 A. M. sharp tomorrow.

WANT A REST.

Store Clerks Want All Business Stopped on Sunday.

The Federated Trades Have Taken the Matter in Hand.

The regular meeting of the Federated Trades was held last evening.

The organizing committee reported that two new unions are being organized.

The Retail Clerks' Association appointed a committee of three to confer with the Merchants' Exchange with regard to the Fourth of July celebration.

The report in the matter of the Sunday opening of stores reported that it is still doing effective work.

The Bakers reported progress in the matter of the Log Cabin Bakery boycott.

The Typographical Union reported that it had appointed a committee to arrange for a place in the Fourth of July parade.

The firm of Jones & Stillwell, printers, on San Pablo avenue, was placed on the black list, and the attention of the friends of labor is called to the fact.

The following resolutions were then adopted.

"WHEREAS By the recent decisions of the United Supreme Court E V Debs and others are to be imprisoned for a term for an alleged violation of the Inter-State Commerce law,

"Resolved, That the Alameda County Federation of Trades views such decisions of said court with alarm and considers it a dangerous precedent in so far as it touches labor.

"Resolved, That we also view said decision as contrary to the principle of the Declaration of Independence and American constitutional liberty, and deserving of the unqualified condemnation of all American citizens, especially of organized labor throughout the United States."

AMUSEMENTS.

The Lilliputians Will Be Here for Four Nights.

The next event at the Macdonough will be the Lilliputians on Monday, June 10th. The engagement is for four nights and a spot at Wednesday matinee, which will be made attractive for ladies and children. The attraction will be Humpty Dumpty Up to Date. It is a gorgeous spectacular extravaganza and the production will be in every particular the same as is now being performed to packed houses at the Baldwin. The Lilliputians carry several carloads of scenery, wardrobe and effects. The sale of seats will begin next Thursday at 9 A. M.

The Haywards Theater.

The following programme, selected for the opening night (tomorrow) of the Castro Street Theater, is very attractive, as only first-class vaudeville people have been engaged. Miss Agnes Hurdle, vocalist, Harvey and Howard, acrobats, Avina, the female Carmencita, Durant and Woods' comedy musical team, Miss Lulu Kemp, female clog dancer, Professor Martin and troupe of trained dogs, Miss Edna Marshall, serio-comic song and dance artist, O W Elton, character actor and vocalist, Miss May Turner, dramatic soprano. With such an array of talent, the house will surely be packed. Popular prices are charged, 10, 20 and 35 cents.

TO CAMPERS!

Try Camp-Life in the Santa Cruz Mountains

Don't be bothered with cooking when you go camping this season. Excellent meals will be served under a canopy at the camp of the "Jolly Hundred." If you have not the undersigned will call for it, ship the same and place it in position ready for your occupancy. The camp-ground is one of the most beautiful groves in the mountains, located 73 miles from San Francisco on the lines of the narrow gauge railroad. Special trains leave Oakland and San Francisco every Saturday evening at 5:45, arriving at camp in three hours returning Monday at 9:50 A. M., enabling business men to visit families and friends in camp once a week without interfering with business. Those who intend joining this camp should do so before June 10th, so that the management can make the necessary arrangements before the opening of camp June 17th. FRIDAY.....MAY 31, 1895

THE Good Roads Association is giving line upon line and precept upon precept. The city has never had a street policy, and probably never will have until a public opinion has been created that has the force of law. One model street would go a long way toward bringing about a revolution. But where is the model street?

CHAUNCEY DEPEW recently gave a "harmony" dinner to a number of leaders of the Republican party. Ex-President Harrison was there and Governor McKinley, both candidates for a Presidential nomination. Ex-Speaker Reed was somewhere in the Maine woods and could not be reached. Ex-President Harrison, having had his portrait painted and having been present at Depew's harmony dinner, has now had his first grooming for his next political race. Ex-Secretary Whitney says that the tariff will not be a prominent issue in the next canvass. But ex-President Harrison holds the contrary view. The Republicans will not drop that issue in the next election.

Astronomer Barnard.

The report that Professor Barnard is about to retire from the Lick Observatory, is probably true. But the inference that he is about to retire on account of any disagreement with Director Holden is not safely drawn from any known facts. Professor Barnard has been invited to Chicago, where he may have more scope for his researches than he has had at Mount Hamilton. But it was there that he enjoyed the opportunity for making one of the most important astronomical discoveries of the age. It does not appear that he was in any way hindered in his investigations. He won a world-wide fame at the Lick Observatory.

Men of renown are constantly called to higher positions. Prof. Burnham went to Chicago some time ago. The Yerkes Observatory, near that city, although having a larger object glass, is not thought by astronomers to present the advantages for original investigation that belong to the Lick Observatory. Director Holden has been made the target for some unfriendly criticism, and some of it has been very unjust. He has done much of late to justify the early judgment that he is the right man in the right place.

The Right Hand of the President.

President Cleveland is about to appoint a new Secretary of State. There is not a little speculation as to who is the coming man. Ex-Secretary Whitney is more in the eye of the public in this connection than any other man. He differs from the late Secretary in many particulars. He has more of what might be called the genius for statesmanship. He has also political ambition. It is in the air that he is looking for a Presidential nomination from the Democratic party. He has recently made some very clear statements of his financial views. He is more definite in his expressions in this respect than Mr. Cleveland. Whitney has spoken for the right wing of the Democratic party on "sound money."

Premising that the ex-Secretary is really ambitious for a Presidental nomination, the office of Secretary of State could hardly help him to the higher office, unless there were some fortunate turns of administration. Whitney has political tact and that goes a great way to make a successful statesman. Gresham, a man of great ability, had very little tact, and the lack of it went a long way to make him unpopular. Whitney has more than once been able to bring the factions of his own party into unity and working order. No other man in his party has had as much influence in that respect as the ex-Secretary.

But would he be willing just now, to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for the benefit of some other political aspirant? He did it for Cleveland at the last Democratic convention, and his nomination then hinged upon the efforts for unity that Whitney made. It will be unfortunate circumstance for Cleveland if he can now bring Whitney into his Cabinet. Other men of mark have found that the office of Secretary of State led directly away from a Presidential nomination. It is not likely that the ex-Secretary will sacrifice any

The Great Disaster.

One of the greatest marine disasters that ever occurred on the Pacific Coast was the sinking of the Colima, involving the loss of somewhere from 160 to 180 lives. The exact number will not be known for some days. Many of the details reported will be subject to future revision. It was at first stated that the vessel was lost in calm weather. Subsequent reports affirm that the steamer had been caught in a gale, and that the spars fell, which killed the captain and other officers before the vessel struck the rocks. This last statement may well be questioned. It is not probable that the vessel encountered any gale that carried away her spars. These probably fell when the vessel struck the rocks. At any rate, that is the better theory until the facts are known.

That the vessel was out of her course by some miles, is probable. The disaster appears to be quite as much due to errors of position as to any other cause. Moreover, the vessel was not as far from the coast as was at first reported, because two or three persons were able to reach the land without the aid of boats. The killing of the captain and other officers by the falling of spars would account for the failure to launch the other boats in season to save the passengers.

It is not clear from the reports that they were launched at all. But the one boat that got away was able to live in the open water for many hours—a circumstance which casts a doubt over the story that the gale itself, if there was one, was sufficient to cause the disaster. When all the facts have been brought together, it will probably be found that the primary cause of the disaster was an error of navigation, that the vessel was out of her course by many miles.

This disaster is brought home to many families and persons in this city and county. Bright young men have gone down with the ship. Professor Whiting, late of the University at Berkeley, and his entire family have been swept out of existence. Choosing the marine journey home for his health, he went swiftly to his death. There will be mourning all over the Pacific Coast on account of this memorable disaster.

The Other Side of the Picture.

The Los Angeles Express is authority for the statement that there are about 1600 carloads of oranges remaining in Southern California to be shipped, with very little prospect of any profit. One citizen received as the net return of a carload of oranges $27 05, and others have done worse. Judge Ross is quoted as having 1200 boxes of oranges on the trees which he could not afford to ship at the present rate of freight. Most of the oranges have been shipped by the Atchison and Santa Fe railroad.

These accounts do not tally with earlier reports, which showed that the orange growers were making handsome profits. They had little or no competition of the Florida citrus growers this year, while the foreign competition does not appear to be greater than in former years. Some of the explanations for the difference do not appear in print. Oranges shipped at this season come in competition with strawberries, and with cherries and other fruits shipped from California.

The hunger for oranges is over for the present season. Then, the recent shipments might not have arrived in good order. Moreover, the quality of the fruit might not have been the best. Seedling oranges have sold at low prices during all the season. Navel oranges have brought nearly double the price of the others. When the accounts for the season are made up, it will probably be shown that the citrus growers of Southern California have had a fairly prosperous season.

With Some Grains of Allowance.

A telegram from New York of the 29th instant states that Mrs. Stanford feels very bitter toward the people of California for their attitude toward the Stanford estate, on which the prosperity of the school is dependent. Now as Mrs. Stanford is in California, and has just made her personal statement, we fail to find any such declarations of "bitterness." Public opinion has been strongly in favor of the permanent establishment of the University. All fair-minded citizens would regret to know that there would be any failure.

That a few persons may carry their feelings of hostility so far as to wish to see the institution close its doors, is not a matter of any great consequence. The permanence of the institution will not depend at all upon any such expressions. The whole question depends upon a judicial decision, which will be quite independent of all personal prejudices or petty hostility. There are very few people in California today whose opinion is worth anything, who would not sincerely regret any mishap to the University. It has already earned a good place in their confidence. It has justified all the money expenditure that has been made, and its existence and growth for a century. As for the "bitterness" on either side, if any exists, it is of very little consequence. The issue is one of justice and right, and not of personal prejudices that may be checked by a few.

THE Art Association, which has just closed its spring exhibition in San Francisco, distributed sixteen pictures which the committee had purchased from the number exhibited, through voluntary contributions that had been made. These pictures were distributed by lot. "Sunset," by William Keith, a picture valued at not less than a thousand dollars, went to E. W. Hopkins. Yelland's "Haunted Wood" was another notable picture, that was drawn by a lady. Louise M. Carpenter's picture, "California Pumpkin Fields," was also drawn by a lady. Miss Carpenter is an Oakland artist, having a studio in the Macdonough building. She was a pupil of the Art school, and has taken high rank in her profession.

HUMOROUS.

Possibly True—Here is the story of a man who says he never made love to a make a specialty of widows, you know.—Indianapolis Journal.

"All the symptoms, doctor, you say of hay fever? But now," asked an Indian army chaplain of pronounced ecclesiastical views, when returning to England on long leave, "can one possibly get hay fever in mid-ocean?"

"I don't know," replied the doctor. "But we have several grass widows on board, and you have been a great deal in their society."—London World.

"Dumply seems wonderfully well satisfied with himself."

"Yes. There's nothing you can mention that he doesn't think he knows all about."

"Well, I suppose you can't blame him. He has no children old enough to ask questions and take the conceit out of him."—Washington Star.

The new woman idea doesn't seem to be very popular in Chicago. What they are looking for principally out there are new husbands.—Yonkers Statesman.

The New York World wants to know whether the new woman will hold pin in her mouth while she is dressing the baby. She will not; the new woman will have no babies to dress.—Detroit Sun.

"Kitty, what brings that young chucklehead of a Spoonamore to this house so often?"

"Why, Uncle Allen, he comes to see me."

"What do you know about him?"

"I know he's a very pleasant, agreeable young man, who belongs to a good family always dresses well, is in good circumstances, and is well educated and well read."

"What else do you know about him?"

"I know he hasn't the habits many young men have. He doesn't drink, smoke, gamble, attend prize fights or go into bad company."

"Does he keep a race horse?"

"Oh, no! I am sure he doesn't."

"Part his hair in the middle?"

"No."

"Let his little finger nails grow long?"

"No."

"Quote Ibsen?"

"Never."

"Chew gum?"

"Oh, no."

"Wear pointed whiskers?"

"He does not."

"Carry chocolate and caramels in his pocket?"

"No."

(Still suspicious)—He may be all right, Kitty, but you'd better watch him. I'll bet $4 he calls his father papa.—Chicago Tribune.

Woodnotes.

As sunbeams stream through liberal space
And nothing jostle or displace,
So waved the pine tree through my thought
And fanned the dreams it never brought.
"Whether is better, the gift or the donor?"
Come to me,"
Quoth the pine tree,
"I am the giver of honor.
My garden is the cloven rock,
And my manure the snow;
And drifting sand heaps feed my stock,
In summer's scorching glow.
He is great who can live by me.
The rough and beetled firesoor
Is better than the cord:
God fills the scrip and canister,
Sun piles the loaf of board.
The lord is the peasant that was,
The peasant the lord that shall be;
The lord is hay, the peasant grass,
One dry, and one the living tree.
Who liveth by the ragged plan
Foundeth a heroic line;
Who liveth in the palace hall
Waneth fast and spendeth all.
He goes to my savage haunts,
With his courtier and his cares;
My twelfth get realm he disenchants,
And finds his prison there."
—Emerson.

NOTES AND EXCERPTS.

Russia, after threatening Japan with war, and getting France and Germany to help her, because the Japanese proposed to annex a small part of the Continental territory of China, is now hinting at an occupation of Corea by her own forces. That is about the usual Russian style in dealing with Oriental powers.

The stock of the American Sugar Refining Company (the trust) is selling for about forty dollars a share more now than before the Democratic Tariff bill was passed, and the promised advance in the price of sugar is now coming. Still the Democrats denied that there was any favoritism for the sugar trust in their revenue scheme.

Queen Victoria has settled one point conclusively and over her own signatures, and that is that the former Mrs. Hammersly will not be received at court as the Duchess of Marlborough. It is time for Mrs. Beresford to subside.

The Railroad Gazette in its next issue will publish a tabulation of orders for freight cars placed by railroad companies this year, which places the number at 22,029. Besides cars ordered, bids are out now for an additional 8000 cars approximately. The passenger car ordered amount to seventy-two, with contracts for thirteen more to be given out shortly. This represents an investment of over ten million dollars. The Railroad Gazette says that the total output of the contracting car shops for five months of this year exceeds that of the entire year 1894 by over 5000 cars.—Chicago Times-Herald.

If Mexico adopts the proposed "extraction law" on gold and silver mines it will damage American interests badly enough, but not as badly as the interests of Mexico itself. It is chiefly on American money that Mexican mining properties must rely for development, and if the Government taxes it out of the country the Mexican mining business will collapse.

Farmers have taken to the bicycle in parts of Ohio, and they go to town on the wheel instead of driving. They make long trips in the same fashion to cities that hitherto they have seldom visited. One livery stable keeper in an Ohio town has bought some bicycles to rent. He says that everybody rides the wheel while few persons ride or drive horses, so he is gradually changing the character of his business.

The fact that a party of 200 bicyclists, men and women, made a "century run" in the suburbs of New York on Sunday shows pretty conclusively that the wheel is a practical machine. To make a hundred miles between daybreak and dark by the output of one's own energy, unassisted by any other force, is certainly a notable achievement and one that is significant of great progress in the future. The bicycle is now the swiftest medium of long distance travel with the sole exception of the railway train, and the day may be at hand when some principle of bicycle construction, such as lightness and ease of running, will be applied to locomotion on the rail.—Providence Journal.

It is somewhat remarkable that while the Union Club, a worldly association, refuses to take the risk of incurring a debt for $1,000,000 to put up a new

ALL GOOD PROPERTY.

A Fine Auction Sale to Take Place Saturday.

There will be an exceptional opportunity for investors in real estate next Saturday. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the first large sale of real estate at auction, for the season of 1895, will be held in the salesrooms of William J. Dingee at 460 and 462 Eighth street. The large amount of property to be disposed of indicates a revival of business in this section. For the past six weeks this revival has been making itself felt, giving rise to new hopes for the future. Instead of the hordes of property holders that have been looking for buyers during the past months of continued depression, there are now investors, with hard cash, looking for good real estate. The result of this has been a slight rise of prices indicating a more decided advance in the immediate future.

The property to be sold comprises some of the choicest business and residence lots in Oakland. The cream of the sale consists of the ten valuable business and residence lots fronting on East Twelfth street and East Fourteenth street and Thirteenth avenue, East Oakland. This locality is the very center of the business section of East Oakland. The surprising thing about the sale of these lots is the easy terms on which they are offered, one-fourth cash and the rest in three equal yearly payments.

Other good opportunities to be offered for investment are: The business corner of Eighth and Chester streets, a double dwelling and a five-room cottage on Seward and Campbell streets, respectively, some modern flats and a three-room cottage on Sixth street near Oak, the Japanese nursery property in the Glen Echo tract, eight choice lots on Thirteenth avenue and East Fifteenth street, and three residence lots on the corner of Thirteenth and Peralta streets.

TENTH ANNUAL TEACHERS' EXCURSION

Will leave San Francisco and Oakland for Chicago, New York, Boston and all points East June 15th, via Rio Grande, Western Denver and Rio Grande. Strange, but True

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anæmic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

THE LORD'S DAY.

On What Lines Shall Observance Be Drawn.

Cut and Out Views Expressed by an Adventist.

He Tells of Various Movements That Have Been Started.

Editor Tribune—Sir: The cause of enforced Sunday observance has many pretexts, but its favorite guise is temperance reform. All the good temperance arguments are thus made to do duty in support of a purpose with which temperance has not the most remote connection. By means of this fair mask many good people are blinded to the fact that the appeal for a Sunday closing of saloons is but the precursor of an ulterior purpose, namely, the legal recognition of Sunday and its general compulsory observance. But the many inconsistencies incident to the false claim are a constant menace to the security of the gauzy screen with which the real object is sought to be obscured.

We are confronted with the terrible inroads that the use of ardent spirits makes upon the lives and health of the people, upon the peace, happiness and prosperity of the family and upon the dignity and welfare of the community. We are confronted with the appalling record of crime incident to the saloon evil. We are shown the truly harrowing picture of beggared homes as the result of the expenditure of means in the saloons. We are revealed with the pitiful story of the allurement of young men from the path of rectitude, to become the victims of debauchery in all its horrible phases. We have brought before us the heart-rending aspect of distracted and dejected wives and mothers, of degraded children, of enervated husbands and fathers, of lost souls, of insane asylums, prisons and gallows, of enormous expenses for sustaining police forces and police courts—in short, by far the greater part of all the crime and misery extant—as a direct and indirect result of the saloon curse. And then, when the long, blood-curdling panorama has been drawn out before the public, the exhibitors blandly propose as a remedy to stop the great fountain of evil one day in seven.

And which day of the seven is invariably designated? You never hear of a petition or a proposition to close saloons on Monday or Tuesday; and it is decidedly questionable if a man who asks for Sunday closing of saloons could be found who would advocate a like measure for any other day in the week unless Sunday were also included. It is assumed and re-iterated by the Sunday closing orators, in fact, it has been the leading argument of the present crusade in this city, that many wage-workers draw their weekly wages on Saturday and go directly to the saloon and spend their money Saturday night before going home. The most pathetic appeals from this standpoint were made before the City Council in behalf of an ordinance closing the saloons from 6 o'clock Saturday evening until Monday morning. The burden of the appeal was on the Saturday night curse, because if the wage-working men would go home sober with their wages intact, their families would be certain of some benefit from their earnings. It must be admitted that whatever there is in the argument against the saloons that men spend their earnings there to the detriment of their families, applies with tenfold more force on Saturday night than on Sunday. Yet in the face of this evident conclusion, this logical deduction from their own asseverations, these professed temperance champions are ready to yield the Saturday night privilege to the saloon in order to make sure of the Sunday closing.

The Sunday closing proposition presents a most grotesque and self-mollifying picture. It consequently turns loose the fiery serpent, the society poison, the admitted cause of three-fourths of all the crime and degradation in the land, for six days and nights. During this time the hideous monster is allowed free course to bite and to wound and to kill; and then on Sunday a closed saloon is set up on a conspicuous elevation, as a kind of brazen serpent to which the afflicted people are invited to look and be healed. Sunday having passed, the deadly work is resumed for another six days and nights.

The further these men go in their covert crusade for enforced Sunday observance in general the more they expose their real purpose. Every advance step is another link in the chain of indubitable evidence that a legal recognition of Sunday sacredness is the motive; then, when once the lawmakers are committed to the principle, the precedent will be established for other and further demands in that line. The plea is made in the popular name of temperance to catch a popular though very superficial temperance sentiment; but, brought to the test, it is merely Sunday temperance for which there is any real concern. The plea for Sunday closing is made in the name of humanity, in the name of benevolence, in the name of charity, in the name of Christian sympathy; but, reduced to the concentrated essence of the demand, it is Sunday humanity, Sunday benevolence, Sunday charity and Sunday sympathy.

But Saturday night closing, which, according to the popular plea is demonstrated to be of far greater importance, is at last sacrificed on the altar of the Sunday idol. And the sacrifice is the voluntary offering of the very men who were foremost in demonstrating that on Saturday night the most of the money of the wage-workers is spent in the saloons. At the very time when they were flushed with anticipation of sure victory, when they were boasting of their ability to compel favorable action by the Council, they were parenthetically expressing a willingness to concede the Saturday night. Men who positively affirmed a personal desire for prohibition every day would suggest compromise on the Saturday night part of the proposed ordinance specifying from 6 P. M. Saturday to 6 A. M. Monday. And after the Council in Committee of the Whole had decided by a 7 to 4 vote to report the entire proposition favorably, the leaders of the movement began backing and hedging with hints of compromise.

They have shown from the very beginning that they do not want to antagonize the saloon element against the Sunday closing move against the ultimate design of a Sunday law. And in addition to the seven-day arrangement for three months to come in order to give the saloon proprietors time to arrange their business so that they will suffer no loss. But if they are to suffer no loss pecuniarily, wherein is the probability of any decrease in the amount spent for strong drink? If they are to be protected against pecuniary loss, where is the probability of there being any reduction in the quantity of alcoholic beverages sold and drank in the community? The very suggestion shows that a reduction of the drink evil is not contemplated in the scheme at all. It is of itself a proof that the movement is deceptive in its incipiency and deceptive in its practical working, and that its prime and only purpose is compulsory Sunday observance.

This Sunday closing movement began about four years ago, just after the failure of the combined effort of the California Sabbath Association and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to secure a State Sunday law from the Legislature of 1891. It was started for the avowed purpose of covering the State with local Sunday laws. The design was to secure general closing of business where possible, but failing in that, then the Sunday closing of saloons would be accepted as an opening wedge. It was at that time calculated that if the saloons were closed, then the saloon keepers' spirit of retaliation would lead them to join the effort to compel the closing of other business places. Just as the National Reformers, in the beginning of their church and state movement, counted upon the eventual co-operation of corrupt politicians because of personal interest, so the Sabbath Association counted upon the corrupt influence of the saloon keepers to help out their Sunday scheme.

This plan of finally securing a State law by plastering the State with county and municipal ordinances began in the southern part of the State and has been working northward. The wave has reached Oakland, and every effort is being made to secure some kind of legal recognition of Sunday, be it ever so slight. To this end a great confederacy of religious and religio-political organizations has been formed into a circle for the suppression of the saloon, and for the suppression of Councilmen and everything else opposed to the religio-political scheme. The confederacy claims to represent about two dozen separate interests, but these numerous organizations are to a great extent a repetition of the same individuals. Simultaneous with this Oakland Sunday closing effort, ostensibly on temperance and humane grounds, we are having a resuscitation of the dormant Sunday associations which have never claimed any other purpose than the securing of general Sunday observance by every possible means, but especially by State law.

Every move in this Sunday closing scheme is in furtherance of one object, a general compulsory Sunday observance law. The disposition to compromise everything for the bare closing of saloons on Sunday shows the design to get something on the statute books. An opening wedge for religious legislation is wanted at any cost. With the light that has been thrown upon this proposition it is clear that it is a matter with which the City Council has nothing to do. It is not legitimately within the province of any civil legislative body in the United States. Such laws have once been decided unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of this State, and they are just as unconstitutional now as ever they were.

There is talk of submitting the innovation to a vote of the people. But the people have no right to vote compulsory Sabbath observances upon any one. It is not a matter for majorities to decide, it is solely a question of conscience. When the Council or the people once enter upon the assumed duty of voting religious obligation upon the community, the logical outcome is religious persecution. This must inevitably be the result of the enforcement of such laws. If the saloon is an evil, and there is no doubt that it is, if it is a nuisance, a menace to the peace and welfare of any portion of the community, the Council or the people may properly vote it out of existence altogether. But to sell men a license to carry on the nefarious business, and then ordain that they shall keep the Sabbath, is the height of municipal folly. It is not business, it is not Christianity, it is not common sense.

What Will They Do?

What will the dry goods men do when France's latest suggestion of ladies' dress goes into effect? The dress reformers of France advocate the wearing of tights for ladies as a street costume and modestly suggest that black and brown should first be worn until the custom becomes popular and then other colors could be introduced. The dry goods men seem quite concerned, as it would affect their business to the extent of lessening their sales of many millions of yards of dress goods every year. But what a saving to the men who pay for it. It is likewise in the patronage of the People's Express and Transfer Company. The saving of time and advantage in their promptness in all business matters, especially the checking of baggage at hotels or your home to all parts of the United States is a matter for deep consideration. Veterans Assemble and Close in Memorial Day.

An Enormous Throng Flocks to the Exercises.

Speeches by Senator Perkins, Dr. Coy and Dr. Chapman.

Decoration Day was brought to a close by memorial exercises last evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

The edifice was thronged, the greater part of the lower floor of the auditorium being reserved for Grand Army men, members of Woman's Relief Corps and Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The rostrum was beautifully decorated with flowers and national colors, among the floral features being a design sent in by Major J. E. McElrath, who was at one time a soldier in the Confederate army.

Major Woodward read a history of Memorial Day, showing that it had been suggested by a private soldier near Cincinnati, and that the idea had been taken up by General Logan and had thence spread all over the country.

Rev Dr Coyle read the address delivered by President Lincoln at Gettysburg, and prefaced it with a reference to the floral contribution of Major McElrath. He said that he thought the sentiment expressed with a tribute was the same as that which pervades the ranks of all the soldiers of this united country. The soldiers in the auditorium expressed their appreciation of this idea by a round of applause.

Senator G. C. Perkins then delivered a short and interesting address. He recalled what had been accomplished by the patriotism and sacrifice of the soldiers and said that one of the pleasantest duties that he had ever performed was to aid in getting Memorial Day placed upon the statutes of this State as a legal holiday.

"Eternal vigilance," he said "is the price of republican institutions. Look well to the school house, the citadel of the people's liberty. It is the inspiration of republican institutions next to our homes. Next to the holy Bible should be guarded those institutions.

"Both and our boys and girls will grow up to uphold the grand principles of liberty which you bequeath them. What is there higher than American citizenship? You owe it to the country to support the noble institutions of our country; its benevolent institutions and its churches. I would rather have one church in a community than 100 policemen. Many of you are getting old, the time will come when we will soon shed our tears upon and decorate your graves. Let the fires of liberty burn upon your altars and so long will we remain a free and united people."

J. H. Todd then rendered a fantasia on national airs, using his army bugle as the instrument, the accompaniment being played on the organ.

Rev E. S Chapman now spoke. He said there had been a great change in the personnel of the people who conduct these memorial services and there had also been a change in the character of the services themselves. "Somewhat more than fading flowers and columns must stand as a remembrance of these soldiers who preserved the country," he said. "Why do we honor the soldier? Was he more learned or cultured? Possibly not. It is because he vindicated principles. Self-sacrificing love is the great law of nature. The tree blossoms and bears fruit, the plant blossoms and its leaves fall to the earth to enrich the soil. The animal dies that men may live, and the soldier perished for his people. The way to live forever is to die for others."

"America" was then sung by the audience. Benediction was pronounced, "taps" was sounded on the bugle and the audience retired.

PRIME PROPERTY.

A Fine Sale to Be Held Saturday, June 8 h.

The season of sales of realty by auction has commenced with a great deal of earnestness and promises to be one of the most successful that this city has experienced.

One of the most promising of these sales is to take place Saturday, June 8 h, at 2 P M. It will be held on the grounds at the corner of Grove and Twenty-second streets.

The property to be disposed of comprises sixteen choice business lots on Grove street, from Twenty-second to Twenty-fourth streets, and also residence property on Twenty-second, Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets.

This property is situated in the center part of Oakland, near the intersection of San Pablo avenue and Grove street, within one block of Odd Fellows' Hall, the Gable house and St. Francis de Sales Church.

It will double in value in a short time. The title is perfect. The buildings and improvements on Grove street will be sold to the highest bidder and purchasers will be allowed six weeks in which to remove them. The terms will be one-half cash, payable on the delivery of the deed, the other half to be paid in one year at 8 per cent per annum.

For particulars apply to R. Franke, Oakland Pickle Works, 1632 Grove street, corner of Twenty-second street. The auctioneer will be T. H. B. Rosenberg.

The Largest Stock

The Girard Piano Co, Central Bank building corner Fourteenth and Broadway, have the largest stock of pianos to select from. They employ no agents who tramp from house to house and sell on commission, and ask from $50 to $100 more for a piano than it can be bought direct in a store. The celebrated Wheelock pianos used by over 400 of Oakland's musicians and they give the best of satisfaction. The Stuyvesant pianos for durability and good workmanship have no equal. Pianos sold on easy installments. New instruments rented and rent applied if purchased after six months. Before you buy call on the Girard Piano Co, corner Fourteenth and Broadway.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping, discomfort attending their use. Try them.

SAVES THE EYES. SAVES THE GAS
THE MOREY
INCANDESCENT GAS BURNER
It Has Revolutionized Gas Lighting!
Only Sixty Days on the Market and yet the Sale is Enormous.

No parts burn out. The mantels, screens, prisms, used in other burners, are not used in the Morey Burner at all, therefore no parts to repair. The Cheapest Burner used, giving the greatest amount of light for the smallest amount of gas consumed.

The secret of its scintillating brilliancy is perfect combustion, not one lota going to waste—every atom of gas being consumed.

No ghastly, greenish white light, but a natural, mellow, golden sunlight, soothing to the eyes and radiant with power.

The Morey Gas Burner is the best results of long years of study, discovery and invention, and is based solely upon scientific principles. THE HIGHEST POWER OF GAS LITS IN THE BURNER EMPLOYED. The secret of the Morey Burner is the combustion secured.

You may ask why does the Morey Burner give so much more light for the same amount of gas consumed. Our answer is this: gas when burning through an ordinary gas jet mixes quickly with the air and passes off not giving time for the light to take up from the air all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion therefore it passes off and is wasted. But in the Morey Burner it passes through a perforated circle of 76 small needle point perforations, and the current of air passing on all sides of the flame supplies other atoms for the light to take up all the oxygen necessary for the proper combustion, therefore no WASTE OF GAS, NO BLUE BLAST, all turned to light.

TESTIMONIALS.

SAN FRANCISCO April 1895.
Morey Incandescent Gas Burner Co—
GENTLEMEN We are more than pleased with the lamp we purchased from you and instead of using three burners which we formerly were compelled to do in our private office we now get a better light from the one which you furnish us.
As soon as we run up our offices will use them altogether in each of the departments.
Please have one of your representatives call on us about the 1st of May.
Yours truly
S. P. TAYLOR CO.

DEAR SIR I have been in business in this city for years during which time I have used every patent burner presented to the public. The Morey is the only burner that has ever come to my notice which will stand the test of time. In economy of gas, brilliancy of illumination and degree of light and similarity and durability of construction it is marvelous.
Yours truly

OFFICE OF THE
Assessor of Alameda County.

NOTICE TO TAX PAYERS.

OAKLAND, March 4 1895.

ALL PERSONS, FIRMS, COMPANIES, CORPORATIONS and associations are required to deliver at the Assessor's office at the Courthouse, City of Oakland, County of Alameda, immediately a statement under oath of all the property, both real and personal, owned or claimed by him, her or them, or in their possession or held in trust for them, at 12 o'clock meridian on the FIRST MONDAY OF MARCH 1895, in accordance with the New Constitution.

Refusal or neglect to make a sworn statement of all the property owned or held in trust will subject the person so refusing or neglecting to make such sworn statements to the full penalty of the law—one hundred dollars fine and guilty of a misdemeanor.

A person owning real estate that has heretofore been assessed in the wrong name on the Real Estate Assessment Book or who have purchased real estate within the last year, are requested to appear, with their deeds, at the Assessor's office and have the proper changes made for the year 1895. Immediate attention is necessary as work on the book has already been commenced.

Proper blanks may be obtained at the Assessor's office.

POLL TAX NOTICE.

OAKLAND, March 4 1895.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the State Poll Tax for two dollars for the year is now due and payable at my office, room 1, Courthouse, or to a Deputy Assessor. Sec 3829 of the Political Code reads as follows:

Every male inhabitant of this State twenty-one and under sixty years of age, except paupers, insane, persons and Indians taxed, must annually pay a Poll Tax of two dollars; provided, that the Assessor, between the first Monday in March and the third Monday in July, shall collect from any person liable to a Poll Tax, who may demand the same, a receipt therefor.

Sec 884 of the Political Code makes it the duty of the Assessor to demand Poll Tax of every person liable to pay the same, and refusal or neglect to pay the same must be reported by the Assessor in his assessment roll, and the Assessor and his sureties on his official bond are liable for the amount of such Poll Tax.

Sec 3843 of the Political Code provides that if any person liable to pay a Poll Tax shall refuse or neglect to pay the same, the Tax Collector must collect the same, and may seize any property belonging to such person, except the wearing apparel of himself and family, and sell the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary, at public auction, after giving five days' notice of the time and place of sale by posting notices in three public places in the township, city or county where the property is found, and the Tax Collector may add to the amount of the Poll Tax the cost of collection and fifty per cent thereof.

Sec 3844 of the Political Code provides that if any person liable to pay a Poll Tax shall leave the county without paying the same, the Tax Collector may collect the same at any time before the last Monday in August following the assessment.

HENRY P. DALTON,
Assessor of Alameda County.

NOTICE.

State and County Taxes for the Year 1894.

TO ALL TAX PAYERS IN THE COUNTY of Alameda, State of California:

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Tax Collector in and for the County of Alameda, State of California, has in his possession the duplicate assessment book of said county, and in accordance with the provisions of Section 3836 of the Political Code as amended by the Legislature of 1891, he will attend at his office in the Courthouse, in the city of Oakland, county of Alameda, State of California, every day (except Sundays and holidays) between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 3 o'clock P. M., commencing on the first Monday in October, A. D. 1894, and ending on the first Monday in November, A. D. 1894, for the purpose of receiving taxes levied for the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, A. D. 1894, upon all real property and improvements thereon and personal property assessed on the assessment roll of said county, and that all taxes on real property are a lien thereon from and after the first Monday in October, A. D. 1894, and that all taxes on personal property are a lien thereon from and after the last Monday in November, A. D. 1894, and that if said taxes upon said property, or any part thereof, are not paid before the last Monday in April, 1895, at two o'clock P. M. of that day an additional five per cent thereof will be added thereto for each of the respective items of delinquency.

And notice is further given that at the time of making the said assessment roll the Board of Supervisors of said county of Alameda, State of California, did levy a special tax of 50 cents on each $100 of taxable property in said county, and that the rate of taxation so levied is as follows, to wit:

[illegible] cents on each $100 of taxable property in said county, for the payment of the interest on the bonded debt of said county.

[illegible] cents on each $100 of taxable property in said county, for the payment of the principal of the bonded debt of said county.

[illegible] cents on each $100 of taxable property in said county, for the payment of the current expenses of said county.

[illegible] cents on each $100 of taxable property in said county, for the payment of the current expenses of the Fruitvale Wharf District.

[illegible] cents on each $100 of taxable property in said county, for the payment of the current expenses of the Alameda Wharf District.

[illegible] cents on each $100 of taxable property in said county, for the payment of the current expenses of the Oakland Wharf District.

[illegible] cents on each $100 of taxable property in said county, for the payment of the current expenses of the Brooklyn Wharf District.

A SOLID STAND.

Councilman J. M. Bassett Talks to the Point.

Logical Arguments About the Water Front.

His Reasons for Desiring the Case to Be Pressed.

Editor Tribune—Sir: The Examiner of yesterday morning in its Oakland correspondence makes me say several things in connection with the railroad's notification of the city's attorneys that it would petition the United States Supreme Court to reopen the suit of the State against the railroad company. As I have been in Red Bluff for the past two days and was not aware that the company had decided to petition the court until this morning it will be seen that the zeal of the Examiner's correspondent to misrepresent me, since this paper went over to the railroad, largely exceeds his regard for the truth.

I have said, and I now say, that the railroad company does not wish the case reopened unless it can prevent Oakland joining in the petition.

My reasons for reaching this conclusion are: Attorney General Fitzgerald has intimated his belief that the State's case was not properly brought. There are those who believe there was collusion between Hart, as Attorney General, and the railroad concerning this case. If this conclusion is based on fact the intention was that the water front contest, so far as the State is concerned, should be finally decided against the State.

I do not assert it for a fact that it was understood the State should lose its case, but the refusal of Attorney-General Fitzgerald to join the railroad in petition leaves one at liberty to draw that inference.

If there was collusion, the intervention of the city of Oakland defeated the intent aimed at by the conspirators and saved the State a chance for another day in court.

It was apparent at the outset that Hart was strenuously opposed to the proposition to have Oakland appear in the case even as an amicus curiæ, or friend of the court. His opposition to Oakland is explained by the action of the railroad now that it has frightened the Oakland attorneys off the field, in petitioning the court. If the court grants the petition, precisely the result aimed at when Oakland came in and defeated the scheme will be attained—the State will lose all.

If there was collusion between Hart, as Attorney-General, and the railroad company, it was not the intention of either party that Oakland should appear in the case. The plan of the railroad was to defeat the State and then use its power in the Oakland City Council to have all water front cases dismissed, as has been done several times in the past. The railroad always counts on its solid six in the City Council.

The reopening of the case for decision as between the State and the railroad, can in no way affect Oakland's claim or standing.

If the court should hold that the act of the Legislature transferring the water front in trust to the town of Oakland was and is valid, the issue narrows to a question of the legality or illegality of the Carpentier title.

That the Carpentier title is utterly and entirely void is demonstrated beyond the possibility of question in the brief filed by Oakland in the Hart case, and it is upon this fact that I have maintained that the city cannot be hurried but may be greatly benefited by having the court decide the case upon the evidence and argument already presented.

Our timid attorneys and "the solid six" in the Council seem to forget that, in the case of the Oakland Water Front Company vs. Dameron et al., the railroad put in its whole title and anything and everything that could be construed into support of that title, yet before the defendants had offered a particle of evidence the court ordered that it be adjudged and decreed that the plaintiff, the Oakland Water Front Company, which is the railroad company, take nothing, and that it be nonsuited.

My argument in support of asking the court to decide the case, as between Oakland and the railroad, on the argument and testimony now submitted, is based on the assumption that every particle of evidence offered by the railroad in support of its claim—and it was all the evidence it ever can offer—is as fully and irrefutably answered in the brief filed by Oakland's special counsel, as it ever can be. If in the future we, for the twentieth time, fight our case to the falling down point, we will never present it stronger than it is now presented. J. M. BASSETT.

Oakland, May 31, 1895.

THE CITY'S CASE.

A Discussion Is to Be Handed Down Soon.

Then the Board of Works' Deadlock Will All Be Settled.

The suit of Robert Hughes and W. N. Miller against John L. Davie, Arthur Wilcox and J. K. Piersol, to oust them as members of the Board of Public Works, has been submitted to the Superior Judges. The time for briefs is up on both sides, and all the arguments have been made on paper. It now remains for the four judges to give an opinion.

Judge Frick, in whose department the case is pending, says that he is anxious to take up the matter at an early day and render an opinion. Before any action is taken, however, he will have to consult his brother judges, because they are as deeply interested in the decision as Judge Frick, having been called in to hear the arguments. It is not an easy matter to get the four Superior Judges together, for the reason that they are busy with the business of their departments. It will be arranged, however, so that a consultation will be held before vacation, when the judges will discuss the many law points brought up in the briefs on both sides.

The judges intend to be very careful in giving an opinion, because it is almost certain that the defeated side will take the case to the Supreme Court.

The plaintiffs in the case are just as anxious for a decision as the defendants. It is desired all around to have the matter settled as soon as possible. The present Board of Public Works does not want to make any changes in the various departments while the case is pending in court. Under the law the judges have ninety days in which to render an opinion after the case is submitted. In the present suit, however, the judges will not take the limit. There is a disposition among them to give a decision at an early day.

LONG DEFERRED.

The Twenty-third Avenue Liquor Licenses to Come Up

The question of granting liquor licenses to saloon-keepers in the Twenty-third avenue district will be under consideration by the License Committee of the Council this evening. There has been a rather prolonged fight on the proposition since seven of the saloon-keepers combined recently in an application for the issuance of licenses to them. As soon as the fact was made known that the fight for licenses had been renewed, a number of residents in the district reopened the fight of several years ago. Since the applications were placed in the hands of the committee, there have been several postponements of the matter. Tonight the License Committee will be in session, and an effort will be made to dispose of the matter.

THE CALEDONIANS.

A Merry Time at the Annual Picnic.

Shell Mound Park was thronged with people yesterday, the occasion being the annual picnic of the Caledonia Club. The greatest interest was centered in the games, which were in progress all day. It was dark before the picknickers closed the festivities of the day. The picnic was one of the most successful held in years.

Young Men's Institute Picnic.

The tickets of admission, including round trip fare, to the joint picnic of Oakland councils of the Young Men's Institute at San Lorenzo on June 6th, will be 50 cents, instead of $1 50, as was at first stated.

PATRIOTIC.

Oakland to Have a Big Time on the Fourth.

The Merchants' Exchange Doing Good Work.

All Classes Must Unite to Make the Day a Success.

Oakland proposes to have a Fourth of July celebration this year that will far outdo anything that has occurred here before. Great enthusiasm has already been aroused among the merchants of the city and they intend to stir up such a feeling of patriotic pride that the entire community will turn out to share in the success of the holiday.

The movement for a big celebration of the 4th has already assumed much larger proportions than ever before. The feature of the preliminary work will be an effort to prepare such a demonstration as will induce the thousands who usually leave Alameda county to go across the bay will be glad to remain here and join with Oakland in gay celebration. It looks now as if the Merchants' Exchange had touched the right chord and will develop throughout the city and county such an enthusiasm as is felt among its members.

The Fourth of July Committee of the exchange is holding meetings daily, and lively sessions they are. The exchange will ask every one to co-operate with it in this project. Its leading members are brimful of the possibilities. Here is what a few of them say:

Theodore Gier—The enthusiasm expressed for our celebration is unexampled in the history of Oakland. There is not a man, woman or child who is not talking about it, and everybody is interested. Oakland is on the eve of a big boom, which will place it at once on a par with the great cities of the West, and this Fourth of July celebration is one of the features which will go far toward assisting and pushing that boom.

George W. Arper—The Fourth of July, 1895, will go down in history as the grandest day ever celebrated on the Pacific coast. It will mark a new era in our progress. Since that Fabiola fete the people have awakened to what they can do, and hereafter there will be no diminishment in their ardor and enthusiasm. It is about time that we stopped going to San Francisco to celebrate these natal days. Oakland can get up as fine an event as any city in the land, and that of this year will be but the commencement.

George E. Fairchild: "I never saw such an unanimous awakening of the public interest. There is not a man in Oakland who has not viewed the project as one worthy of the very highest efforts to make it a glorious success. It is the most popular movement ever inaugurated on the coast, and one which will long be remembered as the natal day of Oakland.

"I am most happy to see such a general betokening of interest in the welfare of our city. The time has come for us to shake off the old feeling of narrowness and prejudice, and I think that it is right here. The merchants are united, and so are all of the Oakland people, and I think that when the sun goes down on the Fourth of July, it will mark the closing of an event which has eclipsed the celebrations of the whole country."

The Board of Trade is in line. "This celebration is a grand idea," said President M. J. Keller. "It is not hard to get up a celebration in Oakland, provided that you get the right men at the head of it. The people here are always willing to turn out and follow an aggregation of good leaders, and I never saw a more powerful array of names than those who have charge of this event. The Board of Trade got up a celebration here seven years ago, which was one of Oakland's greatest days. The total expenses of that affair were only $1500, and there were 20,000 people brought in from surrounding towns. Special trains carrying people for half fare were brought from San Jose, Santa Rosa and other places, and every one of them was loaded."

The general committee as chosen at last night's meeting is as follows:

Hon. John L. Davie, D. C. Brown, George L. Fish, F. Sinclair, P. M. Fisher, J. W. Nelson, G. E. Daniels, J. J. White, Theo. Gier, George W. Arper, Webb N. Pierce, Major E. A. Sherman, W. V. Witcher, Dr. J. L. Mayon, J. J. Allen, George F. Necco, M. Jonas, H. O. Trowbridge, George E. Fairchild, Dr. J. P. Dunn, S. Samuels, A. Sallinger, F. C. Howe, Alameda; F. L. Girard, William Winnie, C. S. Neal, Alameda; D. W. Martin, Alameda; Gove L. Roberts, San Lorenzo; A. H. Rout, Albert Kayser, president, O. T. V.; Ralph W. Kinney, Berkeley; J. W. Phillips, W. R. Davis, J. W. Laymance, W. Frank Pierce, J. L. Lyon, C. Root, R. Crist, C. H. Hawbaker, G. W. Fisher, H. C. Coward, Daniel Crowley, Herman Gard, P. J. Keller, Piedmont; W. J. Landers, San Leandro; L. E. Osgood, Irvington; C. E. Ford, Niles; Charles Long, Haywards; J. W. Evans, Henry W. Taylor, Berkeley; Mrs. Henry Wetherbee, Mrs. Charles Webb Howard, Mrs. William J. Dingee, Mrs. E. C. Borland, Mrs. Dr. A. Fine.

Five more ladies will be selected and placed on the committee.

G. B. Daniel, G. W. Arper, P. M. Fisher, Dr. J. L. Mayon and F. Sinclair were appointed a committee to formulate a programme for the day and submit it to the General Committee for consideration.

The following committees will be appointed by the chairman at the next meeting: Finance, seven members; Parade, five members; Entertainment, seven members; Illuminations and Fireworks, five members; Decoration, seven members; Transportation, three members; Advertising, five members; Literary Exercises, five members. The Programme Committee was instructed to prepare exercises to fill the entire day from the firing of anvils in the early morning until after the fireworks in the evening.

TOO MUCH NOISE.

An Hotel Man Complains of the Salvation Army.

J. L. Ludaman, proprietor of Winter's Hotel at Fifteenth street and Broadway, has made a complaint to the Chief of Police that the Salvation Army is disturbing the slumbers of his lodgers, who are mainly workingmen, by the noise from the army's big tent on the lot adjoining the hotel on Broadway. Ludaman says his patrons complain that the sinfully devotional and soul saving exercises of the army with brass band accompaniment are distasteful to his sleeping lodgers, who retire at a early hour.

A PROFESSOR'S WORDS.

Some of the "Seasonable Habits" of People Criticized.

DO YOU HAVE THEM?

Certain Hints That Cannot Fail to Be of Great Value to Intelligent Readers.

(Herald.)

I overheard a remark made by a prominent professor at the Club the other evening, which greatly impressed me. He said in substance:

"Why do people try to tone up their systems 'purify the blood' at this season of the year. Is it not largely habit? The blood undergoes changes every day of the life, and if people could only see that by keeping the head clear, the liver vigorous and the kidneys active, their blood would, of course, be pure all the time, they would save much care and annoyance."

"You evidently do not believe in Spring blood purifiers, doctor," I ventured to ask.

"Certainly not. Keep the body in the condition I have described and no man or woman will need any purifier. I have seen a great deal of life and understand the needs of people, and I don't hesitate to state to you that if overworked men, weak women and even puny children would keep the kidneys and liver healthy, they would not be sick or need any blood purifiers. I will go farther and state that the use of that greatest of modern discoveries, Warner's Safe Cure, will do this in every case and at all seasons, and hence prevent all the Spring annoyances of which we hear so much."

I think the doctor is right. I certainly know from my own experience that the headaches, drowsiness and run down condition which I have too often attributed to my blood, arose from no other cause than that my liver or kidneys were out of order. I am pleased to say, however, I have not experienced any trouble of this kind for a number of years to come, so long as I understand what I do now and realize that there is so great a remedy within my reach.

HIS WARRANT WITHHELD.

City Wharfinger Rutherford and the Mayor.

The salary warrant of City Wharfinger C. B. Rutherford has been withheld by Auditor Snow in compliance with an order to that effect from Mayor Davie, who claims that Rutherford was illegally appointed by the City Council. The Mayor holds that the appointing power rests in the Board of Public Works. Rutherford will have to sue to recover the warrant, and a decision would, in that event, involve the Mayor's contention.

SCHAFER RETIRES.

A New Secretary for the Board of Health.

E. W. Thurman, the new secretary of the Board of Health, will assume the duties of his office tomorrow. Paul J. Schafer, the retiring secretary, has held the place for five years. He leaves with the best wishes of a host of friends he has made during his incumbency through the uniform courtesy and fair treatment all have received at his hands.

PASSED AWAY.

Death of Mrs. Philena S. Church This Morning.

Mrs. Philena S. Church, aged 81 years, died this morning at her home, 1015 Chestnut street. Mrs. Church was the mother of the late A. S. Church, who was drowned at Alviso while hunting some years ago. His widow and daughter reside at 1102 Adeline street. They are relatives of the family of George W. McNear.

Pawned Typewriters.

Ralph Lowenberg was the name given by a rather respectable appearing young man who was in the Police Court this morning on a charge of petty larceny. The police believe the prisoner has tried to conceal his identity under a fictitious name. He is charged with the theft of three typewriters from the Pacific Press Publishing Company. He had rented the machines, and subsequently pawned them in San Francisco. Sergeant Hodgkins located Lowenberg across the bay and brought him here.

A Sunday School Picnic.

The First Free Baptist Sunday school will hold a picnic at Dimond canyon tomorrow. The members will be joined by the Sunday school from the Union Square Free Baptist Church of San Francisco. They will take the Haywards' cars at 9:30 A. M. at Washington and Thirteenth streets and transfer to the Highland Park road at Fourteenth avenue.

Burglars at Work.

Louis Seip's residence at 1568 Thirteenth avenue was entered by burglars yesterday afternoon, who stole some clothing and jewelry. The police were notified.

Street Work.

The Street Committee of the Council will meet this evening.

Max Franck, the zither soloist, will play at Sherman & Clay's music store on Saturday evening.

HOPE IS DYING.

No More Survivors Have Been Heard From.

Official Advices at Washington of the Disaster.

It Is Stated That One Hundred and Seventy Are Drowned.

Half a Million of American Treasure is at the Mercy of Pirates.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—The State Department officials are doing all in their power to relieve the American survivors of the steamer Colima.

The first official news of the disaster came to Assistant Secretary Rockhill from United States Consul De Cima at Mazatlan.

He reported 170 lives lost, and that the ship had on board "half a million in American interests," supposedly referring to goods belonging to American shippers.

He asked whether he should proceed to the scene of the wreck.

Rockhill instructed him to do so at once, and if he could render any assistance to report to the department.

A message was also sent to United States Consul Bartlett at Acapulco to learn whether he could be of any assistance, and instructing him to cooperate with the Consul at Mazatlan.

The coast near Manzanillo where the Colima is stranded is wild, and thieves are likely to loot the ship unless steps are taken to guard her.

HARD TO GET REPORTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Little hope is now entertained for the safety of the missing passengers of the Colima.

No new details were received this morning by the Pacific Mail Company.

Mrs. C. H. Cushing received a telegram from her son, picked up by the San Juan, dated Mazatlan, saying he is returning on the San Juan.

The officials of the steamship company still say they have not given up hope for the missing passengers, but everyone else has.

WORD FROM CHAS. CUSHING.

He Sends a Dispatch From Manzanillo.

The relatives of the Cushing brothers, who live at 870 Adeline street, are patiently waiting for news of the wreck. Last evening the family received the following dispatch from Charles H. Cushing Jr., who was a passenger on the Colima:

"Am here. Return on San Juan."

The dispatch was sent from Manzanillo.

"This is all we have heard from our brothers," said Miss Cushing this afternoon. "We have not heard one word from George, who was also on the steamer."

COLLIDED IN A FOG.

Two Big Steamers Meet on Lake Michigan.

ALPENA, Mich., May 31.—During a heavy fog last night the Canadian steamer Jack, a flat-boat bound down with lumber, collided with the steel steamer Norman of Menominee, opposite the middle of the island.

The Norman sank immediately. The cook, wheelsman and fireman were drowned.

The barge Siscken picked up the rest of the crew.

The Norman was valued at $200,000, and insured for $175,000.

The Jack is badly damaged.

Tugs have gone to bring her in.

SMOKED A CIGAR.

A Murderer Shows Great Nerve on the Scaffold.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., May 31.—Douglas Henderson and Frank Jeffrey were hanged here this morning for the murder of James Towle at Cartersville last winter.

Henderson walked to the gallows smoking a cigar. He said: "Gentlemen—I am here to tell you good-bye. I hope I will meet you in heaven. I want to warn you to all keep out of bad company."

Jeffrey showed signs of nervousness. He said: "I am going to die for a crime I never committed."

NOT GUILTY.

Louis Matheny's Case Settled at Last.

The Jury Quickly Brought in a Verdict.

A Successful Fight for Life and Liberty Is Ended.

The case of Louis Matheny, accused of burglarizing Kuhole's saloon at West Oakland, was submitted to the jury at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Deputy District Attorney Church made the opening argument to the jury. Attorney Cook declined to make any argument, and this shut Church out of making the closing argument which he had prepared.

THE VERDICT.

At 3:15 the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

The jury was out forty minutes.

Awkward Complications Over Chicago's Road Race.

CHICAGO, Ills., May 31.—There is a possibility that it may be necessary to run the Chicago road race over.

The winner of the second prize for the fastest time, Fred J. Rea, was disqualified today. He admitted he did not ride over the whole course.

The scratch men, DeCardy and Bainbridge, make affidavit that they saw Emerson, the time winner, sitting near a sidewalk in Evanston and he declared he was out of the race.

They also declare that sixty riders who finished ahead of them were passed in Evanston.

THE OAKS.

Sir James Miller's La Sagesse Wins the Prize.

EPSOM DOWNS, May 31.—Sir James Miller's bay filly La Sagesse won the Oaks today.

Galeotia was second, Penkridge third and Garter Queen fourth.

The betting was 5 to 1 against La Sagesse.

Galeotia led until the inside distance, where La Sagesse challenged her and won by a length and a half.

The same distance separated the second and third horses.

MAY BE A MURDER.

Tragic Developments in the Belden Case.

LOS ANGELES, May 31.—W. B. Button has been arrested for the murder of H. W. Belden, the electric road conductor found dead with a revolver in each hand, a bullet hole through his head and a shot through the heart.

The police say the wounds could not have been self-inflicted.

Button was jealous of Belden, who was attentive to Button's wife.

FOR REFORM.

A Municipal League Convention in Progress.

San Francisco and Local Phases Talked of.

Suggestions for Good Government Are Being Given.

CLEVELAND, O., May 31.—At the session of the National Municipal League today, Charles Richardson, first president, read a paper on "Municipal Government by National Parties."

E. L. Graves of Seattle, Wash., made an address.

Secretary Clinton Rogers Woodruff read a paper on the "Municipal Condition of Portland, Oregon," by Thomas N. Strong, third vice president of the League, who was unable to be present.

Isaac T. Milliken spoke on the "Municipal Condition of San Francisco."

Mr. Milliken began with the consolidation in 1856 of the city and a portion of what had been the county, into the present city of San Francisco, which was extemporaneous with the final acts of the old Vigilance Committee, the historical doings of which and the spirit imbuing it, he added, left more than a transient mark.

Coming down to local reform movements, he named the various reform and civic associations whose efforts have been bent toward bringing about good government.

Another step in this direction, he continued, has been the passage, by the recent session of the Legislature, of several bills in the interest of pure elections.

One of these relates to primary elections, which Mr. Milliken asserts, "have become so farcical, as to be shunned by the better class of voters in both the old parties."

Great hopes are entertained that the better element will make itself felt under the new rule.

There is much to be said in praise of San Francisco, though it is not in all respects an ideal city. It is a long time since the Vigilance Committee. But there is no city in the Union with a quarter of a million people (excepting Cleveland) which would not be the better for a little judicious hanging.

"The difficulties to be met," he said, "are in general similar to those of other cosmopolitan cities. New York furnishes lodgers and voters for Long Island, Staten Island and the choice residence parties of New Jersey. San Francisco does the same for Alameda, Marin and San Mateo counties. But recent developments show that when the best elements of New York are united in municipal reform they can control.

"In common with our sister cities, we must reach a condition under which citizens may accept and even aspire to public office and not debase themselves by venal pledges and agreements in advance. Public and semi-public corporations must learn and are beginning to realize that bribery, subsidy and deceit cost more in the long run than will frank dealing with their patrons. In bringing about all those needed improvements, the National Municipal League cannot fail to prove a leading factor."

WHAT CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR DOES.

J. W. Baer of Boston then spoke on "The Work of Christian Endeavor Societies in Behalf of Christian Citizens."

Mr. Baer began his address by quoting from the address made by Francis E. Clark, president of the Christian Endeavor Society, at the conventions held in Montreal in July, 1893, and in Cleveland last July, and in the Christian Endeavor campaign for Christian citizenship.

He then exhaustively discussed the work of the various subordinate unions of the society in different cities throughout the country. In this connection he said:

"I find, in going over the reports that have come to me from almost every large city in the land, that there is a great similarity in the work accomplished and the methods employed.

"Citizenship clubs have been organized and the various departments of education, temperance, literature, relief, arousing public sentiment, expressing public sentiment in petitions and meetings, putting forward good men and measures and defeating bad ones in the primaries, at the polls and in the Councils of city and State, enforcing laws already gained, strengthening the hands of honest officials and exposing corruption, have all been emphasized and brought to the attention of thousands and thousands of readers. The result has been good, but what has been done gives good promise of better plans and work in the future."

FROM EXPERT VIEWS.

John Billings then spoke on "Good City Government From the Standpoint of the Physician and Sanitarian."

"From the point of view of the physician," began Dr. Billings, "the best city government is that which best preserves the health of the people, best cares for the sick and injured who require municipal aid and gives most opportunities for the increase and diffusion of medical knowledge, which at the same time interferes least with the freedom of individuals in general to use their time, their knowledge and their property in their own way and for their own benefit. The sanitarian also considers that the best city government is that which preserves the health of the people, but with the provision that it be done at a reasonable cost."

Discussing the means of securing a perfect health system, Dr. Billings said:

"No system will prove satisfactory which prevents the chiefs of the Health and Engineering Departments from presenting their plans and estimates directly to the Mayor for street cleaning, and the city should own the plant and employ its own men under the direction of the Engineering Department."

Dr. Billings outlined the methods by which the various desiderata mentioned by him should be provided for by a city government. Proceeding, he said:

"I believe that the statements of the present evils of a city life are remedial and that science is competent to answer the problems connected with this.

"But science is a matter of fact, of quantities, of measurement—it must have data to work with, and the first thing needed for most of our cities is to obtain these data.

"I am much inclined to believe that the wisest thing a city could do would be to have its health and engineering departments inspected by a committee composed of an expert statistician, a skilled sanitarian and an experienced municipal engineer from elsewhere for the purpose, who should take from one to six months to do their work and then report the results, with their recommendations.

"The citizens would then know what of these parts of the municipal machinery are in good order and what are not.

"Each city presents its own peculiar problems, but, in many cases, these problems can be better solved by experts called from other cities than by those likely to be selected from the citizens of the place itself."

FURIOUS FLAMES

Mrs. Hayward's Residence Now in Ashes.

A Mysterious Blaze Started Up at Midnight.

About $4000 Worth of Property Goes Up in Smoke.

There was a mysterious fire early this morning which completely destroyed the residence of Mrs. Hayward on Grove street, between Forty-second and Forty-third streets.

The locality is six or seven blocks beyond the city limits, but the reflection in the northern sky of the red flames was so great that there was a general turnout at the Fire Department headquarters on Fifteenth street in expectancy of a call.

The fire started shortly before midnight and made very rapid headway. A high wind was blowing and this assisted the flames in spreading through the dwelling with great rapidity.

The peculiar feature connected with the fire is the fact that the members of the family were absent. Mrs. Hayward, who owned the burned dwelling, was in San Pablo last night and her daughter, Miss Hayward, was in San Francisco.

The neighbors were unable to give any idea of the cause of the fire. It was well under headway when discovered and burned so fiercely that nothing could be saved from the burning dwelling.

The residence was a large two-story structure. It stood on a capacious lot and the nearest house to it was about 100 feet away. This accounted for the fact that the fire did not spread. The high wind which blew during the night was dangerous, and had the dwelling been less isolated there would have been much greater loss.

The fire aroused the entire neighborhood and there was a great deal of anxiety expressed at one time, as the damage from a spread of the flames was very imminent.

The loss will be in the neighborhood of $4000.

HE COULD NOT SWIM.

One of the T. C. Walker's Crew Is Drowned.

STOCKTON, Cal., May 31.—William Olsen, assistant engineer of the T. C. Walker, was drowned in the Stockton Channel this morning.

He was repairing the stern wheel and either slipped or was attacked with dizziness and fell into the water.

He could not swim. His body was found shortly after noon.

Olsen had been employed on the river boats plying between this city and San Francisco for many years.

Against a Strike.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 31.—The National Bituminous Miners' Organization has decided against a general strike and has declared a 60 per cent rate in force in the Pittsburg district and the West Virginia basis for settlement in the other districts. A joint meeting of miner's delegates and mine owners will now be called to settle the Ohio, Indiana and Illinois rates.

The Atchison Bonds.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Deposits of $67,000,000 Atchison general 4's have been made with the Joint Re-organization Committee, being $2,000,000 more than the majority. A meeting of the Joint Executive Committee will be held this afternoon to declare the Atchison plan effective.

Warburton Is Consul General.

LONDON, May 31.—J. W. Warburton has been gazetted Consul General of Great Britain at San Francisco.

VERY TRICKY.

But Tom Hickey Was Not Quite Smart Enough.

One of the Jail-Breakers Landed in Nevada.

He Endeavored to Cast His Identity on a Dead Tramp.

Sheriff White received a telegram from Reno, Nev., this morning informing him that Thomas Hickey, the notorious member of the Salvation Army, who, with three other prisoners, escaped from the County Jail a few days ago, had been captured. The Sheriff was requested to send a deputy to Reno at once to bring the prisoner back to this city. Chief Jailer Al. White will leave for Nevada on the evening train with the necessary papers for Hickey's return.

Hickey was caught in a very peculiar manner. He was riding on a freight train with a tramp, when the latter lost his balance and fell beneath the wheels. The poor fellow was literally ground to pieces so that he could not be recognized.

Hickey thought that he would play a shrewd game and divert attention from him. He went to the officials and informed them that the man who was killed was Thomas Hickey, the prisoner who escaped from the County Jail in Oakland. Just as soon as he gave this information the officers became suspicious and turned their attention to the man who seemed to know so much about Hickey. They watched him for a few hours and then became satisfied that he was the original Hickey. The fellow was sent to prison, and then a photograph was secured and all doubt as to the prisoner's identity was cast aside, just as soon as his identity was made certain a dispatch was sent to Sheriff White. The latter is particularly pleased to get Hickey, as he is the man who planned the escape from the jail. As trusty of the corridor, he had every opportunity to prepare for the jail break.

The Sheriff also received word today that Dempsey and Dunton had been shot at near Rosedale, north of Sacramento. A Constable started to arrest them and they made for the woods. The officer fired at the fugitives and he believes that he shot Dunton in the leg. The escapes made for the woods and managed to get away. They are now supposed to be in the vicinity of the town. The Sheriff has sent out a number of telegrams, asking the various officers to keep a sharp lookout for the men.

HERE TONIGHT.

The Hawaiian Band Will Give a Fine Concert.

Native Melodies and Selected Standard Music.

King Kalakaua's Celebrated Orchestra to Hold Forth.

One of the best military bands in the world will be in Oakland this evening, for at the First Congregational Church the famous Hawaiian Band will give a grand concert. This orchestra ranks very high in musical circles, for it has been brought to a superb standard of excellence, and has won international fame through its magnificent entertainments at the Islands.

There are forty skilled musicians in the orchestra, and they are the pick of the talent of Hawaii. They render, with full brass accompaniments, the best operatic music, and play with a precision and tone that ranks them above even the Scheel and Souza bands.

But this is not all their accomplishments. Interspersed with the standard selections are the Hawaiian songs, melodies and marches, and these are rendered vocally as well as instrumentally. Taropatches are used for accompaniment for the native airs, and the effect of the forty islanders singing the sweet refrains of their coral-girt homes is indescribably charming.

The programme is the best that possibly could have been selected. The famous farewell "Aloha oe" will be sung, and those who have ever heard the plaintive Hawaiian music will be glad to hear it again. Then there will be the world-renowned Royal Hawaiian March, which was invariably played in the days of the royal regime. In the palace yards it was customary for King Kalakaua to give grand concerts on the occasion of any noted visitors, and thus it was that the band first won fame.

At the Midwinter Fair an orchestra bearing the title of the Hawaiian Band played for a short time, but it was not the original band, as this is the first time it has been in America since the death of King Kalakaua. On that occasion it was sent over to escort his remains back to the islands, and those who witnessed the impressive ceremonies when the funeral left the Market street ferry for Honolulu will recall the impressive and touching music that the Hawaiians played as the casket was carried to the ship.

The island songs have a charm that is attached to no other nation. There is a dreamy swing and a sonorous melody in the intonation that with trained voices is inexpressibly beautiful. Those who have heard the music once will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity this evening to participate in it again, and to those to whom the Hawaiian music is something new there will be a novel and interesting entertainment well worth attending.

A big demand for tickets ensures a splendid house, and as the price of admission has been placed at a uniform rate of 50 cents, all should attend. The Hawaiians will arrive from San Francisco on the 7 o'clock boat, and on reaching Broadway at 7:30, will form in parade and march to the church.

This is the first and last and therefore the only opportunity to hear the band play here previous to its departure for the islands.

All Oakland Is Interested in Stamp Sales.

It Means Needed Increases in the Service.

Postmaster White Tells Why He Cannot Get More Carriers.

Postmaster J. J. White is seeking, through all the means in his power to increase the efficiency of the Postoffice service in this city. He has, however, found himself rather seriously handicapped through the failure of many Oaklanders to fully appreciate the conditions that obtain in that department of the government with especial relation to local surroundings.

During the past year Postmaster White has brought the office up to as excellent a standard for service as could be possible under the conditions. Many improvements have been effected. The facilities for better service have been increased. In brief, he has kept right at the helm and at every possible opportunity has made a stroke for the Oak and Postoffice.

Notwithstanding this the people of this city have contributed to cause a difficulty in securing still greater facilities by their failure to realize that to get them they must assist the Postmaster.

The local postoffice, like every office in the country, is regulated by the Postoffice Department, so far as service and equipment is concerned, upon its receipts, as compared with its expenses. For example, Postmaster White has made three requests for an increase in carriers during the year that he has been in charge. Each time the request was denied. The refusal to grant the increase was based upon the fact that the receipts did not justify the increase in operating expenses.

WHAT THE FIGURES SHOW.

Last year the receipts of the local office were $90,000. The cost of maintaining the office was 57 per cent of that amount. This includes only the cost of operating the office itself. Rent, salaries of carriers, clerks, materials, etc., merely the running expenses of the office.

WHAT MR. WHITE SAYS.

Postmaster White wants at least five additional carriers. He says that number would serve very well in covering the city as he would like to. In order to secure them he believes the receipts of the office should be increased at least one-third. It has been estimated that San Francisco derives at least that amount of the revenue from stamp sales that properly belong to Oakland.

"The figures almost speak for themselves," said Postmaster White today, when discussing the question of better service. "The branch station D, at the foot of Market street, sold $142,000 worth of stamps, envelopes, etc., last year to our $60,000. Where did that great difference come? Why, I am satisfied that fully one-third of that revenue should come to Oakland.

"Our people forget sometimes when they demand better service that they are not contributing their share toward securing it. They must remember the basis upon which carriers and clerks are granted an office. Now if I could only convince the people that they should purchase their stamps in Oakland, it would accomplish a great deal.

"If they would not drop in at the ferry landing station, but buy at home where they are and want to have the benefit of a service, the receipts would soon be increased to a point where the Government would recognize our request.

There are several reasons why the cost of maintaining the Oakland office is greater in proportion than any one of its class in the United States. The geographical conditions are such, and the population is scattered over so wide a territory, that the city embraces a very large territory to be covered. The Government expects a carrier to serve a certain number of thousands of people. Now, where houses are a block apart, it is very difficult, even impossible to reach the standard set within the small force at our command. There is a large territory in the northern portion of the city, where dwell some of the wealthiest people here. We are unable to give them any service and they are obliged to come to the Postoffice for their mail.

"It seems to be all the more necessary now that our people should see this matter, as we have just received certain orders that will cause a flat reduction in our income of $6000 a year. This is from the sale of special request envelopes to residents outside of Oakland. These special request envelopes are printed by the Government to order with the name and address of the business firm ordering them. From San Francisco we have been receiving orders to the amount of $400 to $600 a month, but the department has ordered the sale shut off except to persons who are residents of the place whence the order is given. These instructions came last month, and caused the falling off of a trade that has been done for eight or ten years past.

"The revenue of the office has fallen behind somewhat during the past year, for several reasons. One of the principal causes is the dull times. There was a slight increase, however, for the quarter ending December 31st over the corresponding period of 1893. But the chief difficulty is in the failure of the people to buy at home, and thus cooperate with the Postmaster on the lines I have mentioned.

"One often hears a person say: 'What difference does it make where I buy stamps?' The Government gets it all any way.' I think, however, that with an understanding of the conditions as they exist, our Oakland people who are anxious for better mail service and increased facilities in all departments o the local Postoffice will come to the conclusion that every dollar they turn into the Oakland postoffice will be a step in the direction of improvement."

Postmaster White has labored hard during his term of office to give the city a first-class service. His remarks on the situation are apt and thrown much light on a subject that appears not to be fully understood. It is undoubtedly to the interest of the city to heed his words in the matter.

BIMETALLISM.

It Will Be the Republican Cry Next Campaign.

A Vigorous Foreign Policy for the Platform.

Chairman Carter of the National Body Speaks Out.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Thomas H. Carter, chairman of the Republican National Committee, in a public statement, says:

"In 1896, the Republican party will stand for protection and restoration of bi-metallism on a substantial and enduring basis.

"There may be differences of opinion on the schedules, but not upon the principles of protection.

"There will be differences of opinion as to the best course to pursue to secure free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at a fixed ratio, but there will be no difference of opinion as to the desirability of bringing about the result.

"Upon one question there will be neither a difference of opinion, as to the general principal involved, nor the means to be employed.

"That is with reference to the restoration of a vigorous foreign policy."

RACKET AND BALL.

All Is Played Now but the Semi-Finals.

It Now Pretty Well Assured That Byxbee Will Win.

The game of tennis was revived in Oakland yesterday, when the Lakeside courts were opened with a handicap tournament. Some of the well-known local players came to the front again. Sam Hardy, the coast champion, was beaten by Selby, as the former was heavily handicapped. The score for the day and handicaps are as follows:

Preliminary round—Alexander (owe 15)-Magee (15), won by Magee, 6—1, 3—6, 6—4; Gage (half 30)-McFarlin (15), defaulted; Sharon (15)-Everett (scratch), won by Everett, 6—2, 6—2; Hatch (scratch)-R. Chickering (15), won by Hatch by default; Jacobs defaulted to Smith; Bowen to Selby; Kaeser to Baker; Hardy (owe 30)-English (owe 30), won by Hardy, 6—2, 6—2; Travers defaulted to Frost; Chickering (owe 15)-Kerr (half 30), won by Chickering, 6—4, 6—3; Brown defaulted to Hussey; Aimes defaulted to Spencer; Baldwin (scratch)-Anthony (half 30), won by Baldwin, 6—3, 6—2; Manvais defaulted to Fine; O'Brien to Byxbee.

Second round—Magee won by default of Gage and McFarlin in the preliminaries; Everett-Hatch, won by Hatch, 6—0, 6—4; Smith-Selby, won by Selby, 6—2, 6—0; Kaeser-Hardy, won by Hardy, 7—5, 8—6; Frost won by default of McEnne and Pierce in the preliminaries; Hussey defaulted to Chickering; Spencer-Baldwin, won by Baldwin, 4—6, 6—1, 6—2; Fine-Byxbie, won by Byxbee, 6—4, 8—6.

Third round—Magee-Hatch, won by Hatch, 6—3, 10—8; Selby-Hardy, won by Selby, 6—2, 6—2; Frost-Chickering, won by Frost, 6—1, 6—1.

The last match of the third round was played off this morning. Lloyd Baldwin and Howard Byxbee were the contestants. It was the hardest fought match of the tournament and was won by Byxbee, score 6—4, 6—8, 7—5. This brings the contest down to the semi-finals, between Hatch, Selby, Frost and Baldwin. These and the finals will be played off some day next week. Now that Hardy is out of the race, Byxbee is expected to win.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

M. W. Biterry Falls From an Electric Car.

M. W. Biterry, who resides at 550 Forty-sixth street, had a narrow escape from being killed late last night. He was a passenger on the Telegraph avenue electric car and while attempting to alight at the corner of Sixth and Broadway he missed his footing and was thrown on his head. The wheels of the car just missed his body. Biterry received a deep scalp wound and was rendered unconscious by the fall. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

A CHOKED SEWER.

Trouble at the New Lafayette School Building.

The sanitary conditions at the new Lafayette school, on West and Seventeenth streets, are reported to be so bad that the school will have to be closed tomorrow unless immediate repairs are made. The sewer which connects with the buildings is reported to be choked and it has left the school in a bad state. Department Mechanic Carlin has been notified and Mayor Davie has ordered that the necessary repairs be made as quickly as possible.

Died From Heart Disease.

A NEW DEAL.

Reliance Men Want to Clear Up Their Debts.

Subscriptions Are Handed in by the Members.

About $8000 of Old Bills to Be Put On of the Way.

The members of the Reliance Athletic Club held a meeting Wednesday night the purpose of discussing the financial condition of the club. The meeting was called at the instance of the directors who desired to discuss matters with the members.

The gathering was the most important held at the clubrooms for a long time. President Fitzgerald made an address to the members and explained to them in detail just how the finances stand.

It was stated that the club is about $8,000 in debt. The creditors are all willing to do the square thing and assist the club in every way. The directors held a meeting with the creditors and the whole situation was explained. The creditors finally made the proposition that they would settle their claims for 60 cents on the dollar providing a settlement can be made within sixty days. It is not to be understood, however, that the club is bankrupt by any means. The assets of the organization will far exceed the liabilities. It is simply a question of raising money at once in order to wipe out the debts so that the club may start out on a firm financial basis. The creditors are anxious to assist in every way possible, and that is the reason why they made such a favorable proposition to the directors.

President Fitzgerald explained to the members that the club was never in a better condition than it is at the present time. It is being run on a paying basis, and the income exceeds the expenses by $100 a month.

The members seemed to be of the opinion that the proposition of the creditors was a very good one and should be accepted. It was decided to try and raise the money to pay the debts at once.

Voluntary subscriptions were called for and the members responded in fine style. Among the largest subscriptions made were those of R. M. Fitzgerald, $100; Phil Remillard, $50; George Morrow, $50; John A. Britton, $50, and E. B. Jerome, $50. There were scores of others who signed the subscription list.

The finest kind of a showing was made in the line of subscriptions. The members were thoroughly worked up on the proposition and they want to see the old debt wiped out.

Landlord Nordhausen came to the front in a very liberal manner. He reduced the rent of the club $50 a month. Under the present conditions this action was very much appreciated by the members of the club.

The Reliance Club has always done things up in swell style, and that is the reason it is now in debt. The football team last fall cost a great deal of money. A training table and quarters had to be maintained for the boys, and there was much expense attached to the whole thing. The baseball team has also to be maintained at some little expense. Then again the club has given several very fine entertainments and these were all expensive and brought in no revenue. However the officers of the club are now well satisfied with the outlook.

LESS THAN HALF PRICE.

A Notable Sale at the Famous Clothing House.

The Famous Clothing store, 907, 909, 911 and 913 Broadway, between Eighth and Ninth streets, has been closed for two days in order to make arrangements for a great smash and water sale of thousands of dollars worth of clothing, hats, furnishing goods, etc., beginning tomorrow at 9 o'clock in the morning.

This sale will comprise goods slightly damaged in the conflagration at the celebrated house of Dunbar, Dickson & Co., of Newark, N. J.

The goods were bought by M. Hyman & Co. of the Famous Clothing Store of this city, by whom they will be sold at the rate of 47 cents on the dollar.

These goods are all in excellent condition and will be sold according to the price list, which purchasers are requested to compare with the prices marked on the articles offered for sale. Where goods are damaged in a certain manner they will be given away for nothing.

No other house on the Pacific coast could offer such advantages. The Famous Clothing Store, however, having purchased the goods at the underwriter's sale, will make a handsome sum out of the venture.

The sale will commence at 9 A. M. sharp tomorrow.

WANT A REST.

Store Clerks Want All Business Stopped on Sunday.

The Federated Trades Have Taken the Matter in Hand.

The regular meeting of the Federated Trades was held last evening.

The organizing committee reported that two new unions are being organized.

The Retail Clerks' Association appointed a committee of three to confer with the Merchants' Exchange with regard to the Fourth of July celebration.

The patrol in the matter of the Sunday opening of stores reported that it is still doing effective work.

The Bakers reported progress in the matter of the Log Cabin Bakery boycott.

The Typographical Union reported that it had appointed a committee to arrange for a place in the Fourth of July parade.

The firm of Jones & Stillwell, printers, on San Pablo avenue, was placed on the black list, and the attention of the friends of labor is called to the fact.

The following resolutions were then adopted:

"WHEREAS, By the recent decisions of the United Supreme Court E. V. Debs and others are to be imprisoned for a term for an alleged violation of the Inter-State Commerce law;

"Resolved, That the Alameda County Federation of Trades reviews such decisions of said court with alarm and considers it a dangerous precedent in so far as it touches labor.

"Resolved, That we also view said decision as contrary to the principle of the Declaration of Independence and American constitutional liberty, and deserving of the unqualified condemnation of all American citizens, especially of organized labor throughout the United States."

FRIDAY.....MAY 31, 1895

The Good Roads Association is giving line upon line and precept upon precept. The city has never had a street policy, and probably never will have until a public opinion has been created that has the force of law. One model street would go a long way toward bringing about a revolution. But where is the model street?

CHAUNCEY DEPEW recently gave a "harmony" dinner to a number of leaders of the Republican party. Ex-President Harrison was there and Governor McKinley, both candidates for a Presidential nomination. Ex-Speaker Reed was somewhere in the Maine woods and could not be reached. Ex-President Harrison, having had his portrait painted and having been present at Depew's harmony dinner, has now had his first grooming for his next political race. Ex-Secretary Whitney says that the tariff will not be a prominent issue in the next canvass. But ex-President Harrison holds the contrary view. The Republicans will not drop that issue in the next election.

Astronomer Barnard.

The report that Professor Barnard is about to retire from the Lick Observatory, is probably true. But the inference that he is about to retire on account of any disagreement with Director Holden is not safely drawn from any known facts. Professor Barnard has been invited to Chicago, where he may have more scope for his researches than he has had at Mount Hamilton. But it was there that he enjoyed the opportunity for making one of the most important astronomical discoveries of the age. It does not appear that he was in any way hindered in his investigations. He won a world-wide fame at the Lick Observatory.

Men of renown are constantly called to higher positions. Prof. Burnham went to Chicago some time ago. The Yerkes Observatory, near that city, although having a larger object glass, is not thought by astronomers to present the advantages for original investigation that belong to the Lick Observatory. Director Holden has been made the target for some unfriendly criticism, and some of it has been very unjust. He has done much of late to justify the early judgment that he is the right man in the right place.

The Right Hand of the President.

President Cleveland is about to appoint a new Secretary of State. There is not a little speculation as to who is the coming man. Ex-Secretary Whitney is more in the eye of the public in this connection than any other man. He differs from the late Secretary in many particulars. He has more of what might be called the genius for statesmanship. He has also political ambition. It is in the air that he is looking for a Presidential nomination from the Democratic party. He has recently made some very clear statements of his financial views. He is more definite in his expressions in this respect than Mr. Cleveland. Whitney has spoken for the right wing of the Democratic party on "sound money."

Premising that the ex-Secretary is really ambitious for a Presidental nomination, the office of Secretary of State could hardly help him to the higher office, unless there were some fortunate turns of administration. Whitney has political tact and that goes a great way to make a successful statesman. Gresham, a man of great ability, had very little tact, and the lack of it went a long way to make him unpopular. Whitney has more than once been able to bring the factions of his own party into unity and working order. No other man in his party has had as much influence in that respect as the ex-Secretary.

But would he be willing just now, to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for the benefit of some other political aspirant? He did it for Cleveland at the last Democratic convention, and his nomination then hinged upon the efforts for unity that Whitney made. It will be a fortunate circumstance for Cleveland if he can now bring Whitney into his Cabinet. Other men of mark have found that the office of Secretary of State led directly away from a Presidential nomination. It is not likely that the ex-Secretary will sacrifice any chances, if he really wants a Presidential nomination.

The Great Disaster.

One of the greatest marine disasters that ever occurred on the Pacific Coast was the sinking of the Colima, involving the loss of somewhere from 160 to 180 lives. The exact number will not be known for some days. Many of the details reported will be subject to future revision. It was at first stated that the vessel was lost in calm weather. Subsequent reports affirm that the steamer had been caught in a gale, and that the spars fell, which killed the captain and other officers before the vessel struck the rocks. This last statement may well be questioned. It is not probable that the vessel encountered any gale that carried away her spars. These probably fell when the vessel struck the rocks. At any rate, that is the better theory until the facts are known.

That the vessel was out of her course by some miles, is probable. The disaster appears to be quite as much due to errors of position as to any other cause. Moreover, the vessel was not as far from the coast as was at first reported, because two or three persons were able to reach the land without the aid of boats. The killing of the captain and other officers by the falling of spars would account for the failure to launch the other boats in season to save the passengers.

It is not clear from the reports that they were launched at all. But the one boat that got away was able to live in the open water for many hours—a circumstance which casts a doubt over the story that the gale itself, if there was one, was sufficient to cause the disaster. When all the facts have been brought together, it will probably be found that the primary cause of the disaster was an error of navigation, that the vessel was out of her course by many miles.

This disaster is brought home to many families and persons in this city and county. Bright young men have gone down with the ship. Professor Whiting, late of the University at Berkeley, and his entire family have been swept out of existence. Choosing the marine journey home for his health, he went swiftly to his death. There will be mourning all over the Pacific Coast on account of this memorable disaster.

The Other Side of the Picture.

The Los Angeles Express is authority for the statement that there are about 1600 carloads of oranges remaining in Southern California to be shipped, with very little prospect of any profit. One citizen received as the net return of a carload of oranges $27 05, and others have done worse. Judge Rose is quoted as having 1200 boxes of oranges on the trees which he could not afford to ship at the present rate of freight. Most of the oranges have been shipped by the Atchison and Santa Fe railroad.

Those accounts do not tally with earlier reports, which showed that the orange growers were making handsome profits. They had little or no competition of the Florida citrus growers this year, while the foreign competition does not appear to be greater than in former years. Some of the explanations for the difference do not appear in print. Oranges shipped at this season come in competition with strawberries, and with cherries and other fruits shipped from California.

The hunger for oranges is over for the present season. Then, the recent shipments might not have arrived in good order. Moreover, the quality of the fruit might not have been the best. Seedling oranges have sold at low prices during all the season. Navel oranges have brought nearly double the price of the others. When the accounts for the season are made up, it will probably be shown that the citrus growers of Southern California have had a fairly prosperous season.

With Some Grains of Allowance.

A telegram from New York of the 29th instant states that Mrs. Stanford feels very bitter toward the people of California for their attitude toward the Stanford estate, on which the prosperity of the school is dependent. Now as Mrs. Stanford is in California, and has just made her personal statement, we fail to find any such declarations of "bitterness." Public opinion has been strongly in favor of the permanent establishment of the University. All fair-minded citizens would regret to know that there would be any failure.

That a few persons may carry their feelings of hostility so far as to wish to see the institution close its doors, is not a matter of any great consequence. The permanence of the institution will not depend at all upon any such expressions. The whole question depends upon a judicial decision, which will be quite independent of all personal prejudices or petty hostility. There are very few people in California today whose opinion is worth anything, who would not sincerely regret any mishap to the University. It has already earned a good place in their confidence. It has justified all the money expenditure that has been made, and its existence and growth for a century. As for the "bitterness" on either side, if any exists, it is of very little consequence. The issue is one of justice and right, and not of personal prejudices that may be cherished by a few.

THE Art Association, which has just closed its spring exhibition in San Francisco, distributed sixteen pictures which the committee had purchased from the number exhibited, through voluntary contributions that had been made. These pictures were distributed by lot. "Sunset," by William Keith, a picture valued at not less than a thousand dollars, went to E. W. Hopkins. Yelland's "Haunted Wood" was another notable picture, that was drawn by a lady. Louise M. Carpenter's picture, "California Pumpkin Fields," was also drawn by a lady. Miss Carpenter is an Oakland artist, having a studio in the Macdonough building. She was a pupil of the Art school, and has taken high rank in her profession.

HUMOROUS.

Possibly True—Here is the story of a man who says he never made love to a girl in his life. Do you believe it?

He—It may be true. Some fellows make a specialty of widows, you know.—Indianapolis Journal.

"All the symptoms, doctor, you say, of hay fever? But now," asked an Indiana army chaplain of pronounced ecclesiastical views, when returning to England on long leave, "can one possibly get hay fever in midocean?"

"I don't know," replied the doctor. "But we have several grass widows on board, and you have been a great deal in their society."—London World.

"Dumply seems wonderfully well satisfied with himself."

"Yes. There's nothing you can mention that he doesn't think he knows all about."

"Well, I suppose you can't blame him. He has no children old enough to ask questions and take the conceit out of him."—Washington Star.

The new woman idea doesn't seem to be very popular in Chicago. What they are looking for principally is that there are new husbands.—Yonkers Statesman.

The New York World wants to know whether the new woman will hold pins in her mouth while she is dressing the baby. She will not; the new woman will have no babies to dress.—Detroit Sun.

"Kitty, what brings that young chucklehead of a Spoonamore to this house so often?"

"Why, Uncle Allen, he comes to see me."

"What do you know about him?"

"I know he's a very pleasant, agreeable young man, who belongs to a good family always dresses well, is in good circumstances, and is well educated and well read."

"What else do you know about him?"

"I know he hasn't the habits many young men have. He doesn't drink, smoke, gamble, attend prize fights or go into bad company."

"Does he keep a race horse?"

"Oh, no! I am sure he doesn't."

"Part his hair in the middle?"

"No."

"Let his little finger nails grow long?"

"No."

"Quote Ibsen?"

"Never."

"Chew gum?"

"Oh, no."

"Wear pointed whiskers?"

"He does not."

"Carry chocolate and caramels in his pocket?"

"No."

Woodnotes.

As sunbeams stream through liberal space
And nothing jostle or distress,
So waved the pine tree through my thought
And fanned the dreams it never brought.
"Whether is better, the gift or the donor?
Come to me,"
Quoth the pine tree,
"I am the giver of honor.
My garden is the cloven rock,
And my manure the snow:
And drifting sand heaps feed my stock,
In summer's scorching glow.
He is great who can live by me.
The rough and bearded forester
Is better than the lord:
God hid in the scrip and canister,
Sin piles the billed board.
The lord is the peasant that was,
The peasant the lord that shall be;
The lord is hay, the peasant grass,
One dry, and one the living tree.
Who lives by the ragged pine
Foundeth a heroic line:
Who liveth in the palace hall
Waneth fast and spindleth all.
He goes to my savage haunt;
With his chariot and his care:
My twill gat realm he disenchants,
And finds his prison there."—Emerson.

NOTES AND EXCERPTS.

Russia, after threatening Japan with war, and getting France and Germany to help her, because the Japanese proposed to annex a small part of the Continental territory of China, is now hinting at an occupation of Corea by her own forces. That is about the usual Russian style in dealing with Oriental powers.

The stock of the American Sugar Refining Company (the trust) is selling for about forty dollars a share more now than before the Democratic Tariff bill was passed, and the promised advance in the price of sugar is now coming. Still the Democrats denied that there was any favoritism for the sugar trust in their revenue scheme.

Queen Victoria has settled one point conclusively and over her own signature, and that is that the former Mrs. Hammersly will not be received at court as the Duchess of Marlborough. It is time for Mrs. Beresford to subside.

The Railroad Gazette in its next issue will publish a tabulation of orders for freight cars placed by railroad companies this year, which places the number at 23,029. Besides cars ordered, bids are out now for an additional 3000 cars approximately. The passenger cars ordered amount to seventy-two, with contracts for thirteen more to be given out shortly. This represents an investment of over ten million dollars. The Railroad Gazette says that the total output of the contracting car shops for five months of this year exceeds that of the entire year 1894 by over 5000 cars.—Chicago Times-Herald.

If Mexico adopts the proposed "extraction law" on gold and silver mines it will damage American interests badly enough, but not as badly as the interests of Mexico itself. It is chiefly on American money that Mexican mining properties must rely for development, and if the Government taxes it out of the country the Mexican mining business will collapse.

Farmers have taken to the bicycle in parts of Ohio, and they go to town on the wheel instead of driving. They make long trips in the same fashion to cities that hitherto they have seldom visited. One livery stable keeper in an Ohio town has bought some bicycles to rent. He says that everybody rides the wheel, while few persons ride or drive horses, so he is gradually changing the character of his business.

The fact that a party of 200 bicyclists, men and women, made a "century run" in the suburbs of New York on Sunday shows pretty conclusively that the wheel is a practical machine. To make a hundred miles between daybreak and dark by the output of one's own energy, unassisted by any other force, is certainly a notable achievement and one that is significant of great progress in the future. The bicycle is now the swiftest medium of long distance travel with the sole exception of the railway train, and the day may be at hand when some principle of bicycle construction, such as lightness and ease of running, will be applied to locomotion on the rail.—Providence Journal.

It is somewhat remarkable that while the Union Club, a worldly association, refuses to take the risk of incurring a debt for $1,000,000 to put up a new building, the American Tract Society and the Presbyterian Missionary Boards, religious associations and trustees of the offerings of the pious, have had no hesitation in assuming the same obligation. The Union Club could borrow $1,000,000 as easily as they have done, but it is not so light-hearted about getting into debt.—New York Sun.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

ALL GOOD PROPERTY.

A Fine Auction Sale to Take Place Saturday.

There will be an exceptional opportunity for investors in real estate next Saturday. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the first large sale of real estate at auction, for the season of 189-, will be held in the salesrooms of William J. Dingee at 460 and 462 Eighth street. The large amount of property to be disposed of indicates a revival of business in this section. For the past six weeks this revival has been making itself felt, giving rise to new hopes for the future. Instead of the horde of property holders that have been looking for buyers during the past months of continued depression, there are now investors, with hard cash, looking for good real estate. The result of this has been a slight rise of prices indicating a more decided advance in the immediate future.

The property to be sold comprises some of the choicest business and residence lots in Oakland. The cream of the sale consists of the ten valuable business and residence lots fronting on East Twelfth street and East Fourteenth street and Thirteenth avenue, East Oakland. This locality is the very center of the business section of East Oakland. The surprising thing about the sale of these lots is the easy terms on which they are offered, one-fourth cash and the rest in three equal yearly payments.

Other good opportunities to be offered for investment are: The business corner of Eighth and Chester streets, a double dwelling and a five-room cottage on Seward and Campbell streets, respectively, some modern flats and a three-room cottage on Sixth street near Oak, the Japanese nursery property in the Glen Echo tract, eight choice lots on Thirteenth avenue and East Fifteenth street, and three residence lots on the corner of Thirteenth and Peralta streets.

Board of Supervisors.

Adjourned Regular Meeting, Monday, May 27, 1895.

The Board of Supervisors met at 10 o'clock A. M.

Roll call showed all members present.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved without alteration.

The following named persons made applications for relief, viz:

Mary McGann, 600 Twenty-seventh street, native of Ireland, single.

Denied.

Peter Dufort, Temescal, native of Canada, married.

Referred to Supervisor Pelouze.

James McGuire, Tenth street, between Franklin and Broadway, native of Ireland, single.

Sent to Hospital.

Myron A. Whidden presented report for quarter ending May 4, 1895.

O. M. Sanford, County Treasurer, presented report for quarter ending May 4, 1895.

A. D. Pryal, Horticultural Commissioner, presented report.

Each of the above reports were ordered received and placed on file.

The following requisitions were presented, read by the Clerk and disposed of as follows:

From W. A. Clark, Superintendent, for meat, fish, drugs, vegetables, lumber.

From W. A. Clark, Superintendent, for groceries and feed.

From W. A. Clark, Superintendent, for dry goods.

Each and all were referred to the Hospital Committee.

Myron A. Whidden, County Auditor, presented requisition for Register of Warrants, Claims and certain articles needed in his office during the next fiscal year, in response to request of board.

Ordered filed.

George L. Nusbaumer, County Surveyor, reported that he had examined Sutter street and that the same was free from encroachments, except a small wall one and one-half feet in road for a distance of thirteen feet.

Supervisor Pelouze introduced the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted.

"Resolved, That Sutter street, from the west line of Telegraph avenue to the east line of Claremont avenue, as said street and avenues are shown and so designated on map of Vicente Peralta Reservation Tract, filed June 16, 1886, in the office of Alameda county, be and the same is hereby accepted and declared a public highway and county road."

The Judiciary Committee reported in favor of granting a permit to obtain a license for the sale of liquors to Charles Delmue, Sunol; William Johnson, Moss avenue on the San Leandro road; C. W. Avery, Fitchburg; Crespino Carli and Clarence Barr, Telegraph avenue, between First and Columbia streets, Temescal.

Reports received and adopted.

Appropriate resolutions were introduced and unanimously adopted granting to Crespino Carli and Clarence Barr, C. W. Avery, William Johnson and Charles Delmue permits to obtain license.

The following named persons made application for permit for license for sale of liquors, viz., Charles Harrison, High street and San Leandro road; A. Lane, San Pablo and Park avenue; Manuel Silvaro, Centerville; Matthew Davilla, Alvarado.

Each of the above applications was accompanied by a bond in proper form and correct amount each was accepted and approved, and the accompanying applications referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mrs. Anderson, in a communication to the board, stated that Mrs. Jennie Williamson was receiving aid to which she was not entitled, having money in bank.

Supervisor Pelouze stated that he was fully conversant with all the facts, and that the allowance, small though it was, was necessary and just.

The following resolution was introduced:

"Resolved, That the position of assistant gardener, now held by Timothy Hurley, be and the same is hereby declared vacant from and after June 1, 1895, for the reason that the head gardener will be able to attend to all that is required to be done at the present time."

The roll was called, and the above resolution adopted by the following vote.

Ayes—Supervisors Talcott, Johnston, Pelouze, Chairman Morgan—4.

Noes—Supervisor Church—1.

The Clerk stated that the provisions of the County Government act made it the duty of the board to make an order showing due publication of ordinances.

The following was then introduced and read by the Clerk:

"Board of Supervisors, Alameda county, California.

"In the matter of the publication of an ordinance to prevent and prohibit the interment, deposit or burial of dead bodies of human beings in the graveyard and cemetery immediately adjoining St. Joseph's Catholic Church, situated in the town of Mission San Jose, Alameda county, California."

A copy and affidavit of due publication of the above mentioned ordinance having been presented and filed showing publication of such ordinance as provided by law;

It is now ordered by the following called vote, viz: Ayes—Supervisors Church, Talcott, Pelouze, Johnston and Chairman Bailey, that said ordinance has been duly published as provided by Section 26 of an act to establish a uniform system of county and township governments, approved March 24, 1893, and the clerk is hereby directed to enter this order in full in minutes of this board.

Also the following order was introduced, viz: "Board of Supervisors, Alameda county, California, in the matter of the publication of an ordinance granting to Daniel Ghisholm and H. L. Peterman, their heirs and assigns, a street railroad franchise in the county of Alameda, State of California."

A copy and affidavit of due publication of the above mentioned ordinance having been presented and filed showing publication of such ordinance as provided by law.

It is now ordered by the following called vote, viz.: Ayes—Supervisors Talcott, Church, Pelouze, Johnston, Chairman Bailey—5; noes—none; that said ordinance has been published as provided by Section 26 of "An act to establish a uniform system of county and township governments approved March 24, 1893, and the clerk is hereby directed to enter this order in full in the minutes of this board."

The following resolution was introduced by Supervisor Church:

"Resolved, That Dr. J. F. Young be and he is hereby allowed, as Health Officer of Washington township, for the month of June, 1895, a salary of $50 in addition to his annual salary of $100 a year, owing to extra work due to epidemic conditions in his district."

The roll was ordered called and the resolution adopted by the following called vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Church, Johnston, Pelouze, Chairman Bailey—4.

Noes—None.

Absent from roll call—Supervisor Talcott.

Supervisor Johnston then introduced the following resolution:

"WHEREAS, It duly appears to the Board of Supervisors that the trestle and bulkhead for Bell Ranch bridge situated in the Centerville Road district, upon which certain work was done and performed by Cotton Bros. & Co., whose claim in legal form has been made and presented and filed, and which is numbered 2976, is a trestle and bulkhead in which the inhabitants of all the districts are more or less interested and said Centerville Road district is too weak and impoverished to bear the expense of said work; now therefore be it Resolved, That the balance of $1000 due to Cotton Bros. & Co., on said claim No. 2976, be allowed and paid out of the Centerville District Road fund, General Road fund, and the County General fund, in the proportion hereinafter stated, to wit: Centerville District Road fund, $1; General Road fund, $1; County General fund, $998."

The roll was ordered called and the resolution adopted by the following called vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Church, Johnston, Pelouze, Chairman Bailey—4.

Noes—None.

Absent—Supervisor Talcott.

Supervisor Church then introduced rules for inmates of the County Infirmary to observe as given below. The Clerk read the rules section by section and after the reading of each section a motion was made to adopt the same and each section was adopted by unanimous vote of the board. At the conclusion of the reading, Supervisor Church moved that the rules be adopted as a whole, which motion was unanimously carried. Supervisor Church was upon motion authorized to have 500 copies for general use.

ADMISSION TO HOSPITAL.

Section 1. All patients applying for admission to the hospital must present a permit issued by some member of the Board of Supervisors, and are required to bathe and change clothes immediately on admission and deliver to the nurse all baggage with the exception of such articles as may be required for immediate use, and shall deposit all moneys and articles of value with the superintendent, who shall give a receipt for the same.

TIME OF RISING IN THE MORNING.

Section 2. All patients who are able to be up must rise in time to be ready for breakfast; after which they must vacate the wards as far as possible during the day, that the beds, furniture and floors of the wards may be cleaned. Every patient able to do so, is required to come to the dining-room for meals.

PATIENTS TO WORK.

Section 3. All patients that are able to do so will be required to air their bedding once a week and to keep their chamber vessels clean, make their own beds, keep them neat and assist other patients in the ward who are not able to do so.

PATIENTS TO ASSIST.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of every patient who is well enough to do so to assist any of his or her fellow patients when necessary, and also to do any work in and about the hospital or hospital grounds when required by the superintendent.

PATIENTS NOT TO LEAVE.

Section 5. No patient will be permitted to leave the hospital grounds or enter wards separate from his or her own without the permission of the superintendent.

TO RETIRE AT 9 O'CLOCK.

Section 6. Patients are required to retire at 9 o'clock P. M., at which time all lights, unless otherwise permitted, are to be extinguished. No unnecessary conversation will be permitted in the wards after that hour. No candles or other extra lights will be allowed in the wards without the consent of the superintendent.

KEEP ROOMS CLEAN.

Section 7. All the patients shall keep themselves and the fixtures around them as clean and in as good condition as possible, spill no oil, grease or liquids of any kind upon the floors or furniture, nor deposit food or other articles in or upon the beds, furniture or window sills, or other parts of the wards, nor throw any articles whatever out of the windows or into the halls or passageways.

ARTICLES, FRUIT, ETC.

Section 8. No article whatever is to be sold, brought into or carried out of the hospital, by the patients or others, without the permission of the superintendent. Persons bringing fruit, delicacies, etc., to their friends shall inform the nurse in charge, that he or she may see that they are given or withheld, according to the instructions of the physician.

WINES AND LIQUORS NOT ALLOWED.

Section 9. No person will be allowed to bring wine of any kind, malt liquors, spirits, opium or morphine to the patients. Any patient found furnishing any of said articles will be immediately discharged.

NO DRUNKENNESS.

Section 10. Any employe or patient found in the hospital or inside the hospital grounds under the influence of liquor shall be confined or be discharged.

Section 11. No patient shall enter the administration building, the kitchen or engine room without the permission of the superintendent.

Section 12. No patient shall be allowed to wash his or her own clothes. Each patient must bathe once a week and deliver their soiled clothing to the nurse.

Section 13. Gambling, loud or profane conversation, unseemly noise, lounging or collecting in the halls or washrooms, using the washrooms for washing clothes, hanging up of clothes about the premises or any violation of the rules of propriety, such as spitting on the floor, lying on the beds with clothes, boots or shoes on, depositing tobacco, pipes or matches in or on the beds, windowsills, ungentlemanly conduct at the table, defacing the wall by use of matches or the driving of nails, emptying filth or waste matter into the sink or bathtubs or inside water closets is forbidden.

Section 14. No smoking or using of matches allowed within the hospital, nor chewing of tobacco while lying in bed.

Section 15. Any patient who willfully violates any of the above regulations will be immediately discharged by the superintendent.

The above rules must be strictly enforced.

These rules shall take effect and be in force from and after May 27, 1895.

By order of

HIRAM BAILEY,
W. S PELOUZE,
J. R. TALCOTT,
J. E. JOHNSTON,
W. M. CHURCH,
Board of Supervisors of Alameda county.

The District Attorney addressed the board concerning the suit of Marlin against the Supervisors of Alameda county stating that the court would undoubtedly support the plaintiff's contention and that a restraining order would probably be issued prohibiting the running of sewage matter upon the plaintiff's land. After some further discussion the District Attorney was assured that steps would be taken at once to secure the right of way over lands through which it would be necessary to constrict a sewer.

The following bills having been favorably reported upon by a majority of the Auditing Committee was read by the clerk and unanimously ordered paid to the following named persons for the sum set opposite their respective names, out of the funds hereinafter mentioned:

Supervisor Church introduced the following resolution:

"WHEREAS, It appeared to the board that the Murray Road district would be unreasonably burdened by the expense of repairing and protecting several bridges in that district, which said expense was recently incurred by the unanimous consent of said board without notice in case of great emergency under subdivision No. 4 of section 25 of the County Government act, on motion of Supervisor Church, seconded by Supervisor Johnston, it was ordered by the following called vote to wit:

Ayes—Supervisors Talcott, Church, Johnston, Pelouze, Chairman Bailey.

Noes—None.

That the claim of Anspacher Bros. for lumber filed April 20, 1895, used in repairing and protecting the bridges in Murray Road district, be allowed and paid out of the Murray Road District, the General Road fund and the County General fund, in the proportion hereinafter stated, to wit: Murray District Road, $1; General Road, $1; County General, $210 22."

Roll was called and the resolution adopted by the following called vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Talcott, Church, Johnston, Pelouze, Chairman Bailey—5.

Noes—None.

W. C. Moran and nineteen others petitioned the board to remove from the office of Poundmaster of Peralta District, Theodore Lange. Upon motion of Supervisor Pelouze the prayer of the petitioners was granted, and the position of Poundmaster of Peralta District declared vacant. The Clerk then read the petition of W. C. Moran, et al., asking that Harry Germain be appointed Poundmaster of Peralta District. A bond in the sum of $250 not having accompanied the petition, upon motion the matter was laid over for further consideration at the next meeting of the board, and the Clerk was instructed to, in the meantime, have Harry Germain file a bond in the proper amount.

J. C. Richardson and seventeen others petitioned that Mountain avenue, Piedmont, be accepted as a county road from the intersection of Piedmont avenue to its intersection with the northern boundary line of Piedmont Park, as delineated on the plat of Piedmont Park on file in the office of the County Recorder. Upon motion of Supervisor Johnston the matter was referred to the County Surveyor for examination and report.

James McCarthy, in a communication, complained of the treatment of helpless inmates at the Infirmary, and asked leave to answer questions relative to such unjust treatment. The board being fully conversant with the facts in connection with the matter complained of, and of the merits of the case, upon motion of Supervisor Church the communication was laid upon the table by unanimous vote.

The board then took a recess until 2 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The board reassembled at 2 o'clock. Roll called. All members present.

Upon motion of Supervisor Johnston, seconded by Supervisor Pelouze, William Roberts of San Lorenzo, supervisor W. H. Church and George L. Nusbaumer, County Surveyor, were appointed a committee to procure the right of way for a sewer for the County Infirmary, said committee to report at the next meeting of the board.

The Clerk then stated that the next thing to be brought before the board was the hearing of the protest against the granting of the permit to Frank L. Miller to sell liquors, the matter having been set for hearing this day. Upon motion of Supervisor Church the matter was continued for hearing on Monday, June 3d, at 2 o'clock.

The petition of R. Reed for allowance of credits whereby his term of imprisonment would expire June 3d, instead of June 15th, was read by the clerk.

The recommendation of the jailor being favorable, upon motion of Supervisor Church the petition was granted.

The matter of good roads was then brought up. Members of the committee from "Good Roads Association" were present. Messrs. E. C. Sessions, W. H. Jones, L. Griffin, W. H. Buckley, D. E. Cameron, L. N. Hager, M. J. Keller, J. O. Miner, L. W. Kennedy, J. L. Lyon and Wilbur Walker addressed the board in reference to the building of a road into Contra Costa county. Mr. Sessions was not in favor of any particular road, but believed that the people were entitled to one good road. Mr. Jones was also of the same opinion. Mr. Griffin favored the tunnel road, and stated that while it would cost more to open it, it would be permanent and repairs would not be as expensive as building over the hill. Mr. Buckley also said that the people were in favor of the tunnel proposition. Mr. Cameron believed that ninety per cent of the people of Contra Costa county favored the tunnel road. Mr. Hagar stated that he did not appear to advocate any particular road. He stated that he believed that $200 would improve the Fish Ranch road materially, that the tunnel road could be built for $15,000, would last for all time and in the end be the surest and cheapest road. Mr. Keller was in favor of the tunnel road because it would be the shortest and most practical. Mr. Miner believed that it would be the better plan to improve the present Fish Ranch road and that same time in the future, when the county could afford it, to build other roads. L. W. Kennedy advocated the tunnel road. Mr. Lyon favored a first-class road to Contra Costa county, stating that the expense should not be considered when it was so evident to all that two opening of the coal would result advantageously to the merchants of Oakland. Mr. Walker reviewed the work of the committee appointed a year ago and stated the difficulty the committee had met with concerning several propositions considered because parties through whose land roads were to be built refused to give the right of way. At the conclusion of the remarks by those in attendance interested, the matter was taken under advisement.

Supervisor Talcott introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That the County Surveyor be and is hereby instructed to make a survey for a road beginning at a point on the present Thorn Hill road near the residence of Mrs. Kohler, running thence through the land of Dingee, Meyers and Gibson to the survey formerly made by Williams, thence on the line run by said Williams to the county line near the summit of the present Thorn Hill road, provided that the said grade shall not exceed at any point five feet in the hundred."

The roll was ordered called and the motion lost by the following called vote: Ayes—Supervisors Talcott, Church—2.

Noes—Supervisors Pelouze, Chairman Bailey—2.

Absent—Supervisor Johnston—1.

Ayes—Supervisors Church, Pelouze, Chairman Bailey—3.

Noes—Supervisors Talcott and Johnston—2.

"Resolved, That the position of night watchman of the Hall of Records now held by George Maloon be, and the same is hereby declared vacant, from and after June 1, 1895, as the board believes that Night Watchman J. W. Moore of the Treasurer's office can attend to the duties of both."

There being no further business to transact the board adjourned to meet Monday, June 3d, at 10 o'clock A. M.

DANGERS OF SUMMER.

They Are Many, But One of the Worst Is the Least Expected:

People have an idea that colds are contracted in cold weather. This is not correct. When the pores of the skin are open and a chilly wind blows against the body, then is the greatest danger. The first sneeze, a sniffling in the nostrils, a dullness of the head—all indicate the first symptoms of a cold. And a cold in warm weather is as bad as at any other time.

There is but one thing to do when any of these symptoms come, and that is to bring about a reaction at once. A delay may mean serious consequences. There is but one way by which a healthy reaction can be brought about, and that is by the use of a pure medicinal stimulant, and there is but one thing that can be depended upon at such a time—that is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It is what its name implies—perfectly pure. It has been before the public for many years, and is the most popular of all stimulants, because it is so pure and powerful.

If you have any of the first symptoms of a cold, you should not delay a moment, but use this great preparation at once. Do not permit any druggist or grocer to sell you anything else. A cold cannot be cured on the start by an inferior whiskey, and you should insist upon having the best, and just what you ask for.

Strange, but True

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anæmic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

THE LORD'S DAY.

On What Lines Shall Observance Be Drawn.

Cut and Out Views Expressed by an Adventist.

He Tells of Various Movements That Have Been Started.

Editor Tribune—SIR: The cause of enforced Sunday observance has many pretexts, but its favorite guise is temperance reform. All the good temperance arguments are thus made to do duty in support of a purpose with which temperance has not the most remote connection. By means of this fair mask many good people are blinded to the fact that the appeal for Sunday closing of saloons is but the precursor of an ulterior purpose, namely, the legal recognition of Sunday and its general compulsory observance. But the many inconsistencies incident to the false claim are a constant menace to the security of the gauzy screen with which the real object is sought to be obscured.

We are confronted with the terrible inroads that the use of ardent spirits makes upon the lives and health of the people, upon the peace, happiness and prosperity of the family and upon the dignity and welfare of the community. We are confronted with the appalling record of crime incident to the saloon evil. We are shown the truly harrowing picture of beggared homes as the result of the expenditure of means in the saloons. We are regaled with the pitiful story of the allurement of young men from the path of rectitude, to become the victims of debauchery in all its horrible phases. We have brought before us the heart-rending aspect of distracted and dejected wives and mothers, of degraded children, of enervated husbands and fathers, of lost souls, of insane asylums, prisons and gallows, of enormous expenses for sustaining police forces and police courts—in short, by far the greater part of all the crime and misery extant—as a direct and indirect result of the saloon curse. And then, when the long, blood-curdling panorama has been drawn out before the public, the exhibitors blandly propose as a remedy to stop the great fountain of evil one day in seven.

And which day of the seven is invariably designated? You never hear of a petition or a proposition to close saloons on Monday or Tuesday; and it is decidedly questionable if a man who asks for Sunday closing of saloons could be found who would advocate a like measure for any other day in the week unless Sunday were also included. It is assumed and re-iterated by the Sunday closing orators, in fact, it has been the leading argument of the present crusade in this city, that many wage-workers draw their weekly wages on Saturday and go directly to the saloon and spend their money Saturday night before going home. The most pathetic appeals from this standpoint were made before the City Council in behalf of an ordinance closing the saloons from 6 o'clock Saturday evening until Monday morning. The burden of the appeal was on the Saturday night curse, because if the wage-working men would go home sober with their wages intact, their families would be certain of some benefit from their earnings. It must be admitted that whatever there is in the argument against the saloons that men spend their earnings there to the detriment of their families, applies with tenfold more force on Saturday night than on Sunday. Yet in the face of this evident conclusion, this logical deduction from their own asseverations, those professed temperance champions are ready to yield the Saturday night privilege to the saloon in order to make sure of the Sunday closing.

The Sunday closing proposition presents a most grotesque and self-nullifying picture. It complacently turns loose the fiery serpent, the society poison, the admitted cause of three-fourths of all the crime and degradation in the land, for six days and nights. During this time the hideous monster is allowed free course to lure and to wound and to kill; and then on Sunday a closed saloon is set up on a conspicuous elevation, as a kind of brazen serpent to which the afflicted people are invited to look and be healed. Sunday having passed, the deadly work is resumed for another six days and nights.

The further these men go in their covert crusade for enforced Sunday observance in general the more they expose their real purpose. Every advance step is another link in the chain of indubitable evidence that a legal recognition of Sunday sacredness is the motive; then, when once the lawmakers are committed to the principle, the precedent will be established for other and further demands in that line. The plea is made in the popular name of temperance to catch a popular though very superficial temperance sentiment; but, brought to the test, it is merely Sunday temperance for which there is any real concern. The plea for Sunday closing is made in the name of humanity, in the name of benevolence, in the name of charity, in the name of Christian sympathy; but, reduced to the concentrated essence of the demand, it is Sunday humanity, Sunday benevolence, Sunday charity and Sunday sympathy.

But Saturday night closing, which, according to the popular plea is demonstrated to be of far greater importance, is at last sacrificed on the altar of the Sunday idol. And the sacrifice is the voluntary offering of the very men who were foremost in demonstrating that on Saturday night the most of the money of the wage-workers is spent in the saloons. At the very time when they were flushed with anticipation of sure victory, when they were boasting of their ability to compel favorable action by the Council, they were parenthetically expressing a willingness to concede the Saturday night. Men who positively affirmed a personal desire for prohibition every day would suggest compromise on the Saturday night part of the proposed ordinance specifying from 6 P. M. Saturday to 6 A. M. Monday. And after the Council in Committee of the Whole had decided by a 7 to 4 vote to report the entire proposition favorably, the leaders of the movement began backing and hedging with hints of compromise.

They have shown, from the very beginning, that they do not want to antagonize the saloon element against the Sunday closing move, against the ultimate design of a general Sunday law. And in addition to yielding the Saturday night privilege, they are willing to concede the whole seven-day arrangement for three months to come in order to give the saloon proprietors time to arrange their business so that they will suffer no loss. But if they are to suffer no loss pecuniarily, wherein is the probability of any decrease in the amount spent for strong drink? If they are to be protected against pecuniary loss, where is the probability of there being any reduction in the quantity of alcoholic beverages sold and drank in the community? The very suggestion shows that a reduction of the drink evil is not contemplated in the scheme at all. It is of itself a proof that the movement is deceptive in its incipiency and deceptive in its practical working, and that its prime and only purpose is compulsory Sunday observance.

This Sunday closing movement began about four years ago, just after the failure of the combined effort of the California Sabbath Association and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to secure a State Sunday law from the Legislature of 1891. It was started for the avowed purpose of covering the State with local Sunday laws. The design was to secure general closing of business where possible, but failing in that, then the Sunday closing of saloons would be accepted as an opening wedge. It was at that time calculated that if the saloons were closed, then the saloon keepers' spirit of retaliation would lead them to join the effort to compel the closing of other business places. Just as the National Reformers, in the beginning of their church and state movement, counted upon the eventual co-operation of corrupt politicians because of personal interest, so the Sabbath Association counted upon the corrupt influence of the saloon keepers to help out their Sunday scheme.

This plan of finally securing a State law by plastering the State with county and municipal ordinances began in the southern part of the State and has been working northward. The wave has reached Oakland, and every effort is being made to secure some kind of legal recognition of Sunday, be it ever so slight. To this end a great confederacy of religious and religio-political organizations has been formed into a circle for the suppression of the saloon, and for the suppression of Councilmen and everything else opposed to the religio-political scheme. The confederacy claims to represent about two dozen separate interests, but these numerous organizations are to a great extent a repetition of the same individuals. Simultaneous with this Oakland Sunday closing effort, ostensibly on temperance and humane grounds, we are having a reconciliation of the dormant Sunday associations which have never claimed any other purpose than the securing of general Sunday observance by every possible means, but especially by State law.

Every move in this Sunday closing scheme is in furtherance of one object, a general compulsory Sunday observance law. The disposition to compromise everything for the bare closing of saloons on Sunday shows the design to get something on the statute books. An opening wedge for religious legislation is wanted at any cost. With the light that has been thrown upon this proposition it is clear that it is a matter with which the City Council has nothing to do. It is not legitimately within the province of any civil legislative body in the United States. Such laws have once been decided unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of this State, and they are just as unconstitutional now as ever they were.

There is talk of submitting the innovation to a vote of the people. But the people have no right to vote compulsory Sabbath observance upon any one. It is not a matter for majorities to decide, it is solely a question of conscience. When the Council or the people once enter upon the assumed duty of voting religious obligation upon the community, the logical outcome is religious persecution. This must inevitably be the result of the enforcement of such laws. If the saloon is an evil, and there is no doubt that it is, if it is a nuisance, a menace to the peace and welfare of any portion of the community, the Council or the people may properly vote it out of existence altogether. But to sell men a license to carry on the nefarious business, and then ordain that they shall keep the Sabbath, is the height of municipal folly. It is not business, it is not Christianity, it is not common sense.

What Will They Do?

What will the dry goods men do when France's latest suggestion of ladies' dress goes into effect? The dress reformers of France advocate the wearing of tights for ladies as a street costume and modestly suggest that black and brown should first be worn until the custom becomes popular and then other colors could be introduced. The dry goods men seem quite concerned, as it would affect their business to the extent of decreasing their sales of many millions of yards of dress goods every year. But what a saving to the men who pay for it. It is likewise to the patronage of the People's Express and Transfer Company. The saving of time and advantage in their promptness in all business matters, especially the checking of baggage at hotels or your home to all parts of the United States is a matter for deep consideration. Veterans Assemble and Close in Memorial Day.

An Enormous Throng Flocks to the Exercises.

Speeches by Senator Perkins, Dr. Coyle and Dr. Chapman

Decoration Day was brought to a close by memorial exercises last evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

The edifice was thronged, the greater part of the lower floor of the auditorium being reserved for Grand Army men, members of Woman's Relief Corps and Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The rostrum was beautifully decorated with flowers and national colors, among the floral features being a design sent in by Major J. E. McLiath, who was at one time a soldier in the Confederate army.

Major Woodward read a history of Memorial Day, showing that it had been suggested by a private soldier near Cincinnati, and that the idea had been taken up by General Logan and had thence spread all over the country.

Rev. Dr. Coyle read the address delivered by President Lincoln at Gettysburg, and prefaced it with a reference to the floral contribution of Major McLiath. He said that he thought the sentiment expressed by the tribute was the same as that which pervades the ranks of all the soldiers of this united country. The soldiers in the auditorium expressed their appreciation of this idea by a round of applause.

Senator G. C. Perkins then delivered a short and interesting address. He recalled what had been accomplished by the patriotism and sacrifice of the soldiers and said that one of the pleasantest duties that he had ever performed was to aid in getting Memorial Day placed upon the statutes of this State as a legal holiday.

"Eternal vigilance," he said, "is the price of republican institutions. Look well to the school house, the citadel of the people's liberty. It is the inspiration of republican institutions next to our homes. Next to the holy Bible should be guarded those institutions.

"Do this and our boys and girls will grow up to uphold the grand principles of liberty which you bequeath them. What is there higher than American citizenship? You owe it to the country to support the noble institutions of the country; its benevolent institutions and its churches. I would rather have one church in a community than 100 policemen. Many of you are getting old, the time will come when we will soon shed our tears upon and decorate your graves. Let the fires of liberty burn upon your altars and so long will we remain a free and united people."

J. H. Todd then rendered a fantasia on national airs, using his army bugle as the instrument, the accompaniment being played on the organ.

Rev. E. S. Chapman now spoke. He said there had been a great change in the personnel of the people who conduct these memorial services and there had also been a change in the character of the services themselves. "Something more than fading flowers and columns must stand as a remembrance of these soldiers who preserved the country," he said. "Why do we honor the soldier? Was he more learned or cultured? Possibly not. It is because he vitalized principles. Self-sacrificing love is the great law of nature. The tree blossoms and bears fruit, the plant blossoms and its leaves fall to the earth to enrich the soil. The animal dies that men may live, and the soldier perished for his people. The way to live forever is to die for others."

"America" was then sung by the audience. Benediction was pronounced, "taps" was sounded on the bugle and the audience retired.

PRIME PROPERTY.

A Fine Sale to Be Held Saturday, June 8th.

The season of sales of realty by auction has commenced with a great deal of earnestness and promises to be one of the most successful that this city has experienced.

One of the most promising of these sales is to take place Saturday, June 8th, at 2 p. m. It will be held on the grounds at the corner of Grove and Twenty-second streets.

The property to be disposed of comprises sixteen choice business lots on Grove street, from Twenty-second to Twenty-fourth streets, and also residence property on Sycamore, Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets.

This property is situated in the center part of Oakland, near the intersection of San Pablo avenue and Grove street, within one block of Odd Fellows' Hall, the Athens house and St. Francis de Sales Church.

It will double in value in a short time. The title is perfect. The buildings and improvements on Grove street will be sold to the highest bidder and purchasers will be allowed six weeks in which to remove them. The terms will be one-half cash, payable on the delivery of the deed, the other half to be paid in one year at 8 per cent per annum.

For particulars apply to R. Franke, Oakland Pickle Works, 1623 Grove street, corner of Twenty-second street. The auctioneer will be T. H. B. Rosenberg.

The Largest Stock.

The Girard Piano Co., Central Bank building, corner Fourteenth and Broadway, have the largest stock of pianos to select from. They employ no agents who frame from house to house and sell on commission, and ask from $50 to $100 more for a piano than it can be bought direct in a store. The celebrated Wheelock pianos used by over 400 of Oakland's musicians and they give the best of satisfaction. The Stuyvesant pianos for durability and good workmanship have no equal. Pianos sold on easy installments. New instruments rented and rents applied if purchased after six months. Before you buy call on the Girard Piano Co., corner Fourteenth and Broadway.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping, discomfort attending their use. Try them.

THE MOREY
INCANDESCENT GAS BURNER
It Has Revolutionized Gas Lighting!
Only Sixty Days on the Market and yet the Sale is Enormous.

No parts burn out. The mantels, screens, prisms, used in other burners, are not used in the Morey Burner at all, therefore no parts to repair. The Cheapest Burner used, giving the greatest amount of light for the smallest amount of gas consumed.

The secret of its scintillating brilliancy is perfect combustion, not one iota going to waste—every atom of gas being consumed.

No ghastly greenish white light, but a natural, mellow, golden sunlight, soothing to the eyes and radiant with power.

The Morey Gas Burner is the best results of long years of study, discovery and invention, and is based solely upon scientific principles. THE HIGHEST POWER OF GAS LIES IN THE BURNER EMPLOYED. The secret of the Morey Burner is the combustion secured.

You may ask why does the Morey Burner give so much more light for the same amount of gas consumed. Our answer is the gas when burning through an ordinary gas jet, burns quickly with the air and passes off not giving time for the light to take up on the same all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion, therefore it passes off dark and twisted. Put in the Morey Burner it passes through a perforated circle of 76 small needle pointed perforations, and the current of air passing on all sides of the blue supplies sufficient for the light to take up all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion therefore no WASTE OF GAS, NO SMOKE, NO BLUE BLAST, all turned to light.

See what prominent business men and people you know say of it.

TESTIMONIALS.

San Francisco April 20th 1895
Morey Incandescent Gas Burner Co. City—
GENTLEMEN: We are very much pleased with the lamp we have purchased from you and intend doing away with three burners which we formerly were compelled to do in our private office, as now get a better light from the one which you put in.
As soon as we fix things over will use them altogether in each of the departments.
Please have one of your representatives call on us about the 15th of May.
Yours truly,
S. P. TAYLOR CO.

San Francisco, April 20, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Co. City—
DEAR SIRS: In reply to your question as to how I like the burners would say I am using six of your burners in place of nine of the old style. I get a deal more light and am very well satisfied in every way. You can refer to me if you wish.
Yours respectfully,
H. SUHR.

San Francisco, April 24, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Agency, S. F. Cal.—
DEAR SIR: I have been in business in this city 35 years and during which time I have used every patent burner ever presented. The Morey is the only burner that has ever yet come to my notice which is economical. In economy of gas, brilliancy of illumination and most of all steadiness and durability of construction it is marvelous.
Yours truly,
617 Merchant street. JAMES GIBB.

A SOLID STAND.

Councilman J. M. Bassett Talks to the Point.

Logical Arguments About the Water Front.

His Reasons for Desiring the Case to Be Pressed.

Editor Tribune—Sir. The Examiner of yesterday morning in its Oakland correspondence makes me say several things in connection with the railroad's notification of the city's attorneys that it would petition the United States Supreme Court to reopen the suit of the State against the railroad company. As I have been in Red Bluff for the past two days and was not aware that the company had decided to petition the court until this morning it will be seen that the zeal of the Examiner's correspondent to misrepresent me, since this paper went over to the railroad, largely exceeds his regard for the truth.

I have said, and I now say, that the railroad company does not wish the case reopened unless it can prevent Oakland joining in the petition.

My reasons for reaching this conclusion are Attorney General Fitzgerald has intimated his belief that the State's case was not properly brought. There are those who believe there was collusion between Hart, as Attorney General, and the railroad concerning this case. If this conclusion is based on fact the intention was that the water front contest, so far as the State is concerned, should be finally decided against the State.

I do not assert it for a fact that it was understood the State should lose its case, but the refusal of Attorney-General Fitzgerald to join the railroad in petition leaves one at liberty to draw that inference.

If there was collusion, the intervention of the city of Oakland defeated the intent aimed at by the conspirators and saved the State a chance for another day in court.

It was apparent at the outset that Hart was strenuously opposed to the proposition to have Oakland appear in the case even as an amicus curiæ or friend of the court. His opposition to Oakland is explained by the action of the railroad now that it has frightened the Oakland attorneys off the field, in petitioning the court. If the court grants the petition, precisely the result aimed at when Oakland came in and demanded the claims will be attained—the State will lose all.

If there was collusion between Hart, as Attorney-General, and the railroad company, it was now the intention of either party that Oakland should appear in the case. The plan of the railroad was to defeat the State and then use its power in the Oakland City Council to have all water front cases dismissed, as has been done several times in the past. The railroad always counts on its solid six in the City Council.

The reopening of the case for decision as between the State and the railroad, can in no way affect Oakland's claim or standing.

If the court should hold that the act of the Legislature transferring the water front in trust to the town of Oakland was and is valid, the issue narrows to a question of the legality or illegality of the Carpentier title.

That this Carpentier title is utterly and entirely void is demonstrated beyond the possibility of question in the brief filed by Oakland in the Hart case and it is upon this fact that I have maintained that the city cannot be hurried but may be greatly benefited by having the court decide the case upon the evidence and argument already presented.

Our legal attorneys and "the solid six" in the Council seem to forget that, in the case of the Oakland Water Front Company vs. Dameron et al. the railroad put in its whole title and anything and everything that could be construed into support of that title, yet before the defendants had offered a particle of evidence the court ordered that it be adjudged and decreed that the plaintiff the Oakland Water Front Company, which is the railroad company, take nothing, and that it be nonsuited.

My argument in support of asking the court to decide the case, as between Oakland and the railroad, on the argument and testimony now submitted, is based on the assumption that every particle of evidence offered by the railroad in support of its claim—and it was all the evidence it ever can offer—is as fully and irrefutably answered in the brief filed by Oakland's special counsel, as it ever can be. If in the future we, for the twentieth time, fight our case to the falling down point we will never present it stronger than it is now presented. J. M. BASSETT

THE CITY'S CASE.

A Discussion Is to Be Handed Down Soon.

When the Board of Works' Deadlock Will All Be Settled.

The suit of Robert Hughes and W. N. Miller against John I. Davie, Arthur Wilson and J. K. Piersol, to oust them as members of the Board of Public Works, has been submitted to the Superior Judges. The time for briefs is up on both sides, and all the arguments have been made on paper. It now remains for the four judges to give an opinion.

Judge Frick, in whose department the case is pending, says that he is anxious to take up the matter at an early day and render an opinion. Before any action is taken, however, he will have to consult his brother judges, because they are as deeply interested in the decision as Judge Frick, having been called in to hear the arguments. It is not an easy matter to get the four Superior Judges together, for the reason that they are busy with the business of their departments. It will be arranged, however, so that a consultation will be held before vacation, when the judges will discuss the many law points brought up in the briefs on both sides.

The judges intend to be very careful in giving an opinion, because it is almost certain that the defeated side will take the case to the Supreme Court.

The plaintiffs in the case are just as anxious for a decision as the defendants. It is desired all around to have the matter settled as soon as possible. The present Board of Public Works does not want to make any changes in the various departments while the case is pending in court. Under the law the judges have ninety days in which to render an opinion after the case is submitted. In the present suit however, the judges will not take the limit. There is a disposition among them to give a decision at an early day.

LONG DEFERRED.

The Twenty-third Avenue Liquor Licenses to Come Up.

The question of granting liquor licenses to saloon-keepers in the Twenty-third avenue district will be under consideration by the License Committee of the Council this evening. There has been a rather prolonged fight on the proposition since seven of the saloon-keepers combined recently in an application for the issuance of licenses to them. As soon as the fact was made known that the fight for licenses had been renewed, a number of residents in the district reopened the fight of several years ago. Since the applications were placed in the hands of the committee, there have been several postponements of the matter. Tonight the License Committee will be in session and an effort will be made to dispose of the matter.

PATRIOTIC.

Oakland to Have a Big Time on the Fourth.

The Merchants' Exchange Doing Good Work.

All Classes Must Unite to Make the Day a Success.

Oakland proposes to have a Fourth of July celebration this year that will far outdo anything that has occurred here before. Great enthusiasm has already been aroused among the merchants of the city and they intend to stir up such a feeling of patriotic pride that the entire community will turn out to share in the success of the holiday.

The movement for a big celebration of the 4th has already assumed much larger proportions than ever before. The feature of the preliminary work will be an effort to prepare such a demonstration as will induce the thousands who usually leave Alameda county to go across the bay will be glad to remain here and join with Oakland in gay celebration. It looks now as if the Merchants' Exchange had touched the right chord and will develop throughout the city and county such an enthusiasm as is felt among its members.

The Fourth of July Committee of the exchange is holding meetings daily, and lively sessions they are. The exchange will ask every one to co-operate with it in this project. Its leading members are brimful of the possibilities. Here is what a few of them say.

Theodore Gier—The enthusiasm expressed for our celebration is unexampled in the history of Oakland. There is not a man, woman or child who is not talking about it, and everybody is interested. Oakland is on the eve of a big boom, which will place it at once on a par with the great cities of the West, and this Fourth of July celebration is one of the features which will go far toward assisting and pushing that boom.

George W. Arper—The Fourth of July, 1895, will go down in history as the grandest day ever celebrated on the Pacific coast. It will mark a new era in our progress. Since that Jubilee fete the people have awakened to what they can do, and hereafter there will be no diminishment in their ardor and enthusiasm. It is about time that we stopped going to San Francisco to celebrate these natal days. Oakland can get up an [illegible] an event as any city in the land, and that of this year will be but the commencement.

George L. Fairchild. "I never saw such an unanimous awakening of the public interest. There is not a man in Oakland who has not viewed the project as one worthy of the very highest efforts to make it a glorious success. It is the most popular movement ever inaugurated on the coast, and one which will long be remembered as the natal day of Oakland."

"I am most happy to see such a general betokening of interest in the welfare of our city. The time has come for us to shake off the old feeling of narrowness and prejudice, and I think that it is right here. The merchants are united, and so are all of the Oakland people, and I think that when the sun goes down on the Fourth of July, it will mark the closing of an event which has eclipsed the celebrations of the whole country."

The Board of Trade is in line. "This celebration is a grand idea," said President M. J. Keller. "It is not hard to get up a celebration in Oakland, provided that you get the right men at the head of it. The people here are always willing to turn out and follow an aggregation of good leaders, and I know of no more powerful array of names than those who have charge of this event. The Board of Trade got up a celebration here seven years ago, which was one of Oakland's greatest days. The total expenses of that affair were only $1500 and there were 50 000 people brought in from surrounding towns. Special trains carrying people for half fare were brought from San Jose, Santa Rosa and other places, and every one of them was loaded."

The general committee as chosen at last night's meeting is as follows:

Hon. John L. Davie, D. C. Brown, George L. Fish, F. Sinclair, P. M. Fisher, J. W. Nelson, G. P. Daniels, J. J. White, Theo. Gier, George W. Arper, Webb N. Pierce, Major E. A. Sherman, W. V. Witcher, Dr. J. L. Mayon, J. Allen, George I. Nesbe, M. Jonas, H. O. Frowbridge, George B. Fairchild, Dr. P. P. Dunn, S. Samuels, A. Sellinger, F. C. Howe, Alameda, F. L. Girard, William Winnie, C. S. Neal, Alameda, D. W. Martin, Alameda, Gove I. Roberts, San Lorenzo, A. H. Root, Albert Kayser, president, O. F. V. Ralph W. Kinney, Berkeley, J. W. Phillips, W. R. Davis, J. W. Laymance, W. Frank Pierce, J. L. Lyon, C. Root, R. Crist, C. H. Hawbaker, G. W. Fisher, H. C. Coward, Daniel Crowley, Herman Gard, P. J. Keller, Piedmont, W. J. Landers, San Leandro, L. E. Osgood, Irvington, C. R. Ford, Niles, Charles Long, Haywards, J. W. Evans, Henry W. Taylor, Berkeley, Mrs. Henry Wetherbee, Mrs. Charles Webb Howard, Mrs. William J. Dingee, Mrs. E. C. Borland, Mrs. Dr. A. Fine.

Five more ladies will be selected and placed on the committee.

G. B. Daniel, G. W. Arper, P. M. Fisher, Dr. J. L. Mayon and F. Sinclair were appointed a committee to formulate a programme for the day and submit it to the General Committee for consideration.

The following committees will be appointed by the chairman at the next meeting: Finance, seven members, Parade, five members, Entertainment, seven members, Illuminations and Fireworks, five members, Decoration, seven members, Transportation, three members; Advertising, five members, Literary Exercises, five members. The Programme Committee was instructed to prepare exercises to fill the entire day from the firing of anvils in the early morning until after the fireworks in the evening.

TOO MUCH NOISE.

An Hotel Man Complains of the Salvation Army.

J. L. Ludeman, proprietor of Winter's Hotel at Fifteenth street and Broadway, has made a complaint to the Chief of Police that the Salvation Army is disturbing the slumbers of his lodgers, who are mainly workingmen, by the noise from the army's big tent on the lot adjoining the hotel on Broadway. Ludeman says his patrons complain that the nightly devotional and soul saving exercises of the army with brass band accompaniment are distasteful to his sleeping lodgers, who retire at an early hour.

A PROFESSOR'S WORDS.

DO YOU HAVE THEM?

Certain Hints That Cannot Fail to Be of Great Value to Intelligent Readers.

(Herald)

I overheard a remark made by a prominent professor at the Club the other evening, which greatly impressed me. He said in substance:

Why do people try to tone up their systems, purify the blood at this season of the year. Is it not largely habit? The blood undergoes changes every day of the life, and if people could only see that by keeping the head clear, the liver vigorous and the kidneys active their blood would, of course, be pure all the time, they would save much care and annoyance."

You evidently do not believe in Spring blood purifiers, doctor, I ventured to ask.

"Certainly not. Keep the body in the condition I have described and no man or woman will need any further. I have seen a great deal of life and understand the needs of people and I don't hesitate to state to you that it overworked men, weak women and even puny children would keep the kidneys and liver healthy they would not be sick or need any blood purifiers. I will go far her and state that the use of that greatest of modern discoveries, Warner's Safe Cure, will prevent six cases out of ten, and at all seasons, and hence prevent all the Spring annoyances of which we hear so much.

I think the doctor is right. I certainly know from my own experience that the head aches, drowsiness and [illegible] of which I have so often at times suffered to my blood arose from no other cause than that my liver or kidneys were out of order. I am pleased to say, however, I have not experienced any trouble of this kind for a number of years to come so long as I understand what I do now and realize that there is no great a remedy within my reach.

HIS WARRANT WITHHELD.

City Wharfinger Rutherford and the Mayor.

The salary warrant of City Wharfinger C. B. Rutherford has been withheld by Auditor Snow in compliance with an order to that effect from Mayor Davie, who claims that Rutherford was illegally appointed by the City Council. The Mayor holds that the appointing power rests in the Board of Public Works. Rutherford will have to sue to recover the warrant, and a decision would, in that event, involve the Mayor's contention.

SCHAFER RETIRES.

HOPE IS DYING.

No More Survivors Have Been Heard From.

Official Advices at Washington of the Disaster.

It Is Stated That One Hundred and Seventy Are Drowned.

Half a Million of American Treasure is at the Mercy of Pirates.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—The State Department officials are doing all in their power to relieve the American survivors of the steamer Colima.

The first official news of the disaster came to Assistant Secretary Rockhill from United States Consul De Cima at Mazatlan.

He reported 170 lives lost, and that the ship had on board "half a million in American interests," supposedly referring to goods belonging to American shippers.

He asked whether he should proceed to the scene of the wreck.

Rockhill instructed him to do so at once, and if he could render any assistance to report to the department.

A message was also sent to United States Consul Bartlett at Acapulco to learn whether he could be of any assistance, and instructing him to cooperate with the Consul at Mazatlan.

The coast near Manzanillo where the Colima is stranded is wild, and thieves are likely to loot the ship unless steps are taken to guard her.

HARD TO GET REPORTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Little hope is now entertained for the safety of the missing passengers of the Colima.

No new details were received this morning by the Pacific Mail Company.

Mrs. C. H. Cushing received a telegram from her son, picked up by the San Juan, dated Mazatlan, saying he is returning on the San Juan.

The officials of the steamship company still say they have not given up hope for the missing passengers, but everyone else has.

WORD FROM CHAS. CUSHING.

He Sends a Dispatch From Manzanillo.

The relatives of the Cushing brothers, who live at 870 Adeline street, are patiently waiting for news of the wreck. Last evening the family received the following dispatch from Charles H. Cushing Jr., who was a passenger on the Colima:

"Am here. Return on San Juan."

The dispatch was sent from Manzanillo.

"This is all we have heard from our brothers," said Miss Cushing this afternoon. "We have not heard one word from George, who was also on the steamer."

COLLIDED IN A FOG.

Two Big Steamers Meet on Lake Michigan.

ALPENA, Mich., May 31.—During a heavy fog last night the Canadian steamer Jack, a flat-boat bound down with lumber, collided with the steel steamer Norman of Menominee, opposite the middle of the island.

The Norman sank immediately. The cook, wheelsman and fireman were drowned.

The barge Sisckon picked up the rest of the crew.

The Norman was valued at $200,000, and insured for $175,000.

The Jack is badly damaged.

Tugs have gone to bring her in.

A Murderer Shows Great Nerve on the Scaffold.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., May 31.—Douglas Henderson and Frank Joffrey were hanged here this morning for the murder of James Towle at Cartersville last winter.

Henderson walked to the gallows smoking a cigar. He said: "Gentlemen—I am here to tell you good-bye. I hope I will meet you in heaven. I want to warn you to all keep out of bad company."

Jeffrey showed signs of nervousness. He said: "I am going to die for a crime I never committed."

FOR REFORM.

A Municipal League Convention in Progress.

San Francisco and Local Phases Talked of.

Suggestions for Good Government Are Being Given.

CLEVELAND, O., May 31.—At the session of the National Municipal League today, Charles Richardson, first president, read a paper on "Municipal Government by National Parties."

E. L. Graves of Seattle, Wash., made an address.

Secretary Clinton Rogers Woodruff read a paper on the "Municipal Condition of Portland, Oregon," by Thomas N. Strong, third vice president of the League, who was unable to be present.

Isaac T. Milliken spoke on the "Municipal Condition of San Francisco."

Mr. Milliken began with the consolidation in 1856 of the city and a portion of what had been the county, into the present city of San Francisco, which was extemporaneous with the final acts of the old Vigilance Committee, the historical doings of which and the spirit imbuing it, he added, left more than a transient mark.

Coming down to local reform movements, he named the various reform and civic associations whose efforts have been bent toward bringing about good government.

Another step in this direction, he continued, has been the passage, by the recent session of the Legislature, of several bills in the interest of pure elections.

One of these relates to primary elections, which Mr. Milliken asserts, "have become so farcial as to be shunned by the better class of voters in both the old parties."

Great hopes are entertained that the better element will make itself felt under the new rule.

There is much to be said in praise of San Francisco, though it is not in all respects an ideal city. It is a long time since the Vigilance Committee. But there is no city in the Union with a quarter of a million people (excepting Cleveland) which would not be the better for a little judicious hanging.

"The difficulties to be met," he said, "are in general similar to those of other cosmopolitan cities. New York furnishes lodgers and voters for Long Island, Staten Island and the choice residence parties of New Jersey. San Francisco does the same for Alameda, Marin and San Mateo counties. But recent developments show that when the best elements of New York are united in municipal reform they can control.

"In common with our sister cities, we must reach a condition under which citizens may accept and even aspire to public office and not debase themselves by venal pledges and agreements in advance. Public and semi-public corporations must learn and are beginning to realize that bribery, subsidy and deceit cost more in the long run than will frank dealing with their patrons. In bringing about all these needed improvements, the National Municipal League cannot fail to prove a leading factor."

WHAT CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR DOES.

J. W. Baer of Boston then spoke on "The Work of Christian Endeavor Societies in Behalf of Christian Citizens."

Mr. Baer began his address by quoting from the address made by Francis E. Clark, president of the Christian Endeavor Societies, at the conventions held in Montreal in July, 1893, and in Cleveland last July, and in the Christian Endeavor campaign for Christian citizenship.

He then exhaustively discussed the work of the various subordinate unions of the society in different cities throughout the country. In this connection he said:

"I find, in going over the reports that have come to me from almost every large city in the land, that there is a great similarity in the work accomplished and the methods employed.

"Citizenship clubs have been organized and the various departments of education, temperance, literature, relief, arousing public sentiment, expressing public sentiment in petitions and meetings, putting forward good men and measures and defeating bad ones in the primaries, at the polls and in the Councils of city and State, enforcing laws already gained, strengthening the hands of honest officials and exposing corruption, have all been emphasized and brought to the attention of thousands and thousands of readers. The result has been good, but what has been done gives good promise of better plans and work in the future."

FROM EXPERT VIEWS.

John Billings then spoke on "Good City Government From the Standpoint of the Physician and Sanitarian."

"From the point of view of the physician," began Dr. Billings, "the best city government is that which best preserves the health of the people, best cares for the sick and injured who require municipal aid and gives most opportunities for the increase and diffusion of medical knowledge, which at the same time interferes least with the freedom of individuals in general to use their time, their knowledge and their property in their own way and for their own benefit. The sanitarian also considers that the best city government is that which preserves the health of the people, but with the provision that it be done at a reasonable cost."

Discussing the means of securing a perfect health system, Dr. Billings said:

"No system will prove satisfactory which prevents the chiefs of the Health and Engineering Departments from presenting their plans and estimates directly to the Mayor for street cleaning, and the city should own the plant and employ its own men under the direction of the Engineering Department."

Dr. Billings outlined the methods by which the various desiderata mentioned by him should be provided for by a city government. Proceeding, he said:

"I believe that the statements of the present evils of a city life are remedial and that science is competent to answer the problems connected with this.

"But science is a matter of fact, of quantities, of measurement—it must have data to work with, and the first thing needed for most of our cities is to obtain those data.

"I am much inclined to believe that the wisest thing a city could do would be to have its health and engineering departments inspected by a committee composed of an expert statistician, a skilled sanitarian and an experienced municipal engineer from elsewhere for the purpose, who should take from one to six months to do their work and then report the results, with their recommendations.

"The citizens would then know what of these parts of the municipal machinery are in good order and what are not.

"Each city presents its own peculiar problems, but, in many cases, these problems can be better solved by experts called from other cities than by those likely to be selected from the citizens of the place itself."

FURIOUS FLAMES

Mrs. Hayward's Residence Now in Ashes.

A Mysterious Blaze Started Up at Midnight.

About $4000 Worth of Property Goes Up in Smoke.

There was a mysterious fire early this morning which completely destroyed the residence of Mrs. Hayward on Grove street, between Forty-second and Forty-third streets.

The locality is six or seven blocks beyond the city limits, but the reflection in the northern sky of the red flames was so great that there was a general turnout at the Fire Department headquarters on Fifteenth street in expectancy of a call.

The fire started shortly before midnight and made very rapid headway. A high wind was blowing and this assisted the flames in spreading through the dwelling with great rapidity.

The peculiar feature connected with the fire is the fact that the members of the family were absent. Mrs. Hayward, who owned the burned dwelling, was in San Pablo last night and her daughter, Miss Hayward, was in San Francisco.

The neighbors were unable to give any idea of the cause of the fire. It was well under headway when discovered and burned so fiercely that nothing could be saved from the burning dwelling.

The residence was a large two-story structure. It stood on a capacious lot and the nearest house to it was about 100 feet away. This accounted for the fact that the fire did not spread. The high wind which blew during the night was dangerous, and had the dwelling been less isolated there would have been much greater loss.

The fire aroused the entire neighborhood and there was a great deal of anxiety expressed at one time, as the damage from a spread of the flames was very imminent.

The loss will be in the neighborhood of $1000.

HE COULD NOT SWIM.

One of the T. C. Walker's Crew Is Drowned.

STOCKTON, Cal., May 31.—William Olson, assistant engineer of the T. C. Walker, was drowned in the Stockton Channel this morning.

He was repairing the stern wheel and either slipped or was attacked with dizziness and fell into the water.

He could not swim. His body was found shortly after noon.

Olson had been employed on the river boats plying between this city and San Francisco for many years.

Against a Strike.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 31.—The National Bituminous Miners' Organization has decided against a general strike and has declared a 60 per cent rate in force in the Pittsburg district and the West Virginia basis for settlement in the other districts. A joint meeting of miner's delegates and mine owners will now be called to settle the Ohio, Indiana and Illinois rates.

VERY TRICKY.

But Tom Hickey Was Not Quite Smart Enough.

One of the Jail-Breakers Landed in Nevada.

He Endeavored to Cast His Identity on a Dead Tramp.

Sheriff White received a telegram from Reno, Nev., this morning informing him that Thomas Hickey, the notorious member of the Salvation Army, who, with three other prisoners, escaped from the County Jail a few days ago, had been captured. The Sheriff was requested to send a deputy to Reno at once to bring the prisoner back to this city. Chief Jailer Al. White will leave for Nevada on the evening train with the necessary papers for Hickey's return.

Hickey was caught in a very peculiar manner. He was riding on a freight train with a tramp, when the latter lost his balance and fell beneath the wheels. The poor fellow was literally ground to pieces so that he could not be recognized.

Hickey thought that he would play a shrewd game and divert attention from him. He went to the officials and informed them that the man who was killed was Thomas Hickey, the prisoner who escaped from the County Jail in Oakland. Just as soon as he gave this information the officers became suspicious and turned their attention to the man who seemed to know so much about Hickey. They watched him for a few hours and then became satisfied that he was the original Hickey. The fellow was sent to prison, and then a photograph was secured and all doubt as to the prisoner's identity was cast aside. Just as soon as his identity was made certain a dispatch was sent to Sheriff White. The latter is particularly pleased to get Hickey, as he is the man who planned the escape from the jail. As trusty of the corridor, he had every opportunity to prepare for the jail break.

The Sheriff also received word today that Dempsey and Dunton had been shot at near Rosedale, north of Sacramento. A Constable started to arrest them and they made for the woods. The officer fired at the fugitives and he believes that he shot Dunton in the leg. The escapes made for the woods and managed to get away. They are now supposed to be in the vicinity of the town. The Sheriff has sent out a number of telegrams, asking the various officers to keep a sharp lookout for the men.

HERE TONIGHT.

The Hawaiian Band Will Give a Fine Concert.

Native Melodies and Selected Standard Music.

King Kalakaua's Celebrated Orchestra to Hold Forth.

One of the best military bands in the world will be in Oakland this evening, for at the First Congregational Church the famous Hawaiian Band will give a grand concert. This orchestra ranks very high in musical circles, for it has been brought to a superb standard of excellence, and has won international fame through its magnificent entertainments at the Islands.

There are forty skilled musicians in the orchestra, and they are the pick of the talent of Hawaii. They render, with full brass accompaniments, the best operatic music, and play with a precision and tone that ranks them above even the Scheel and Souza bands.

But this is not all their accomplishments. Interspersed with the standard selections are the Hawaiian songs, melodies and marches, and these are rendered vocally as well as instrumentally. Tamanaichos are used for accompaniment for the native ones, and the effect of the forty islanders singing the sweet refrains of their coral-girt homes is indescribably charming.

The programme is the best that possibly could have been selected. The famous farewell "Aloha oe" will be sung, and those who have ever heard the plaintive Hawaiian music will be glad to hear it again. Then there will be the world-renowned Royal Hawaiian March, which was invariably played in the days of the royal regime. In the palace yards it was customary for King Kalakaua to give grand concerts on the occasion of any noted visitors, and thus it was that the band first won fame.

At the Midwinter Fair an orchestra bearing the title of the Hawaiian Band played for a short time, but it was not the original band, as this is the first time it has been in America since the death of King Kalakaua. On that occasion it was sent over to escort his remains back to the islands, and those who witnessed the impressive ceremonies when the funeral left the Market street ferry for Honolulu will recall the impressive and touching music that the Hawaiians played as the casket was carried to the ship.

The island songs have a charm that is attached to no other nation. There is a dreamy swing and a soulful melody in the intonation that with trained voices is inexpressibly beautiful. Those who have heard the music once will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity this evening to participate in it again, and to those to whom the Hawaiian music is something new there will be a novel and interesting entertainment well worth attending.

A big demand for tickets assures a splendid house, and as the price of admission has been placed at a uniform rate of 50 cents, all should attend. The Hawaiians will arrive from San Francisco on the 7 o'clock boat, and on reaching Broadway at 7:30, will form in parade and march to the church.

This is the first and last and therefore the only opportunity to hear the band play here previous to its departure for the Islands.

All Oakland Is Interested in Stamp Sales.

It Means Needed Increases in the Service.

Postmaster White Tells Why He Cannot Get More Carriers.

Postmaster J. J. White is seeking, through all the means in his power to increase the efficiency of the Postoffice service in this city. He has, however, found himself rather seriously handicapped through the failure of many Oaklanders to fully appreciate the conditions that obtain in that department of the government with especial relation to local surroundings.

During the past year Postmaster White has brought the office up to as excellent a standard for service as could be possible under the conditions. Many improvements have been effected. The facilities for better service have been increased. In brief, he has kept right at the helm and at every possible opportunity has made a stroke for the Oak and Postoffice.

Notwithstanding this the people of this city have contributed to cause a difficulty in securing still greater facilities by their failure to realize that to get them they must assist the Postmaster.

The local postoffice, like every office in the country, is regulated by the Postoffice Department, so far as service and equipment is concerned, upon its receipts, as compared with its expenses. For example, Postmaster White has made three requests for an increase in carriers during the year that he has been in charge. Each time the request was denied. The refusal to grant the increase was based upon the fact that the receipts did not justify the increase in operating expenses.

WHAT THE FIGURES SHOW.

Last year the receipts of the local office were $90,000. The cost of maintaining the office was 57 per cent of that amount. This includes only the cost of operating the office itself. Rent, salaries of carriers, clerks, rusterials, etc., merely the running expenses of the office.

WHAT MR. WHITE SAYS.

Postmaster White wants at least five additional carriers. He says that number would serve very well in covering the city as he would like to. In order to secure them he believes the receipts of the office should be increased at least one-third. It has been estimated that San Francisco derives at least that amount of the revenue from stamp sales that properly belong to Oakland.

"The figures almost speak for themselves," said Postmaster White today, when discussing the question of better service. "The branch station D, at the foot of Market street, sold $142,000 worth of stamps, envelopes, etc., last year to our $90,000. Where did that great difference come? Why, I am satisfied that fully one-third of that revenue should come to Oakland.

"Our people forget sometimes when they demand better service that they are not contributing their share toward securing it. They must remember the basis upon which carriers and clerks are granted an office. Now if I could only convince the people that they should purchase their stamps in Oakland, it would accomplish a great deal.

"If they would not drop in at the ferry landing station, but buy at home where they are and want to have the benefit of a service, the receipts would soon be increased to a point where the Government would recognize our request.

There are several reasons why the cost of maintaining the Oakland office is greater in proportion than any city of its class in the United States. The geographical conditions are such, and the population is scattered over so wide a territory, that the city embraces a very large territory to be covered. The Government expects a carrier to serve a certain number of thousands of people. Now, where houses are a block apart, it is very difficult, even impossible to reach the standard set within the small force at our command. There is a large territory, in the northern portion of the city, where dwell some of the wealthiest people here. We are unable to give them any service and they are obliged to come to the Postoffice for their mail.

"It seems to be all the more necessary now that our people should see this matter, as we have just received certain orders that will cause a flat reduction in our income of $6000 a year. This is from the sale of special request envelopes to residents outside of Oakland. These special request envelopes are printed by the Government to order with the name and address of the business firm ordering them. From San Francisco we have been receiving orders to the amount of $400 to $600 a month, but the department has ordered the sale shut off except to persons who are residents of the place whence the order is given. These instructions came last month, and cause the falling off of a trade that has been done for eight or ten years past.

"The revenue of the office has fallen behind somewhat during the past year, for several reasons. One of the principal causes is the dull times. There was a slight increase, however, for the quarter ending December 31st over the corresponding period of 1893. But the chief difficulty is in the failure of the people to buy at home, and thus co-operate with the Postmaster on the lines I have mentioned.

"One often hears a person say: 'What difference does it make where I buy stamps? The Government gets it all any way.' I think, however, that with an understanding of the conditions as they exist, our Oakland people who are anxious for better mail service and increased facilities in all departments of the local Postoffice will come to the conclusion that every dollar they turn into the Oakland postoffice will be a step in the direction of improvement."

Postmaster White has labored hard during his term of office to give the city a first-class service. His remarks on the situation are apt and throw much light on a subject that appears not to be fully understood. It is undoubtedly to the interest of the city to heed his words in the matter.

BIMETALLISM.

It Will Be the Republican Cry Next Campaign.

A Vigorous Foreign Policy for the Platform.

Chairman Carter of the National Body Speaks Out.

New York, May 31.—Thomas H. Carter, chairman of the Republican National Committee, in a public statement, says:

"In 1896, the Republican party will stand for protection and restoration of bi-metallism on a substantial and enduring basis.

"There may be differences of opinion on the schedules, but not upon the principles of protection.

"There will be differences of opinion as to the best course to pursue to secure free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at a fixed ratio, but there will be no difference of opinion as to the desirability of bringing about the result.

"Upon one question there will be neither a difference of opinion, as to the general principal involved, nor the means to be employed.

"That is with reference to the restoration of a vigorous foreign policy."

RACKET AND BALL.

All Is Played Now but the Semi-Finals.

It Now Pretty Well Assured That Byxbee Will Win.

The game of tennis was revived in Oakland yesterday, when the Lakeside courts were opened with a handicap tournament. Some of the well-known local players came to the front again. Sam Hardy, the coast champion, was beaten by Selby, as the former was heavily handicapped. The score for the day and handicaps are as follows:

Preliminary round—Alexander (owe 15)-Magee (15), won by Magee, 6—1, 3—6, 6—4; Gage (half 30)-McFarlin (15), defaulted; Sharon (15)-Everett (scratch), won by Everett, 6—2, 6—2; Hatch (scratch)-R. Chickering (15), won by Hatch by default; Jacobs defaulted to Smith; Bowen to Selby; Kaeser to Baker; Hardy (owe 30)-English (owe 30), won by Hardy, 6—2, 6—2; Travers defaulted to Frost; Chickering (owe 15)-Kerr (half 30), won by Chickering, 6—4, 6—3; Brown defaulted to Hussey; Aimes defaulted to Spencer; Baldwin (scratch)-Anthony (half 30), won by Baldwin, 6—3, 6—2; Manvais defaulted to Finn; O'Brien to Byxbee.

Second round—Magee won by default of Gage and McFarlin in the preliminaries; Everett-Hatch, won by Hatch, 6—0, 6—4; Smith-Selby, won by Selby, 6—2, 6—0; Kaeser-Hardy, won by Hardy, 7—5, 8—6; Frost won by default of McEane and Pierce in the preliminaries; Hussey defaulted to Chickering; Spencer-Baldwin, won by Baldwin, 4—6, 6—1, 6—2; Finn-Byxbee, won by Byxbee, 6—4, 8—6.

Third round—Magee-Hatch, won by Hatch, 6—3, 10—8; Selby-Hardy, won by Selby, 6—2, 6—2; Frost-Chickering, won by Frost, 6—1, 6—1.

The last match of the third round was played off this morning. Lloyd Baldwin and Howard Byxbee were the contestants. It was the hardest fought match of the tournament and was won by Byxbee, score 6—4, 6—8, 7—5. This brings the contest down to the semi-finals, between Hatch, Selby, Frost and Baldwin. These and the finals will be played off some day next week. Now that Hardy is out of the race, Byxbee is expected to win.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

M. W. Bitterry Falls From an Electric Car.

M. W. Bitterry, who resides at 550 Forty-sixth street, had a narrow escape from being killed late last night. He was a passenger on the Telegraph avenue electric car and while attempting to alight at the corner of Sixth and Broadway he missed his footing and was thrown on his head. The wheels of the car just missed his body. Bitterry received a deep scalp wound and was rendered unconscious by the fall. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

A CHOKED SEWER.

Trouble at the New Lafayette School Building.

The sanitary conditions at the new Lafayette school, on West and Seventeenth streets, are reported to be so bad that the school will have to be closed tomorrow unless immediate repairs are made. The sewer which connects with the buildings is reported to be choked and it has left the school in a bad state. Department Mechanic Carlin has been notified and Mayor Davis has ordered that the necessary repairs be made as quickly as possible.

A NEW DEAL.

Reliance Men Want to Clear Up Their Debts.

Subscriptions Are Handed in by the Members.

About $8000 of Old Bills to Be Put On ef the Way.

The members of the Reliance Athletic Club held a meeting Wednesday night the purpose of discussing the financial condition of the club. The meeting was called at the instance of the directors who desired to discuss matters with the members.

The gathering was the most important held at the clubrooms for a long time. President Fitzgerald made an address to the members and explained to them in detail just how the finances stand.

It was stated that the club is about $8,000 in debt. The creditors are all willing to do the square thing and assist the club in every way. The directors hold a meeting with the creditors and the whole situation was explained. The creditors finally made the proposition that they would settle their claims for 60 cents on the dollar providing a settlement can be made within sixty days. It is not to be understood, however, that the club is bankrupt by any means. The assets of the organization will far exceed the liabilities. It is simply a question of raising money at once in order to wipe out the debts so that the club may start out on a firm financial basis. The creditors are anxious to assist in every way possible, and that is the reason why they made such a favorable proposition to the directors.

President Fitzgerald explained to the members that the club was never in a better condition than it is at the present time. It is being run on a paying basis, and the income exceeds the expenses by $100 a month.

The members seemed to be of the opinion that the proposition of the creditors was a very good one and should be accepted. It was decided to try and raise the money to pay the debts at once.

Voluntary subscriptions were called for and the members responded in fine style. Among the largest subscriptions made were those of R. M. Fitzgerald, $100; Phil Remillard, $50; George Morrow, $50; John A. Britton, $50, and E. B. Jerome, $50. There were scores of others who signed the subscription list.

The finest kind of a showing was made in the line of subscriptions. The members were thoroughly worked up on the proposition and they want to see the old debt wiped out.

Landlord Nordmann came to the front in a very liberal manner. He reduced the rent of the club $50 a month. Under the present conditions this action was very much appreciated by the members of the club.

The Reliance Club has always done things up in swell style, and that is the reason it is now in debt. The football team last fall cost a great deal of money. A training table and quarters had to be maintained for the boys, and there was much expense attached to the whole thing. The baseball team has had to be maintained at some little expense. Then again the club has given several very fine entertainments and these were all expensive and brought in no revenue. However the officers of the club are now well satisfied with the outlook.

LESS THAN HALF PRICE.

A Notable Sale at the Famous Clothing House.

The Famous Clothing store, 907, 909, 911 and 913 Broadway, between Eighth and Ninth streets, has been closed for two days in order to make arrangements for a great smoke and water sale of thousands of dollars worth of clothing, hats, furnishing goods, etc., beginning tomorrow at 9 o'clock in the morning.

This sale will comprise goods slightly damaged in the conflagration at the celebrated house of Dunbar, Dickson & Co., of Newark, N. J.

The goods were bought by M. Hyman & Co. of the Famous Clothing Store of this city, by whom they will be sold at the rate of 47 cents on the dollar.

These goods are all in excellent condition and will be sold according to the price list, which purchasers are requested to compare with the prices marked on the articles offered for sale. Where goods are damaged in a certain manner they will be given away for nothing.

No other house on the Pacific coast could offer such advantages. The Famous Clothing Store, however, having purchased the goods at the underwriter's sale, will make a handsome sum out of the venture.

The sale will commence at 9 A. M. sharp tomorrow.

Store Clerks Want All Business Stopped on Sunday.

The Federated Trades Have Taken the Matter in Hand.

The regular meeting of the Federated Trades was held last evening.

The organizing committee reported that two new unions are being organized.

The Retail Clerks' Association appointed a committee of three to confer with the Merchants' Exchange with regard to the Fourth of July celebration.

The patrol in the matter of the Sunday opening of stores reported that it is still doing effective work.

The Bakers reported progress in the matter of the Log Cabin Bakery boycott.

The Typographical Union reported that it had appointed a committee to arrange for a place in the Fourth of July parade.

The firm of Jones & Stillwell, printers, on San Pablo avenue, was placed on the black list, and the attention of the friends of labor is called to the fact.

The following resolutions were then adopted:

"WHEREAS, By the recent decisions of the United Supreme Court E. V. Debs and others are to be imprisoned for a term for an alleged violation of the Inter-State Commerce law;

"Resolved, That the Alameda County Federation of Trades views such decisions of said court with alarm and considers it a dangerous precedent in so far as it touches labor.

"Resolved, That we also view said decision as contrary to the principle of the Declaration of Independence and American constitutional liberty, and deserving of the unqualified condemnation of all American citizens, especially of organized labor throughout the United States."

The Haywards Theater.

The following programme, selected for the opening night (tomorrow) of the Castro Street Theater, is very attractive, as only first-class vaudeville people have been engaged: Miss Agnes Hartung, vocalist; Harvey and Howard, acrobats; Avira, the female Carmencita; Durant and Woods' comedy musical team; Miss Lulu Kemp, female clog dancer; Professor Martin and troupe of trained dogs; Miss Edna Marshall, serio-comic song and dance artist; O. W. Ellen, character actor and vocalist; Miss May Turner, dramatic soprano. With such an array of talent, the house will surely be packed. Popular prices are charged, 10, 20 and 35 cents.

TO CAMPERS!

Try Camp-Life in the Santa Cruz Mountains.

Don't be bothered with cooking when you go camping this season. Excellent meals will be served under a canopy at the camp of the "Jolly Hundred." If you have a tent the undersigned will call for it, ship the same and place it in position ready for your occupancy. The camp-ground is one of the most beautiful groves in the mountain, located 73 miles from San Francisco, on the lines of the narrow gauge railroad. Special trains leave Oakland and San Francisco every Saturday evening at 4:15, arriving at camp in three hours, returning Monday, at 9.50 A. M., enabling business men to visit families and friends in camp once a week without interfering with business. Those who intend joining this camp should do so before June 10th, so that the management can make the necessary arrangements before the opening of camp June 17th. Comfortably furnished tents will be provided on application. Talent especially invited. For further particulars address "Manager," 911 Fourth avenue, East Oakland.

FRIDAY..... MAY 31, 1895

THE Good Roads Association is giving line upon line and precept upon precept. The city has never had a street policy, and probably never will have until a public opinion has been created that has the force of law. One model street would go a long way toward bringing about a revolution. But where is the model street?

CHAUNCEY DEPEW recently gave a "harmony" dinner to a number of leaders of the Republican party. Ex-President Harrison was there and Governor McKinley, both candidates for a Presidential nomination. Ex-Speaker Reed was somewhere in the Maine woods and could not be reached. Ex-President Harrison, having had his portrait painted and having been present at Depew's harmony dinner, has now had his first grooming for his next political race. Ex-Secretary Whitney says that the tariff will not be a prominent issue in the next canvass. But ex-President Harrison holds the contrary view. The Republicans will not drop that issue in the next election.

Astronomer Barnard.

The report that Professor Barnard is about to retire from the Lick Observatory, is probably true. But the inference that he is about to retire on account of any disagreement with Director Holden is not safely drawn from any known facts. Professor Barnard has been invited to Chicago, where he may have more scope for his researches than he has had at Mount Hamilton. But it was there that he enjoyed the opportunity for making one of the most important astronomical discoveries of the age. It does not appear that he was in any way hindered in his investigations. He won a world-wide fame at the Lick Observatory.

Men of renown are constantly called to higher positions. Prof. Burnham went to Chicago some time ago. The Yerkes Observatory, near that city, although having a larger object glass, is not thought by astronomers to present the advantages for original investigation that belong to the Lick Observatory. Director Holden has been made the target for some unfriendly criticism, and some of it has been very unjust. He has done much of late to justify the early judgment that he is the right man in the right place.

The Right Hand of the President.

President Cleveland is about to appoint a new Secretary of State. There is not a little speculation as to who is the coming man. Ex-Secretary Whitney is more in the eye of the public in this connection than any other man. He differs from the late Secretary in many particulars. He has more of what might be called the génius for statesmanship. He has also political ambition. It is in the air that he is looking for a Presidential nomination from the Democratic party. He has recently made some very clear statements of his financial views. He is more definite in his expressions in this respect than Mr. Cleveland. Whitney has spoken for the right wing of the Democratic party on "sound money."

Promising that the ex-Secretary is really ambitious for a Presidental nomination, the office of Secretary of State could hardly help him to the higher office, unless there were some fortunate turns of administration. Whitney has political tact and that goes a great way to make a successful statesman. Gresham, a man of great ability, had very little tact, and the lack of it went a long way to make him unpopular. Whitney has more than once been able to bring the factions of his own party into unity and working order. No other man in his party has had as much influence in that respect as the ex-Secretary.

But would he be willing just now, to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for the benefit of some other political aspirant? He did it for Cleveland at the last Democratic convention, and his nomination then hinged upon the efforts for unity that Whitney made. It will be a fortunate circumstance for Cleveland if he can now bring Whitney into his Cabinet. Other men of mark have found that the office of Secretary of State led directly away from a Presidential nomination. It is not likely that the ex-Secretary will sacrifice any chances, if he really wants a Presiden-

The Great Disaster.

One of the greatest marine disasters that ever occurred on the Pacific Coast was the sinking of the Colima, involving the loss of somewhere from 160 to 180 lives. The exact number will not be known for some days. Many of the details reported will be subject to future revision. It was at first stated that the vessel was lost in calm weather. Subsequent reports affirm that the steamer had been caught in a gale, and that the spare fell, which killed the captain and other officers before the vessel struck the rocks. This last statement may well be questioned. It is not probable that the vessel encountered any gale that carried away her spars. These probably fell when the vessel struck the rocks. At any rate, that is the better theory until the facts are known.

That the vessel was out of her course by some miles, is probable. The disaster appears to be quite as much due to errors of position as to any other cause. Moreover, the vessel was not as far from the coast as was at first reported, because two or three persons were able to reach the land without the aid of boats. The killing of the captain and other officers by the falling of spars would account for the failure to launch the other boats in season to save the passengers.

It is not clear from the reports that they were launched at all. But the one boat that got away was able to live in the open water for many hours—a circumstance which casts a doubt over the story that the gale itself, if there was one, was sufficient to cause the disaster. When all the facts have been brought together, it will probably be found that the primary cause of the disaster was an error of navigation, that the vessel was out of her course by many miles.

This disaster is brought home to many families and persons in this city and county. Bright young men have gone down with the ship. Professor Whiting, late of the University at Berkeley, and his entire family have been swept out of existence. Choosing the marine journey home for his health, he went swiftly to his death. There will be mourning all over the Pacific Coast on account of this memorable disaster.

The Other Side of the Picture.

The Los Angeles Express is authority for the statement that there are about 1600 carloads of oranges remaining in Southern California to be shipped, with very little prospect of any profit. One citizen received as the net return of a carload of oranges $27 05, and others have done worse. Judge Ross is quoted as having 1200 boxes of oranges on the trees which he could not afford to ship at the present rate of freight. Most of the oranges have been shipped by the Atchison and Santa Fe railroad.

These accounts do not tally with earlier reports, which showed that the orange growers were making handsome profits. They had little or no competition of the Florida citrus growers this year, while the foreign competition does not appear to be greater than in former years. Some of the explanations for the difference do not appear in print. Oranges shipped at this season come in competition with strawberries, and with cherries and other fruits shipped from California.

The hunger for oranges is over for the present season. Then, the recent shipments might not have arrived in good order. Moreover, the quality of the fruit might not have been the best. Seedling oranges have sold at low prices during all the season. Navel oranges have brought nearly double the price of the others. When the accounts for the season are made up, it will probably be shown that the citrus growers of Southern California have had a fairly prosperous season.

With Some Grains of Allowance.

A telegram from New York of the 29th instant states that Mrs. Stanford feels very bitter toward the people of California for their attitude toward the Stanford estate, on which the prosperity of the school is dependent. Now as Mrs. Stanford is in California, and has just made her personal statement, we fail to find any such declarations of "bitterness." Public opinion has been strongly in favor of the permanent establishment of the University. All fair-minded citizens would regret to know that there would be any failure.

That a few persons may carry their feelings of hostility so far as to wish to see the institution close its doors, is not a matter of any great consequence. The permanence of the institution will not depend at all upon any such expressions. The whole question depends upon a judicial decision, which will be quite independent of all personal prejudices or petty hostility. There are very few people in California today whose opinion is worth anything, who would not sincerely regret any mishap to the University. It has already earned a good place in their confidence. It has justified all the money expenditure that has been made, and its existence and growth for a century. As for the "bitterness" on either side, if any exists, it is of very little consequence. The issue is one of justice and right, and not of personal prejudices that may be cherished by a few.

THE Art Association, which has just closed its spring exhibition in San Francisco, distributed sixteen pictures which the committee had purchased from the number exhibited, through voluntary contributions that had been made. These pictures were distributed by lot. "Sunset," by William Keith, a picture valued at not less than a thousand dollars, went to E. W. Hopkins. Yelland's "Haunted Wood" was another notable picture, that was drawn by a lady. Louise M. Carpenter's picture, "California Pumpkin Fields," was also drawn by a lady. Miss Carpenter is an Oakland artist, having a studio in the Macdonough building. She was a pupil of the Art school, and has taken high rank in her profession.

RUMOROUS

Possibly True—Here is the story of a man who says he never made love to a girl in his life. Do you believe it?

He—It may be true. Some fellows make a specialty of widows, you know.—Indianapolis Journal.

"All the symptoms, doctor, you say, of hay fever? But now" asked an Indian army officer on promotion and ecclesiastical views, when returning to England on long leave, "can one possibly get hay fever in mid-ocean?"

"I don't know," replied the doctor. "But we have several grass widows on board, and you have been a great deal in their society."—London World.

"Dumply seems wonderfully well satisfied with himself."

"Yes. There's no thing you can mention that he doesn't think he knows all about."

"Well, I suppose you can't blame him. He has no children old enough to ask questions and take the conceit out of him."—Washington Star.

The new woman idea doesn't seem to be very popular in Chicago. What they are looking for principally over there are new husbands.—Yonkers Statesman.

The New York World wants to know whether the new woman will hold pins in her mouth while she is dressing the baby. She will not; the new woman will have no babies to dress.—Detroit Sun.

"Kitty, what brings that young chucklehead of a Spoonamore to this house so often?"

"Why, Uncle Allen, he comes to see me."

"What do you know about him?"

"I know he's a very pleasant, agreeable young man, who belongs to a good family always dresses well, is in good circumstances, and is well educated and well read."

"What else do you know about him?"

"I know he hasn't the morals many young men have. He doesn't drink, smoke, gamble, attend prize fights or go into bad company."

"Does he keep a race horse?"

"Oh, no! I am sure he doesn't."

"Part his hair in the middle?"

"No."

"Let his little finger nails grow long?"

"No."

"Quote Ibsen?"

"Never."

"Chew gum?"

"Oh, no."

"Wear pointed whiskers?"

"He does not."

"Carry chocolate and caramels in his pocket?"

"No."

Woodnotes.

As sunbeams stream through liberal space
And nothing jostle or displease,
So would the pine tree through my thought
And launch the dreams it never brought.
"Better is better, the gift or the donor"
Come to me.
Quoth the pine tree,
"I am the giver of honor
My garden is the cloven rock,
And my manure the snow
And drifting sand heaps feed my stock,
In summer's scorching glow
He is great who can live by me.
The rough and beautiful forester
Is better than the cord,
God fills the scrip and canister,
Sir pilfers the barrel's board
The lord is the peasant that was,
The peasant the lord that shall be,
The lord is lazy, the peasant strong,
One dies and one the living free,
Who lives by the ragged pine
Foundeth a Doric line
Who liveth in the palace hall
Waiteth fast and spoils by all.
He goes to my savage haunts,
With his chariot and his care,
My twilight realm he disenchants,
And finds his prison there."—Emerson.

NOTES AND EXCERPTS.

Russia, after threatening Japan with war, and getting France and Germany to help her, because the Japanese proposed to annex a small part of the Continental territory of China, is now hinting at an occupation of Corea by her own forces. That is about the usual Russian style in dealing with Oriental powers.

The stock of the American Sugar Refining Company (the trust) is selling for about forty dollars a share more now than before the Democratic Tariff bill was passed, and the promised advance in the price of sugar is now coming. Still the Democrats denied that there was any favoritism for the sugar trust in their revenue scheme.

Queen Victoria has settled one point conclusively and over her own signature, and that is that the former Mrs. Hammersly will not be received at court as the Duchess of Marlborough. It is time for Mrs. Bradford to subside.

The Railroad Gazette in its next issue will publish a tabulation of orders for freight cars placed by railroad companies this year, which places the number at 23,029. Besides cars ordered, bids are out now for an additional 3000 cars approximately. The passenger cars ordered amount to seventy-two, with contracts for thirteen more to be given out shortly. This represents an investment of over ten million dollars. The Railroad Gazette says that the total output of the contracting car shops for five months of this year exceeds that of the entire year 1894 by over 5000 cars.—Chicago Times-Herald.

If Mexico adopts the proposed "extraction law" on gold and silver mines it will damage American interests badly enough, but not as badly as the interests of Mexico itself. It is chiefly on American money that Mexican mining properties must rely for development, and if the Government taxes it out of the country the Mexican mining business will collapse.

Farmers have taken to the bicycle in parts of Ohio, and they go to town on the wheel instead of driving. They make long trips in the same fashion to cities that hitherto they have seldom visited. One livery stable keeper in an Ohio town has bought some bicycles to rent. He says that everybody rides the wheel, while few persons ride or drive horses, so he is gradually changing the character of his business.

The fact that a party of 200 bicyclists, men and women, made a "century run" in the suburbs of New York on Sunday shows pretty conclusively that the wheel is a practical machine. To make a hundred miles between daybreak and dark by the output of one's own energy, unassisted by any other force, is certainly a notable achievement and one that is significant of great progress in the future. The bicycle is now the swiftest medium of long distance travel with the sole exception of the railway train, and the day may be at hand when some principle of bicycle construction, such as lightness and ease of running, will be applied to locomotion on the rail.—Providence Journal.

It is somewhat remarkable that while the Union Club, a worldly association, refuses to take the risk of incurring a debt for $1,000,000 to put up a new building, the American Tract Society and the Presbyterian Missionary Boards,

ABSOLUTELY PURE

ALL GOOD PROPERTY.

A Fine Auction Sale to Take Place Saturday.

There will be an exceptional opportunity for investors in real estate next Saturday. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the first large sale of real estate at auction, for the season of 18 , will be held in the salesrooms of William J. Dingee at 460 and 462 Eighth street. The large amount of property to be disposed of indicates a revival of business in this section. For the past six weeks this revival has been making itself felt, giving rise to new hopes for the future. Instead of the hordes of property holders that have been looking for buyers during the past months of continued depression, there are now investors, with hard cash, looking for good real estate. The result of this has been a slight rise of prices and calling a more decided advance in the immediate future.

The property to be sold comprises some of the choicest business and residence lots in Oakland. The cream of the sale consists of the ten valuable business and residence lots fronting on East Twelfth street and East Fourteenth street and Thirteenth avenue, East Oakland. This locality is the very center of the business section of East Oakland. The surprising thing about the sale of these lots is the easy terms on which they are offered, one-fourth cash and the rest in three equal yearly payments.

Other good opportunities to be offered for investment are: The business corner of Eighth and Chester streets, a double dwelling and a five-room cottage on Seward and Campbell streets, respectively, some modern flats and a three-room cottage on Sixth street near Oak, the Japanese nursery property in the Glen Echo tract, eight choice lots on Tenth avenue and East Fifteenth street, and three residence lots on the corner of Thirteenth and Peralta streets.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved without alteration.

The following named persons made applications for relief, viz:

Mary McCann, 699 Twenty-seventh street, native of Ireland, single.

Denied.

Peter Dufort, Temescal, native of Canada, married.

Referred to Supervisor Pelouze.

James McGuire, Ten th street, between Franklin and Broadway, native of Ireland, single.

Sent to Hospital.

Myron A. Whidden presented report for quarter ending May 4, 1895.

O. M. Sanford, County Treasurer, presented report for quarter ending May 4, 1895.

A. D. Pryal Horticultural Commissioner, presented report.

Each of the above reports were ordered received and placed on file.

The following requisitions were presented, read by the Clerk and disposed of as follows:

From W. A. Clark, Superintendent, for meat, fish, drugs, vegetables, lumber.

From W. A. Clark, Superintendent, for groceries and feed.

From W. A. Clark, Superintendent, for dry goods.

Each and all were referred to the Hospital Committee.

Myron A. Whidden, County Auditor, presented requisition for register of Warrants, Claims and certain articles needed in his office during the next fiscal year, in response to request of b ard.

Ordered filed.

George L. Nusbaumer, County Surveyor, reported that he had examined Sutter street and that the same was free from encroachments, except a small wall one and one-half feet in road for a distance of thirteen feet.

Supervisor Pelouze introduced the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted.

"Resolved, That Sutter street from the west line of Telegraph avenue to the east line of Claremont avenue, as said street and avenues are shown and so designated on map of Vicente Peralta Reservation Tract filed June 15, 1886, in the office of Alameda county, be and the same is hereby accepted and declared a public highway and county road."

The Judiciary Committee reported in favor of granting a permit to obtain a license for the sale of liquors to Charles Delmue, saloon; William Johnson, 36th avenue on the San Leandro road; C. W. Avery, Fitchburg; Crespino Carli and Clarence Barr, Telegraph avenue, between First and Columbia streets, Temescal.

Reports received and adopted.

Appropriate resolutions were introduced and unanimously adopted granting to Crespino Carli and Clarence Barr, C. W. Avery, William Johnson and Charles Delmue permits to obtain licen e.

The following named persons made application for permit for license for sale of liquors, viz.: Charles Harrison, High street and San Leandro road; A. Lane, San Pablo and Park avenue; Manuel Silvaro, Centerville; Matthew Daville, Alvarado.

Each of the above applications was accompanied by a bond in proper form and correct amount each was accepted and approved, and the accompanying applications referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mrs. Anderson, in a communication to the board, stated that Mrs Jennie Williamson was receiving aid to which she was not entitled, having money in bank.

Supervisor Pelouze stated that he was fully conversant with all the facts, and that the allowance, small though it was, was necessary and just.

The following resolution was introduced:

"Resolved, That the position of assistant gardener, now held by Timothy Hurley, be and the same is hereby declared vacant from and after June 1, 1895, for the reason that the head gardener will be able to attend to all that is required to be done at the present time."

The roll was called, and the above resolution adopted by the following vote.

Ayes—Supervisors Talcott, Johnston, Pelouze, Chairman Morgan—4.

Noes—Supervisor Church—1.

The Clerk stated that the provisions of the County Government act made it the duty of the board to make an order showing due publication of ordinances.

The following was then introduced and read by the Clerk:

"Board of Supervisors, Alameda county, California.

"In the matter of the publication of an ordinance to prevent and prohibit the interment, deposit or burial of dead bodies of human beings in the graveyard and cemetery immediately adjoining St. Joseph's Catholic Church, situated in the town of Mission San Jose, Alameda county, California."

A copy and affidavit of due publication of the above mentioned ordinance having been presented and filed showing publication of such ordinance as provided by law:

It is now ordered by the following called vote, viz: Ayes—Supervisors Church, Talcott, Pelouze, Johnston and Chairman Bailey, that said ordinance has been duly published as provided by Section 26 of "An act to establish a uniform system of county and township governments, approved March 24, 1893, and the clerk is hereby directed to enter this order in full in minutes of this board.

Also the following order was introduced, viz: "Board of Supervisors, Alameda county, California, in the matter of the publication of an ordinance granting to Daniel Chisholm and H. L. Peterman, their heirs and assigns, a street railroad franchise in the county of Alameda, State of California."

A copy and affidavit of due publication of the above mentioned ordinance having been presented and filed showing publication of such ordinance as provided by law.

It is now ordered by the following called vote, viz.: Ayes—Supervisors Talcott, Church, Pelouze, Johnston, Chairman Bailey—5; Noes—none; that said ordinance has been

Strange, but True

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anæmic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

THE LORD'S DAY.

On What Lines Shall Observance Be Drawn.

Cut and Out Views Expressed by an Adventist.

He Tells of Various Movements That Have Been Started.

Editor Tribune—SIR: The cause of enforced Sunday observance has many pretexts, but its favorite guise is temperance reform. All the good temperance arguments are thus made to do duty in support of a purpose with which temperance has not the most remote connection. By means of this fair mask many good people are blinded to the fact that the appeal for Sunday closing of saloons is but the precursor of an ulterior purpose, namely, the legal recognition of Sunday and its general compulsory observance. But the many inconsistencies incident to the false claim are a constant menace to the security of the gauzy screen with which the real object is sought to be obscured.

We are confronted with the terrible inroads that the use of ardent spirits makes upon the lives and health of the people, upon the peace, happiness and prosperity of the family and upon the dignity and welfare of the community. We are confronted with the appalling record of crime incident to the saloon evil. We are shown the truly harrowing picture of beggared homes as the result of the expenditure of means in the saloons. We are regaled with the pitiful story of the allurement of young men from the path of rectitude, to become the victims of debauchery in all its horrible phases. We have brought before us the heart-rending aspect of distracted and dejected wives and mothers, of degraded children, of enervated husbands and fathers, of lost souls, of insane asylums, prisons and gallows, of enormous expenses for sustaining police forces and police courts—in short, by far the greater part of all the crime and misery extant—as a direct and indirect result of the saloon curse. And then, when the long, blood-curdling panorama has been drawn out before the public, the exhibitors blandly propose as a remedy to stop the great fountain of evil one day in seven.

And which day of the seven is invariably designated? You never hear of a petition or a proposition to close saloons on Monday or Tuesday, and it is decidedly questionable if a man who asks for Sunday closing of saloons could be found who would advocate a like measure for any other day in the week unless Sunday were also included. It is assumed and re-iterated by the Sunday closing orators, in fact, it has been the leading argument of the present crusade in this city, that many wage-workers draw their weekly wages on Saturday and go directly to the saloon and spend their money Saturday night before going home. The most pathetic appeals from this standpoint were made before the City Council in behalf of an ordinance closing the saloons from 6 o'clock Saturday evening until Monday morning. The burden of the appeal was on the Saturday night curse, because if the wage-working men would go home sober with their wages intact, their families would be certain of some benefit from their earnings. It must be admitted that whatever there is in the argument against the saloons that men spend their earnings there to the detriment of their families, applies with tenfold more force on Saturday night than on Sunday. Yet in the face of this evident conclusion, this logical deduction from their own asseverations, those professed temperance champions are ready to yield the Saturday night privilege to the saloon in order to make sure of the Sunday closing.

The Sunday closing proposition presents a most grotesque and self-mystifying picture. It complacently turns loose the fiery serpent, the society poison, the admitted cause of three-fourths of all the crime and degradation in the land, for six days and nights. During this time the hideous monster is allowed free course to bite and to wound and to kill; and then on Sunday a closed saloon is set up on a conspicuous elevation, as a kind of brazen serpent to which the afflicted people are invited to look and be healed. Sunday having passed, the deadly work is resumed for another six days and nights.

The further these men go in their covert crusade for enforced Sunday observance in general the more they expose their real purpose. Every advance step is another link in the chain of indubitable evidence that a legal recognition of Sunday sacredness is the motive; then, when once the lawmakers are committed to the principle, the precedent will be established for other and further demands in that line. The plea is made in the popular name of temperance to catch a popular though very superficial temperance sentiment; but, brought to the test, it is merely Sunday temperance for which there is any real concern. The plea for Sunday closing is made in the name of humanity, in the name of benevolence, in the name of charity, in the name of Christian sympathy; but, reduced to the concentrated essence of the demand, it is Sunday humanity, Sunday benevolence, Sunday charity and Sunday sympathy.

But Saturday night closing, which, according to the popular pleas demonstrated to be of far greater importance, is at last sacrificed on the altar of the Sunday idol. And the sacrifice is the voluntary offering of the very men who were foremost in demonstrating that on Saturday night the most of the money of the wage-workers is spent in the saloons. At the very time when they were flushed with anticipation of sure victory, when they were boasting of their ability to compel favorable action by the Council, they were parenthetically expressing a willingness to concede the Saturday night. Men who positively affirmed a personal desire for prohibition every day would suggest compromise on the Saturday night part of the proposed ordinance specifying from 6 P. M. Saturday to 6 A. M. Monday. And after the Council in Committee of the Whole had decided by a 7 to 4 vote to report the entire proposition favorably, the leaders of the movement began backing and hedging with hints of compromise.

They have shown from the very beginning that they do not want to antagonize seven-day arrangement for three months to come in order to give the saloon proprietors time to arrange their business so that they will suffer no loss. But if they are to suffer no loss pecuniarily, wherein is the probability of any decrease in the amount spent for strong drink? If they are to be protected against pecuniary loss, where is the probability of there being any reduction in the quantity of alcoholic beverages sold and drank in the community? The very suggestion shows that a reduction of the drink evil is not contemplated in the scheme at all. It is of itself a proof that the movement is deceptive in its incipiency and deceptive in its practical working, and that its prime and only purpose is compulsory Sunday observance.

This Sunday closing movement began about four years ago, just after the failure of the combined effort of of the Californian Sabbath Association and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to secure a State Sunday law from the Legislature of 1891. It was started for the avowed purpose of covering the State with local Sunday laws. The design was to secure general closing of business where possible, but failing in that, then the Sunday closing of saloons would be accepted as an opening wedge. It was at that time calculated that if the saloons were closed, then the saloon keepers' spirit of retaliation would lead them to join the effort to compel the closing of other business places. Just as the National Reformers, in the beginning of their church and state movement, counted upon the eventual co-operation of corrupt politicians because of personal interest, so the Sabbath Association counted upon the corrupt influence of the saloon keepers to help out their Sunday scheme.

This plan of finally securing a State law by plastering the State with county and municipal ordinance began in the southern part of the State and has been working northward. The wave has reached Oakland, and every effort is being made to secure some kind of legal recognition of Sunday, be it ever so slight. To this end a great confederacy of religious and religio-political organizations has been formed into a circle for the suppression of the saloon, and for the suppression of Councilmen and everything else opposed to the religio-political scheme. The confederacy claims to represent about two dozen separate interests, but these numerous organizations are to a great extent a repetition of the same individuals. Simultaneous with this Oakland Sunday closing effort, ostensibly on temperance and humane grounds, we are having a resuscitation of the dormant Sunday associations which have never claimed any other purpose than the securing of general Sunday observance by every possible means, but especially by State law.

Every move in this Sunday closing scheme is in furtherance of one object, a general compulsory Sunday observance law. The disposition to compromise everything for the bare closing of saloons on Sunday shows the design to get something on the statute books. An opening wedge for religious legislation is wanted at any cost. With the light that has been thrown upon this proposition it is clear that it is a matter with which the City Council has nothing to do. It is not legitimately within the province of any civil legislative body in the United States. Such laws have once been decided unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of this State, and they are just as unconstitutional now as ever they were.

There is talk of submitting the innovation to a vote of the people. But the people have no right to vote compulsory Sabbath observance upon any one. It is not a matter for majorities to decide, it is solely a question of conscience. When the Council or the people once enter upon the assumed duty of young religious obligation upon the community, the logical outcome is religious persecution. This must inevitably be the result of the enforcement of such laws. If the saloon is an evil, and there is no doubt that it is, if it is a nuisance, a menace to the peace and welfare of any portion of the community, the Council or the people may properly vote it out of existence altogether. But to sell men a license to carry on the nefarious business, and then ordain that they shall keep the Sabbath, is the height of municipal folly. It is not business, it is not Christianity, it is not common sense.

What Will They Do?

What will the dry goods men do when France's latest suggestion of ladies' dress goes into effect? The dress reformers of France advocate the wearing of tights for ladies as a street costume and modestly suggest that black and brown should first be worn until the custom becomes popular and then other colors could be introduced. The dry goods men seem quite concerned, as it would affect their business to the extent of decreasing their sales of many millions of yards of dress goods every year. But what a saving to the men who pay for it. It is likewise in the patronage of the People's Express and Transfer Company. The saving of time and advantage in their promptness in all business matters, especially the checking of baggage at hotels or your home to all parts of the United States is a matter for deep consideration. Veterans Assemble and Close in Memorial Day.

An Enormous Throng Flocks to the Exercises.

Speeches by Senator Perkins, Dr. Coyle and Dr. Chapman.

Decoration Day was brought to a close by memorial exercises last evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

The edifice was thronged, the greater part of the lower floor of the auditorium being reserved for Grand Army men, members of Woman's Relief Corps and Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The rostrum was beautifully decorated with flowers and national colors, among the floral features being a design sent in by Major J. E. McElrath, who was at one time a soldier in the Confederate army.

Major Woodward read a history of Memorial Day, showing that it had been suggested by a private soldier near Cincinnati, and that the idea had been taken up by General Logan and had thence spread all over the country.

Rev. Dr. Coyle read the address delivered by President Lincoln at Gettysburg, and prefaced it with a reference to the floral contribution of Major McElrath. He said that he thought the sentiment expressed by the tribute was the same as that which pervades the ranks of all the soldiers of this united country. The soldiers in the auditorium expressed their appreciation of this idea by a round of applause.

Senator G. C. Perkins then delivered a short and interesting address. He recalled what had been accomplished by the patriotism and sacrifice of the soldiers and said that one of the pleasantest duties that he had ever performed was to aid in getting Memorial Day placed upon the statutes of this State as a legal holiday.

"Eternal vigilance," he said, "is the price of republican institutions. Look well to the school house, the citadel of the people's liberty. It is the inspiration of republican institutions next to our homes. Next to the holy Bible should be guarded those institutions.

"Do this and our boys and girls will grow up to uphold the grand principles of liberty which you bequeath them. What is there higher than American citizenship? You owe it to the country to support the noble institutions of this country; its benevolent institutions and its churches. I would rather have one church in a community than 100 policemen. Many of you are getting old; the time will come when we will soon shed our tears upon and decorate your graves. Let the fires of liberty burn upon your altars and so long will we remain a free and united people."

J. H. Todd then rendered a fantasia on national airs, using his army bugle as the instrument, the accompaniment being played on the organ.

Rev. E. S. Chapman now spoke. He said there had been a great change in the personnel of the people who conduct these memorial services and there had also been a change in the character of the services themselves. "Something more than fading flowers and columns must stand as a remembrance of these soldiers who preserved the country," he said. "Why do we honor the soldier? Was he more learned or cultured? Possibly not. It is because he vitalized principles. Self-sacrificing love the great law of nature. The tree blossoms and bears fruit; the plant blossoms and its leaves fall to the earth to enrich the soil. The animal dies that men may live, and the soldier perished for his people. The way to live forever is to die for others."

"America" was then sung by the audience. Benediction was pronounced, "taps" was sounded on the bugle and the audience retired.

PRIME PROPERTY.

A Fine Sale to Be Held Saturday, June 8 th.

The season of sales of realty by auction has commenced with a great deal of earnestness and promises to be one of the most successful that this city has experienced.

One of the most promising of those sales is to take place Saturday, June 8th, at 2 P. M. It will be held on the grounds at the corner of Grove and Twenty-second streets.

The property to be disposed of comprises sixteen choice business lots on Grove street, from Twenty-second to Twenty-fourth streets, and also residence property on Sycamore, Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets.

This property is situated in the center part of Oakland, near the intersection of San Pablo avenue and Grove street, within one block of Odd Fellows' Hall, the cable house and St. Francis de Sales Church.

It will double in value in a short time. The title is perfect. The buildings and improvements on Grove street will be sold to the highest bidder and purchasers will be allowed six weeks in which to remove them. The terms will be one-half cash, payable on the delivery of the deed, the other half to be paid in one year at 8 per cent per annum.

For particulars apply to R. Franke, Oakland Pickle Works, 1622 Grove street, corner of Twenty-second street. The auctioneer will be T. H. B. Rosenberg.

The Largest Stock.

The Girard Piano Co., Central Bank building, corner Fourteenth and Broadway, have the largest stock of pianos to select from. They employ no agents who tramp from house to house and sell on commission, and ask from $50 to $100 more for a piano than it can be bought direct in a store. The celebrated Wheelock pianos used by over 400 of Oakland's musicians and they give the best of satisfaction. The Stuyvesant pianos for durability and good workmanship have no equal. Pianos sold on easy installments. New instruments rented and rent applied if purchased after six months. Before you buy call on the Girard Piano Co., corner Fourteenth and Broadway.

All disorders caused by a billious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping, discomfort attending their use. Try them.

THE MOREY
INCANDESCENT GAS BURNER

It Has Revolutionized Gas Lighting!

Only Sixty Days on the Market and yet the Sale is Enormous.

No parts burn out. The mantels, screens, prisms, used in other burners, are not used in the Morey Burner at all; therefore no parts to repair. The Cheapest Burner used, giving the greatest amount of light for the smallest amount of gas consumed.

The secret of its scintillating brilliancy is perfect combustion, not one iota going to waste—every atom of gas being consumed.

No ghastly, greenish white light, but a natural, mellow, golden sunlight, soothing to the eyes and radiant with power.

The Morey Gas Burner is the best results of long years of study, discovery and invention; and is based solely upon scientific principles. THE HIGHEST POWER OF GAS LIES IN THE BURNER EMPLOYED. The secret of the Morey Burner is the combustion secured.

You may ask why does the Morey Burner give so much more light for the same amount of gas consumed. Our answer is this, gas when burning through an ordinary gas jet, mixes quickly with the air and passes off, not giving time for the light to take up from the air all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion, therefore it passes off and is wasted. But in the Morey Burner it passes through a perforated circle of 76 small needle-pointed perforations, and the current of air passing on all sides of the blaze supplies sufficient air for the light to take up all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion, therefore NO WASTE OF GAS, NO BLUE BLASE; all turned to light.

See what prominent business men and people you know say of it:

SAN FRANCISCO, April, 1895.
Morey Incandescent Gas Co., City—
GENTLEMEN: We are more than pleased with the lamp we recently purchased from you, and instead of using three burners, which we formerly were compelled to do in our private office, we now get a better light from the one which you put in.
As soon as we fix up our offices will use them altogether in each of the departments.
Please have one of your representatives call on us about the 15th of May.
Yours truly,
S. P. TAYLOR CO.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Co.—
GENTLEMEN: Replying as to how we find the Gas Burners, would say that they give the best satisfaction. The statements in your circulars are correct.
Yours truly,
427 Hayes street. W. RANKE & CO.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Co., San Francisco.—
GENTLEMEN: In reply to your question as to how I like the burners, would say: I am using six of your burners in place of nine of the old style. I get a great deal more light and am very well satisfied in every way. You can refer to me if you wish.
Yours respectfully,
H. SUTLIFF.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Agency, S. F., Cal —
DEAR SIRS: I have been in business in this city 35 years, during which time I have used every patent burner ever presented. The Morey is the only burner that has ever given complete satisfaction. In economy of gas, brilliancy of illumination, steadiness of light and simplicity and durability of construction, it is marvelous.
Yours truly
617 Merchant street. JAMES GIBB.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Agency—
DEAR SIRS: We like the burner you sent us very much. We are getting a hundred per cent. more light and cannot see that our gas bill is any larger. It is a clear light to do by any goods by. Sincerely,
951 McAllister st. W. MOHLS & CO.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Agency, S. F., Cal.—
GENTLEMEN: The trial that I have given the Morey Burner has resulted to my entire satisfaction. It gives a very nice, steady, even light, and find it equal to more than two ordinary burners.
Respectfully,
24 Spear street. CHAS. E. DUGAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Agency, S. F., Cal.—
DEAR SIRS: The Morey Incandescent Gas Burners placed in my residence give thorough satisfaction. The light is soft an abundant, increasing the ordinary lava tip light at least three times without consuming more gas. Very truly, 627 Twenty-first st. GEO. W. SCHELL.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Co., S. F.—
DEAR SIRS: We have replaced six ordinary burners in our store with two of your burners to our entire satisfaction. Nothing is the matter with the Morey Burner.
Sincerely yours,
781 Market street. TRAIN BROS.

SAN FRANCISCO, April, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Agency, S. F.—
GENTLEMEN: Have used your burner for some time. We find the same satisfactory and can recommend it as being the best up to date. Respectfully, 914 Market st NICOLL, the Tailor.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24, 1895.
Morey Gas Burner Agency, S. F.—
DEAR SIRS: We like the Morey Burner. It is just the thing for a tailor shop.
Yours, etc.,
526½ Hayes st. M. GOODMAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24, 1895.
*Morey Gas Burner Ag'cy, S. F.—*DEAR SIRS: Replying to your question as to how we like your burners, would say that we are using four in our place and further that your statements regarding their merits are correct. They give a clear, steady light and no smoke and are economical and highly satisfactory. You may send us two more. Very truly yours, 719 Market st. FERGUSON & CURLEY.

OAKLAND, April 9, 1895.
C. E. Hills Esq., Agent Morey Gas Burner Oakland, Cal.—
DEAR SIR: Regarding the Morey Burner we wish to say that we have given it, as well as many others, a very thorough test. It burns gasoline gas perfectly, and gives a stronger, clearer and steadier light with less gas than any other burner we know of.
Yours very truly,
B. FRANK HAND & CO.
The Universal Light and Fuel Machine, 521 Fifteenth street.

A few testimonials from people in Oakland who have tried the Morey Gas Burner.

C. C. Miller, Boulevard Terrace, says—Your burner gives a grand light

J. H. Grindley, 1424 Eighth street, says—Your burner gives the best light we ever saw produced from gas.

Mr. Ellis, with Sperry Flour Co., says—We are more than pleased with the Morey Gas Burner. I would not believe it possible to get so much light from so little gas.

Pierce Hardware Co.—The Morey Gas Burner gives a better light than we ever had in our offices.

Mr. Hubbard, 118 Thirteenth street—I have tested the Morey gas burner on a chandelier with a Welsbach and believe the Morey Burner superior to all others.

Richard Tiddy, Bay City Market S. F.—I am delighted with the light produced by the Morey Gas Burner you put in for me; five times the light; 25 per cent less gas. I can see to read in any part of the room.

Val Schmidt, druggist, Polk and Jackson streets, S. F.—Your light is a grand success.

Mrs. Melvin, 1363 Franklin street, Oakland—Your burner gives a beautiful light; we are very much pleased with it.

Heron & Holcomb, 1059 Broadway—The Morey Burner gives the most light for the amount of gas consumed that we ever saw.

Mrs. Val Schmidt, 2216 Van Ness avenue—I am delighted with the Morey Gas Burner that you placed in my rooms. The light is so clear and soft, it is just lovely.

has in charge and for sale, at reasonable prices and on favorable terms, the lands of the Capay Valley Land Company, the lands and townsites of the Pacific Improvement Company, the lands of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, the lands of the Oregon & California Railroad Company, and the irrigated lands of the Crocker-Huffman Land & Water Company.

THE PACIFIC IMPROVEMENT COMPANY'S PROPERTIES, consisting of town property in 135 townsites, and all classes of fruit, agricultural and grazing land, will be sold on reasonable terms,—long time and low rate of interest.

THE CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY has agricultural, grazing and timber lands, which will be sold for twenty per cent of the purchase price paid in cash, with six per cent interest for five years, payable annually in advance.

THE CAPAY VALLEY LAND COMPANY'S LANDS
are located in the rich, fertile valley in the western portion of Yolo County, California. They are splendid fruit lands, in one of the earliest localities of the State, and range in price from $35 an acre upward, and on terms of interest only, for five years; that is to say, for five years the purchaser pays interest only, at the end of which time the purchase price becomes due. The object of these terms is to give the purchaser an opportunity to pay the purchase price out of the proceeds of the land. Cultivation is required of all purchasers.

THE CROCKER-HUFFMAN LAND & WATER COMPANY'S
irrigated lands at Merced, in the very heart of the State, under splendid climatic conditions, with the free use of water as an appurtenant to the land, for sale for interest only, for five or seven years, at the choice of the purchaser, eventual settlement on the land and cultivation, dating one year from date of purchase, being made incumbent upon the purchasers.

THE CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY'S LAND DEPARTMENT can supply any seeker of investment, or any home-seeker, with any variety of land desired, at lower prices and on more favorable terms than can be had of any other landed proprietor in California.
The list of land for sale in this Department embraces bodies of from ten to thirty thousand acres, or as small subdivisions as may be desired in the form of five, ten, twenty or forty acre tracts of irrigated land.

SUGAR PINE FORESTED LANDS IN OREGON AND CALIFORNIA,
in large or small quantities, will be sold for interest only, for five years, the purchaser agreeing to protect the lands from all depredations. The forested lands of the Central Pacific Railroad Company and the Oregon & California Railroad Company embrace the best and most accessible timber land to be found on the Pacific Coast. They offer special inducements for speculative investment.

COLONY LANDS.
Among the most attractive offerings are the following:
51,000 acres of oak forest, farming and fruit land in the heart of California. Irrigation practicable. Railroad operated to the center of the tract.
14,000 acres of splendid villa property "down by the sea," sloping to the surf of the Pacific Ocean; in part covered with pine forest; in part fine garden and fruit land under irrigation.
15,000 acres of Sacramento Valley palm land, suitable for general farming. All for sale in subdivisions or as a whole.

Fruit Lands! Timber Lands!
Farming Lands! Grazing Lands!

POLL TAX NOTICE.

OAKLAND, March 1, 1895.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the State Poll Tax for two dollars for the year 1895, is now due and payable at my office, Room 1, Courthouse, or to a Deputy Assessor. Sec. 3839 of the Political Code reads as follows:

Every male inhabitant of this State over twenty-one and under sixty years of age, except paupers, insane persons and Indians, not taxed, must annually pay a Poll Tax of two dollars, provided the same be paid between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July, then it shall be three dollars.

Sec. 3840 of the Political Code makes it the duty of the Assessor to demand Poll Tax of every person liable therefor, and on the neglect or refusal of such persons to pay, he must collect by seizure and sale of any personal property owned by such person."

Under sections 429 to 435 every person who refuses to give his own name or the name of any person in his employ, or who in any manner obstructs the Assessor or any of his deputies in the collection of the State Poll Tax, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and liable to a fine of $500 or imprisonment in the County Jail, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Only those persons under twenty-one or over sixty years are exempt. Poll Tax must be paid on demand.

Councilman J. M. Bassett Talks to the Point.

Logical Arguments About the Water Front.

His Reasons for Desiring the Case to Be Pressed.

Editor Tribune—SIR: The Examiner of yesterday morning in its Oakland correspondence makes me say several things in connection with the railroad's notification of the city's attorneys that it would petition the United States Supreme Court to reopen the suit of the State against the railroad company. As I have been in Red Bluff for the past two days and was not aware that the company had decided to petition the court until this morning it will be seen that the zeal of the Examiner's correspondent to misrepresent me, since this paper went over to the railroad, largely exceeds his regard for the truth.

I have said, and I now say, that the railroad company does not wish the case reopened unless it can prevent Oakland joining in the petition.

My reasons for reaching this conclusion are: Attorney General Fitzgerald has intimated his belief that the State's case was not properly brought. There are those who believe there was collusion between Hart, as Attorney General, and the railroad concerning this case. If this conclusion is based on fact the intention was that the water front contest, so far as the State is concerned, should be finally decided against the State.

I do not assert it for a fact that it was understood the State should lose its case, but the refusal of Attorney-General Fitzgerald to join the railroad in petition leaves one at liberty to draw that inference.

If there was collusion, the intervention of the city of Oakland defeated the intent aimed at by the conspirators and saved the State a chance for another day in court.

It was apparent at the outset that Hart was strenuously opposed to the proposition to have Oakland appear in the case even as an amicus curiæ, or friend of the court. His opposition to Oakland is explained by the action of the railroad now that it has frightened the Oakland attorneys off the field, in petitioning the court. If the court grants the petition, precisely the result aimed at when Oakland came in and defeated the scheme will be attained—the State will lose all.

If there was collusion between Hart, as Attorney-General, and the railroad company, it was not the intention of either party that Oakland should appear in the case. The plan of the railroad was to defeat the State and then use its power in the Oakland City Council to have all water front cases dismissed, as has been done several times in the past. The railroad always counts on its solid six in the City Council.

The reopening of the case for decision as between the State and the railroad, can in no way affect Oakland's claim or standing.

If the court should hold that the act of the Legislature transferring the water front in trust to the town of Oakland was and is valid, the issue narrows to a question of the legality or illegality of the Carpentier title.

That this Carpentier title is utterly and entirely void is demonstrated beyond the possibility of question in the brief filed by Oakland in the Hart case, and it is upon this fact that I have maintained that the city cannot be hurried but may be greatly benefited by having the court decide the case upon the evidence and argument already presented.

Our friend attorneys and "the solid six" in the Council seem to forget that, in the case of the Oakland Water Front Company vs. Dameron et al., the railroad put in its whole title and anything and everything that could be construed into support of that title, yet before the defendants had offered a particle of evidence the court ordered that it be adjudged and decreed that the plaintiff, the Oakland Water Front Company, which is the railroad company, take nothing, and that it be nonsuited.

My argument in support of asking the court to decide the case, as between Oakland and the railroad, on the argument and testimony now submitted, is based on the assumption that every particle of evidence offered by the railroad in support of its claim—and it was all the evidence it ever can offer—is as fully and irrefutably answered in the brief filed by Oakland's special counsel, as it ever can be. If in the future we, for the twentieth time, fight our case to the falling down point, we will never present it stronger than it is now presented.

J. M. BASSETT.

Oakland, May 31 1895.

THE CITY'S CASE.

A Discussion Is to Be Handed Down Soon.

Then the Board of Works' Deadlock Will All Be Settled.

The suit of Robert Hughes and W. N. Miller against John L. Davie, Arthur Wilson and J. K. Piersol, to oust them as members of the Board of Public Works, has been submitted to the Superior Judges. The time for briefs is up on both sides, and all the arguments have been made on paper. It now remains for the four judges to give an opinion.

Judge Frick, in whose department the case is pending, says that he is anxious to take up the matter at an early day and render an opinion. Before any action is taken, however, he will have to consult his brother judges, because they are as deeply interested in the decision as Judge Frick, having been called in to hear the arguments. It is not an easy matter to get the four Superior Judges together, for the reason that they are busy with the business of their departments. It will be arranged, however, so that a consultation will be held before vacation, when the judges will discuss the many law points brought up in the briefs on both sides.

The judges intend to be very careful in giving an opinion, because it is almost certain that the defeated side will take the case to the Supreme Court.

The plaintiffs in the case are just as anxious for a decision as the defendants. It is desired all around to have the matter settled as soon as possible. The present Board of Public Works does not want to make any changes in the various departments while the case is pending in court. Under the law the judges have ninety days in which to render an opinion after the case is submitted. In the present suit, however, the judges will not take the limit. There is a disposition among them to give a decision at an early day.

LONG DEFERRED.

The Twenty-third Avenue Liquor Licenses to Come Up

The question of granting liquor licenses to saloon-keepers in the Twenty-third avenue district will be under consideration by the License Committee of the Council this evening. There has been a rather prolonged fight on the proposition since seven of the saloon-keepers combined recently in an application for the issuance of licenses to them. As soon as the fact was made known that the fight for licenses had been renewed, a number of residents in the district reopened the fight of several years ago. Since the applications were placed in the hands of the committee, there have been several postponements of the matter. Tonight the License Committee will be in session, and an effort will be made to dispose of the matter.

THE CALEDONIANS.

A Merry Time at the Annual Picnic

Shell Mound Park was thronged with people yesterday, the occasion being the annual picnic of the Caledonia Club. The greatest interest was centered in the games, which were in progress all day. It was dark before the picknickers closed the festivities of the day. The picnic was one of the most successful held in years.

Young Men's Institute Picnic.

The tickets of admission, including round trip fare, to the joint picnic of Oakland councils of the Young Men's Institute at San Lorenzo on June 6th, will be 50 cents, instead of $1 50, as was at first stated.

PATRIOTIC.

Oakland to Have a Big Time on the Fourth.

The Merchants' Exchange Doing Good Work.

All Classes Must Unite to Make the Day a Success.

Oakland proposes to have a Fourth of July celebration this year that will far outdo anything that has occurred here before. Great enthusiasm has already been aroused among the merchants of the city and they intend to stir up such a feeling of patriotic pride that the entire community will turn out to share in the success of the holiday.

The movement for a big celebration of the 4th has already assumed much larger proportions than ever before. The feature of the preliminary work will be an effort to prepare such a demonstration as will induce the thousands who usually leave Alameda county to go across the bay will be glad to remain here and join with Oakland in gay celebration. It looks now as if the Merchants' Exchange had touched the right chord and will develop throughout the city and county such an enthusiasm as is felt among its members.

The Fourth of July Committee of the exchange is holding meetings daily, and lively sessions they are. The exchange will ask every one to co-operate with it in this project. Its leading members are brimful of the possibilities. Here is what a few of them say:

Theodore Gier—The enthusiasm expressed for our celebration is unexampled in the history of Oakland. There is not a man, woman or child who is not talking about it, and everybody is interested. Oakland is on the eve of a big boom, which will place it at once on a par with the great cities of the West, and this Fourth of July celebration is one of the features which will go far toward assisting and pushing that boom.

George W. Arper—The Fourth of July, 1895, will go down in history as the grandest day ever celebrated on the Pacific coast. It will mark a new era in our progress. Since that Fabiola fete the people have awakened to what they can do, and hereafter there will be no diminishment in their ardor and enthusiasm. It is about time that we stopped going to San Francisco to celebrate these natal days. Oakland can get up as fine an event as any city in the land, and that of this year will be but the commencement.

George E. Fairchild: "I never saw such an unanimous awakening of the public interest. There is not a man in Oakland who has not viewed the project as one worthy of the very highest efforts to make it a glorious success. It is the most popular movement ever inaugurated on the coast, and one which will long be remembered as the natal day of Oakland.

"I am most happy to see such a general betokening of interest in the welfare of our city. The time has come for us to shake off the old feeling of narrowness and prejudice, and I think that it is right here. The merchants are united, and so are all of the Oakland people, and I think that when the sun goes down on the Fourth of July, it will mark the closing of an event which has eclipsed the celebrations of the whole country."

The Board of Trade is in line. "This celebration is a grand idea," said President M. J. Keller. "It is not hard to get up a celebration in Oakland, provided that you get the right men at the head of it. The people here are always willing to turn out and follow an aggregation of good leaders, and I never saw a more powerful array of names than those who have charge of this event. The Board of Trade got up a celebration here seven years ago, which was one of Oakland's greatest days. The total expenses of that affair were only $1500, and there were 20,000 people brought in from surrounding towns. Special trains carrying people for half fare were brought from San Jose, Santa Rosa and other places, and every one of them was loaded."

The general committee as chosen at last night's meeting is as follows:

Hon. John L. Davie, D. C. Brown, George L. Fish, F. Sinclair, P. M. Fisher, J. W. Nelson, G. B. Daniels, J. J. White, Theo. Gier, George W. Arper, Webb N. Pierce, Major E. A. Sherman, W. V. Witcher, Dr. J. L. Mayon, I. J. Allen, George F. Necco, M. Jonas, H. O. Trowbridge, George E. Fairchild, Dr. J. P. Dunn, S. Samuels, A. Sallinger, F. C. Howe, Alameda, F. L. Girard, William Winnie, C. S. Neal, Alameda; D. W. Martin, Alameda, Gove L. Roberts, San Lorenzo; A. H. Rott, Albert Kayser, president, O. T. V., Ralph W. Kinney, Berkeley; J. W. Phillips, W. R. Davis, J. W. Laymance, W. Frank Pierce, J. L. Lyon, C. Root, R. Criss, C. H. Hawbaker, G. W. Fisher, H. C. Coward, Daniel Crowley, Herman Gard, P. J. Keller, Piedmont; W. J. Landers, San Leandro; L. E. Osgood, Irvington; C. R. Ford, Niles; Charles Lapp, Haywards; J. W. Evans, Henry W. Taylor, Berkeley; Mrs. Henry Wetherbee, Mrs. Charles Webb Howard, Mrs. William J. Dingee, Mrs. E. C. Borland, Mrs. Dr. A. Fish.

Five more ladies will be selected and placed on the committee.

G. B. Daniel, G. W. Arper, P. M. Fisher, Dr. J. L. Mayon and F. Sinclair were appointed a committee to formulate a programme for the day and submit it to the General Committee for consideration.

The following committees will be appointed by the chairman at the next meeting: Finance, seven members; Parade, five members; Entertainment, seven members; Illuminations and Fireworks, five members; Decoration, seven members; Transportation, three members; Advertising, five members; Literary Exercises, five members. The Programme Committee was instructed to prepare exercises to fill the entire day from the firing of anvils in the early morning until after the fireworks in the evening.

TOO MUCH NOISE.

An Hotel Man Complains of the Salvation Army.

J. L. Ludeman, proprietor of Winter's Hotel at Fifteenth street and Broadway, has made a complaint to the Chief of Police that the Salvation Army is disturbing the slumbers of his lodgers, who are mainly workingmen, by the noise from the army's big tent on the lot adjoining the hotel on Broadway. Ludeman says his patrons complain that the nightly devotional and

I overheard a remark made by a prominent professor at the Club the other evening, which greatly impressed me. He said in substance:

"Why do people try to tone up their systems 'purify the blood' at this season of the year. Is it not largely habit? The blood undergoes changes every day of the life, and if people could only see that by keeping the head clear, the liver vigorous and the kidneys active, their blood would, of course, be pure all the time, they would save much care and annoyance."

"You evidently do not believe in Spring blood purifiers, doctor," I ventured to ask.

"Certainly not. Keep the body in the condition I have described and no man or woman will need any purifier. I have seen a great deal of life and understand the needs of people, and I don't hesitate to state to you that if overworked men, weak women and even puny children would keep the kidneys and liver healthy, they would not be sick or need any blood purifiers. I will go further and state that the use of that greatest of modern discoveries, Warner's Safe Cure will do this in every case and at all seasons, and hence prevent all the Spring annoyances of which we hear so much."

I think the doctor is right. I certainly know from my own experience that the headaches, drowsiness and run down condition which I have too often attributed to my blood, arose from no other cause than that my liver or kidneys were out of order. I am pleased to say, however, I have not experienced any trouble of this kind for a number of years to come, so long as I understand what I do now and realize that there is so great a remedy within my reach.

HIS WARRANT WITHHELD.

City Wharfinger Rutherford and the Mayor.

The salary warrant of City Wharfinger C. B. Rutherford has been withheld by Auditor Snow in compliance with an order to that effect from Mayor Davie, who claims that Rutherford was illegally appointed by the City Council. The Mayor holds that the appointing power rests in the Board of Public Works. Rutherford will have to sue to recover the warrant, and a decision would, in that event, involve the Mayor's contention.

SCHAFER RETIRES.

A New Secretary for the Board of Health.

E. W. Thurman, the new secretary of the Board of Health, will assume the duties of his office tomorrow. Paul J. Schafer, the retiring secretary, has held the place for five years. He leaves with the best wishes of a host of friends he has made during his incumbency through the uniform courtesy and fair treatment all have received at his hands.

Death of Mrs. Philena S. Church This Morning.

Mrs. Philena S. Church, aged 81 years, died this morning at her home, 1015 Chestnut street. Mrs. Church was the mother of the late A. S. Church, who was drowned at Alviso while hunting some years ago. Her widow and daughter reside at 1102 Adeline street. They are relatives of the family of George W. McNear.

Fawcett Typewriters.

Ralph Lowenberg was the name given by a rather respectable appearing young man who was in the Police Court this morning on a charge of petty larceny. The police believe the prisoner has tried to conceal his identity under a fictitious name. He is charged with the theft of three typewriters from the Pacific Press Publishing Company. He had rented the machines, and subsequently pawned them in San Francisco. Sergeant Hodgkins located Lowenberg across the bay and brought him here.

A Sunday School Picnic.

The First Free Baptist Sunday school will hold a picnic at Diamond canyon tomorrow. The members will be joined by the Sunday school from the Union Square Free Baptist Church of San Francisco. They will take the Haywards' cars at 9 30 A. M. at Washington and Thirteenth streets and transfer to the Highland Park road at Fourteenth avenue.
